STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE:

Date of Construction: ca 1920 Date of Alterations: unknown

Architect/Designer: J. Chew/Harry Cheft Historical Theme(s): Post 1900 Ranching (VII A4)

History of Structure: Possibly built by Harry Chew at his homestead site and later moved to present location. Cabin has apparently been maintained and replacement parts substituted over the years (roof sheathing). Jack Chew moved to Pool Creek area from Lodore between 1910 and 1912 to raise livestock, his son Rial, after marriage remained in Pool Creek area to ranch & built a house. Harry Chew, cabin’s original owner, patented his homestead in 1930.

Evaluation of Structure: Historic Theme Contributing x Non-Contributing National Register Criteria: A x B C D (Include integrity statement)

Evidence indicates this may be a partial reconstruction of cabin; cabin was moved from Harry Chew site at nearby Blue Mountain. Structure retains locational and physical integrity on Rial Chew Ranch as well as historic feeling and association.

Date of Construction: 1820s Date of Alterations: None/Apparent

Architect/Designer: Jack Chew Historical Theme(s): Post 1900 Ranching (VII A4)

History of Structure: Built by Chew family as a system to divert Pool Creek to a large hay meadow; ditch served a system of small trenches through the meadow and also fed a pond in which Chews hoped to start a trout farm that never came to pass. One of the few extant examples in Dinosaur NM of such a water diversion project.

Evaluation of Structure: Historic Theme Contributing X Non-Contributing

National Register Criteria: A X B C D (Include integrity statement)

Retains integrity of location and even with minor erosion the water diversion purpose of the structure remains evident.

Verbal Boundary Description:

The Chew Ranch Complex is bounded on the north by a line running east to west from the northwest point of a rock ridge above the garage (Point A) approximately 1,000 yards west to a point north of the "trout farm," (Point B) on the west by a line approximately 425 yards long running north and south along a ridge that forms the western edge of the "trout farm," on the south by a line that runs southwest to northeast for approximately 1,000 yards from a point at the southwesterly corner of the Chew's hay meadow (Point C) to just east of the line's intersection with the Echo Park Road south of the loafing shed, (Point D) and on the east by a rock ridge that runs approximately southeast to northwest for 225 yards east of the corrals and loafing shed back to the point of the rock ridge north of the garage (Point A). These boundaries encompass all the pertinent structures and the cultural landscape that surrounds them.
