Protect the Park, Protect Yourself

Elevation
Use sunblock, stay hydrated, take your time, and rest to reduce the risk of sunburn, dehydration, nausea, shortness of breath, and exhaustion. The high elevation (7,000 feet/2,135 m) and dry climate here affects you differently than your home environment.

Weather
Monsoon storms are common during summer. When you hear thunder, move away from the canyon rim. Do not stand under a tree. Seek shelter inside a vehicle, building, or shuttle bus. Note that shuttle buses only stop at designated bus stops. Be aware of possible flash floods and falling rocks during and after storms.

View Grand Canyon Safely
Stay behind railings and safety walls or at least six feet (2 m) from the edge. Hold on to children. Always be aware of your surroundings. Look first where you are stepping before backing up.

Free Drinking Water
The park and its partners provide free Grand Canyon spring water in bottle filling stations at major trailheads, visitor centers, grocery stores, and lodges.

Bring Your Leashed Pet
Leashed pets are allowed on rim trails. Pets are not allowed below the rim, in buildings, or on shuttle buses. These limits do not apply to service animals. Anyone wishing to take a service animal below the rim must check in at the Backcountry Information Center.

Protect and Respect Wildlife
Approaching or feeding any animal is dangerous—both to you and the animal—and illegal.

Deer and elk
Keep a safe distance of at least 75 feet (23 m) or about six car lengths.

Squirrels
Do not feed the squirrels. They will bite and can possibly carry fleas with the plague.

California condor
Stay at least 75 feet (23 m) away from these endangered birds.

Watch Out Below
Rocks, coins, and trash tossed over the edge of Grand Canyon, and rocks dislodged by walking off trail, can injure hikers and wildlife below.

No Unmanned Aircraft
Launching, landing, or operating an unmanned aircraft is prohibited inside Grand Canyon National Park.

Leave Everything You Find
Grand Canyon National Park—a World Heritage Site—belongs to everyone. Please leave rocks, plants, wood, and artifacts where you find them.

Protect the View
The walls of Grand Canyon tell an amazing story. That story can be altered when you leave graffiti.

Dispose of Your Litter
Help keep Grand Canyon clean by recycling and using trash receptacles.

Day Hikes Below the Rim

A day hike into Grand Canyon affords an unparalleled experience. Knowledge, preparation, and a good plan are all keys to success. Consider purchasing a trail guide at a GCA Park Store before venturing down the trail. Gauge your fitness level, be honest about your health, and don’t compare yourself to five years ago. Know your limits and avoid spontaneousity—Grand Canyon is an extreme environment!

Park rangers say “going down is optional, but coming up is mandatory.” Plan to take twice as long to hike up as it took to hike down. Stay together, follow your plan, and know where and how to seek help.

Backcountry Camping Permits
You must obtain a permit from the Backcountry Information Center to camp anywhere in the park other than in a developed campground on the South Rim. A limited number of last minute walk-ups permits are available.

For additional information about day and overnight hiking, visit the Backcountry Information Center or nps.gov/grca/planyourvisit/backcountry.htm.

9 Essentials for Your Day Pack

Water
At least two liters of water depending on hike intensity and duration. Eat and drink while resting; sip fluids while hiking. Always bring a method to treat water.

Food
Salty snacks and a full meal. Eat often, even if you are not hungry. Snack every time you hydrate.

First Aid Kit and Survival Tools
Include medications, blister care, and duct tape.

Map
Know your route. Many trails are well marked, but some are not.

Flashlight or Headlamp
You may end up hiking in the dark unexpectedly; cell phones do not provide adequate light.

Sun Protection
Sunscreen, hat, sunglasses, and a sun umbrella.

Communication
Whistle or signal mirror; while cell phones are not reliable, they may be helpful.

Simple Shelters
Emergency tarp with reflective side.

Weather-appropriate Clothing and Footwear
Layer for the weather, protect yourself from the sun, and wear hiking boots with good soles. Remember that the weather can change suddenly.

Human Factors
Heat-related Illnesses
Beware of overexposure to hot, dry weather. Rest in the shade, hydrate, and eat high-energy foods. Start and finish your hike before 10 am or after 4 pm. Do not hike during the heat of the day.

4 Dangerous Health Risks

Hyponatremia
This common hiking illness occurs from overhydration and low salt ingestion during a strenuous hike—a deadly condition if ignored. Balance hydration with salty snacks, eat a well-rounded lunch, and rest frequently.

Over Exertion
When looking from the rim into Grand Canyon everything looks close—but it is not! Know your limits, pace yourself, and take a 5- to 10-minute break every hour. If you are not feeling well, rest at least 30 minutes. Turn around on your hike before you feel tired.

Trail Destinations

Watch for mules: stand on uphill side of trail, let them pass, and do not touch them. Follow the wrangler’s directions.

Warning!
• Hiking to the river and back in one day is not recommended due to long distances, extreme temperature changes, and a near 5,000-foot (1,500 m) elevation change each way. If you think you have the fitness and experience to attempt this extremely strenuous hike, please seek the advice of a park ranger at the Backcountry Information Center.
• The Colorado River is fast, wide, and a cold 46°F (8°C) year-round. Do not swim in the river—you will perish!

Pedaling the Park

Bicycle along the canyon rim and through peaceful forest scenery by following the green dashed lines on the map on pages 4–5. Bicycles are only permitted on the Greenway Trail, paved roads, and dirt roads open to vehicles. Bicycles are prohibited on the Rim Trail and trails down into Grand Canyon. Consider riding your bicycle one way and riding the shuttle bus back.

Obey all traffic regulations, ride single file with the flow of traffic, and wear bright colors and a helmet. On Yaki Point and Hermits roads, bicyclists must pull to the right shoulder and dismount when a shuttle bus passes.

Did you know?
A four-mile (6.4 km) bicycle trip keeps approximately 15 pounds (6.8 kg) of vehicle pollutants out of the air we breathe.

Lightning is dangerous. Stay away from the edge of the canyon to avoid deadly situations. Seek shelter inside a building or vehicle.
