Backroads and Byways of the Great Smokies

During the peak summer season, many of the national park’s main roads such as Cades Cove Loop and Newfound Gap will become busy and congested. Fortunately, this 800 square mile park offers a variety of backroads and off-the-beaten-path routes for those who long to escape the crowds.

Please see the map on pages 8-9 for more information on roads and destinations.

Heintooga Ridge & Balsam Mountain roads (16-F). Motorists can make a scenic 45-mile loop from downtown Cherokee and take in mile-high vistas as well as wildflower-rich forests and crystal clear mountain streams.

One-half mile north of Cherokee on U.S. 441, the Blue Ridge Parkway begins its 469-mile journey to Shenandoah National Park in Virginia.

Follow it for 11 miles to Wolf Laurel Gap, then turn onto the Heintooga Ridge Road. After nine gorgeous miles, it becomes the gravel Balsam Mountain Road for 13 miles before reverting to a paved road back to Cherokee.

From downtown Gatlinburg, visitors can drive a 10-mile loop along Cherokee Orchard Road & Roaring Fork Motor Nature Trail (11-D). Just turn onto Historic Nature Trail—Airport Road at traffic light #8 on the main parkway and follow it into the national park. The entire road is paved, but steep, narrow, and winding. Highlights include wildlife, old-growth forests, historic buildings, and three trails to waterfalls.

The Foothills Parkway West (3-E) near Townsend offers loads of mountain views and a 0.5 mile hike to Look Rock observation tower.

Waterfall Watching

Over 80 inches of annual rainfall drench the summits of the Great Smoky Mountains before plummeting more than a vertical mile to the valleys below. This combination of climate and geography make the Smokies a premier place for watching waterfalls.

Of the park’s 40 or so major waterfalls, three are visible from a road; Meigs Falls and The Sinks along Little River Road and Place of a Thousand Drips on Roaring Fork Motor Nature Trail. Most of the others require roundtrip hikes of between two and eight miles. Please see the map on pages 8-9 for more information.

- Three Waterfalls Loop (12-I) starts from Deep Creek Trailhead near Bryson City and packs three waterfalls into a 2.4 mile moderate hike.
- The moderate 4-mile roundtrip hike to Mouse Creek Falls (18-C) starts at the Big Creek Trailhead located 3.4 miles from Interstate 40.
- Mingo Falls (15-G) is just outside the national park near the town of Cherokee. Follow Big Cove Road 5 miles from downtown. The short trail to the falls is very steep.
- Hen Wallow Falls (16-B) is located along Gabes Mountain Trail which starts near Cosby Campground. The moderate hike is 4.2 miles roundtrip.
- Cataract Falls (10-D) is an easy 0.4 mile roundtrip hike that starts from Sugarlands Visitor Center.
- The strenuous 8-mile roundtrip hike to Ramsey Cascades (14-C) begins in the Greenbrier area of the park outside Gatlinburg. Allow at least six hours to complete this hike.

Bicycling

Most park roads are too narrow and heavily traveled by automobiles for safe or enjoyable bicycling. However, Cades Cove Loop Road is an exception. This 11-mile, one-way, paved road provides bicyclists with excellent opportunities for viewing wildlife and historic sites.

Helmets are required for persons age 16 and under and are strongly recommended for all bicyclists.

From May 11-Sept. 21, on Wednesday and Saturday mornings from sunrise to 10:00 a.m., only bicycles and pedestrians are allowed on Cades Cove Loop Road. Bicycles may be rented at the Cades Cove Campground store.

Pets in the Park

Pets are allowed in frontcountry campgrounds and beside roads as long as they are restrained at all times. Pets are not allowed on park trails, except for the Gatlinburg and Oconaluftee River trails. Dogs on these trails must be leashed.

Camping at a backcountry campsite or shelter can be an exciting adventure for persons properly equipped and informed. To facilitate this activity, the National Park Service maintains over 800 miles of trails and more than 100 backcountry campsites and shelters throughout the park. One of the greatest challenges for backcountry campers is deciding where to go. Here are some tools to help.

1. Go online to view the park's official trail map (www.nps.gov/grsm/planyourvisit/maps.htm), which shows all park trails, campsites, and shelters. Park rules and regulations are also listed here. If you wish, you can purchase the printed version of the trail map for $1 by stopping at any park visitor center or online at www.smokiespermits.nps.gov.

2. Make your reservation through the backcountry office at Sugarlands Visitor Center (by phone or in person) or online at www.smokiespermits.nps.gov. Reservations and permits are required for all overnight stays in the backcountry. The cost is $4 per person per night. Reservations may be made up to 30 days in advance. Rangers will need to rescue over 100 people in the backcountry this year. If you don’t want to be one of them:

   - Ditch the sandals. Sturdy hiking boots are the best way to prevent a lower leg injury.
   - Know when the sun sets. Many hikes turn into rescues because people get caught out on trails after dark without flashlights or headlamps.
   - Know your limits. Don’t plan a 15-mile hike unless you are in spectacular physical condition and have done such hikes in mountain terrain recently.
   - Prepare for the weather. These mountains are green because it rains a whole lot here. Always carry rain gear. Stay dry.

Backcountry Camping in the Smokies

Horseback riding is generally available from early March through November. Rates are $30 per hour. Most stables have maximum rider weight limits of 225 or 250 pounds and age restrictions for children. Please call the stables below or stop at a visitor center for detailed information.

