Photo Gallery: Children and Adults as Historic Interpreters at Millbrook Days

A potato sack race in front of the General Store.

Children as costumed "villagers" joined a hayride in 1980.

A child demonstrator in costume shows visiting children how to make friends with an "animal demonstrator."

Children (Left) and adults (Below) as historic demonstrators and interpreters at Millbrook Days.

A costumed demonstrator making hay forks.

A costumed demonstrator with horses and plow.
A child in costume helps prepare a mortise with a hand drill.

Costumed children at the doorway of Millbrook's one-room schoolhouse.

A costumed demonstrator shaping wood on a shaving horse or Schnitzelbunk.