

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

National Park Service

Since 1916, Americans have entrusted the care of their national parks to the National Park Service. With volunteers and partners, we safeguard these special places and share their stories with millions of people. But our work doesn't stop here.

Across the country and around the world, people ask for our help, and together we revitalize communities, preserve nature and history, celebrate local heritage, and encourage families to get outside and have fun.

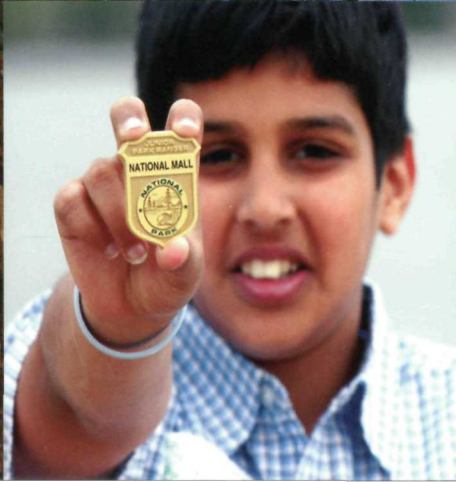

We love our mission, and we welcome your participation and support.

www.nps.gov

Dry Tortugas National Park

Acadia National Park

The National Park Service cares for special places saved by the American people so that all may experience our heritage.

Antietam National Battlefield

Cover photo: North Cascades National Park
Parrish, courtesy REI

EXPERIENCE
YOUR
AMERICA™