

Be a WebRanger!

What is a WebRanger?

A WebRanger is:

- ...a Care-taker*
- ...an Adventurer*
- ...a Learner*
- ...a Seeker*
- ...a Discoverer*

A WebRanger could be...

...YOU!

Now you can be a Ranger even if you are not able to visit a national park. Just by logging on, you become a member of a growing group of young people who are interested in the world around them and involved with their nation's heritage...The WebRangers!

Print your membership card, and report to Web Ranger Headquarters. You're ready to explore! Visit ranger stations to complete activities and win rewards.

Help a baby sea turtle reach the sea...learn the secret code names Park Rangers use to talk about the parks...assess water quality by looking at the creepy crawlies living in a stream...and MORE!

WebRanger Headquarters are open for these age groups:

- Ages 6-9
- Ages 10-12
- Ages 13 and up

Log in and join us for some fun! Activities change from time to time, so you'll want to check in at WebRanger Headquarters often.

Parents:

The National Park Service is committed to providing a web-safe environment where your children can explore the parks. No personal information is collected, and none required for participation in WebRangers.

Have fun and learn along with your children as they explore their National Parks from the inside.

Each completed activity is rewarded with a secret code word. After completing all the activities at a ranger station, the secret words can be redeemed for a reward.

Kids:

Drop in at WebRanger Headquarters any time. The door is always open to WebRangers of all ages. Watch for new activities and earn more rewards as you get to know the parks.

Teachers:

While not designed as curriculum, many of the activities at WebRanger Headquarters illustrate principles useful in the classroom. Natural Science and American History may be addressed in new and interesting ways.

Stop in and explore something new!

Remember, a national park unit near you may have a Junior Ranger Program you can complete at the park, or on-line. Check with your local national parks or visit www.nps.gov/learn for more information.
