Soldiers' National Cemetery

Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

Dedicated: November 19, 1863

Located on part of the Union battle line on Cemetery Hill, the Soldiers' National Cemetery contains 3,512 Union soldiers killed during the battle of Gettysburg. It was here that Abraham Lincoln delivered the Gettysburg Address, honoring the men who "gave the last full measure of devotion" so that the nation might live. The Soldiers' National Monument stands at the center of the cemetery.
