CUSICK FAMILY

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION OF LEWISTON

Lewiston, New York

The War of 1812 further divided the Iroquois people; some sided with the British and some with the Americans. Many Tuscarora fought with the Americans; at Lewiston in December of 1813, they confronted British-allied Iroquois, allowing white settlers to escape. A At least 35 Tuscarora served in U.S. Army during War of 1812, including Joseph, John, and David Cusick.