The following goals have been officially adopted by the National Park Service to guide the agency and its partners and volunteers into 2016 and beyond.

1. Connect people to parks and help communities protect what is special to them.

2. Advance our educational mission based on core American values, historical and scientific scholarship, and unbiased translation of the complexities of the American experience.

3. Preserve America’s special places and be a leader in extending the benefits of conservation across physical, social, political, and international boundaries.

4. Enhance professional and organizational excellence by adapting to the changing needs of visitors, communities, and partners.

Q: The National Park Service turns 100 years old in 2016. What does that mean to you?

A: If we don’t create the next generation of national park users, advocates, and supporters, I think the work we’ve done in the first 100 years of the National Park Service will be in vain. You protect what you value. If you haven’t visited parks and public lands in your formative years, you run the risk of not knowing or caring about them.

As I get older, I realize I want to be doing something that lasts beyond me. At this point in history, with the Park Service turning 100, I want to tell my daughters that I left the Smokies a better place than when I found it. There’s a lot riding on this. I don’t want to be the one to let this go.

Q: What does the Second Century of the National Park Service look like?

A: When the National Park Service was created, the country was 50 percent urban. Now it’s 80 percent urban. The Park Service is a very traditional organization—and we honor those traditions. But we need to hand the NPS arrowhead over to the next generation and let each person define his or her own park experience.

We don’t want to try too hard to define what we think a park experience should be. Our millennials are very different, their values are very different. They approach the outdoors a lot differently.

That’s why “Find Your Park” is the theme of our Centennial. It’s an individual thing.

We’re looking at this as the right time to reach out to audiences that haven’t traditionally been park visitors, or park employees, for that matter.

Q: How are you celebrating the Centennial in the Smokies?

A: We are hosting some fun events like Smokies Centennial Challenge: Hike 100 where participants log their miles and earn a special reward. We especially want to involve families from nearby urban areas. And I am hiking 100 miles on park trails myself, split between the North Carolina and Tennessee sides of the park.

We’ve also worked with our park partners on some beautiful publications commemorating the first 100 years. Plus we’ve developed a lot of commemorative merchandise that is now featured in the visitor center stores and will benefit the Smokies and the whole park system.

Many Americans today grow up in cities and have only a limited exposure to wild places like the Great Smoky Mountains. Superintendent Cash and the National Park Service are especially enthusiastic about offering urban youth the opportunity to explore the great outdoors.
Across our nation, from northern Alaska to the Virgin Islands, from Acadia to Zion, the National Park Service is responsible for protecting 411* of America’s most beautiful natural areas and most significant historic places. Here is a sampler of the diversity of public lands that have been set aside and protected by the National Park Service “for the benefit and enjoyment of the people.”

NATIONAL PARKS (59)
Example: Grand Teton, Wyoming. Preserves the magnificent Grand Teton mountain range and the wildlife-rich valley of Jackson Hole.

NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARKS (49)
Example: Cumberland Gap, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia. Starting around 1775, this mountain pass became the primary route for American settlers moving west into Kentucky.

NATIONAL HISTORIC SITES (78)
*Example: Andersonville, Georgia. The Camp Smokes guide, Summer 2016 ~ 7 constructed by the Sinagua, a pre-Columbian cultural group that lived in Walnut Canyon from about 1100 to 1250 CE.

NATIONAL MILITARY PARKS (9)
Example: Kings Mountain, South Carolina. Commemorates the Battle of Kings Mountain, a pivotal victory by American Patriots over American Loyalists during the Southern Campaign of the Revolutionary War.

NATIONAL PARKWAYS (4)
Example: Natchez Trace, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee. Commemorates the historic Old Natchez Trace, an ancient buffalo trail used by Native Americans and 18th century European-Americans for commerce.

NATIONAL PRESERVES (19)
Example: Little River Canyon, Alabama. This verdant, biologically-diverse area includes one of the deepest canyons in the eastern U.S.

NATIONAL RECREATION AREA (18)
Example: Chattahoochee River, Georgia. This 48-mile stretch of river offers public recreation and access to historic sites.

NATIONAL RIVER (15)
Example: Big South Fork, Kentucky, Tennessee. The Big South Fork of the Cumberland River region contains one of the highest concentrations of natural bridges in the eastern U.S.

NATIONAL SEASHORE (10)
Example: Gulf Islands, Florida, Mississippi. Offers recreation opportunities and preserves natural and historic resources along the Gulf of Mexico barrier islands.

NATIONAL BATTLEFIELDS (11)
Example: Moores Creek Park, North Carolina. Commemorates the 1776 victory by a thousand Patriots over about eight hundred Loyalists at the Battle of Moore’s Creek Bridge.

NATIONAL LAKE SHORES (4)

NATIONAL MEMORIALS (30)
Example: Flight 93, Pennsylvania. Commemorates the site of the crash of United Airlines Flight 93, which was hijacked in the September 11 attacks.

NATIONAL MONUMENTS (80)
Example: Walnut Canyon, Arizona. Includes 25 cliff dwelling rooms

<tr>
<td>MEETING</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: Creepy Critters: Join a ranger on this adventure into the dark and mysterious world of bugs and macro-invertebrates. Get up close and personal with the use of equipment such as “sucky-uppy-things,” leaf litter boxes, and magnifying glasses.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: Slimy Salamanders: Join a ranger to explore the damp, dark world of the park’s most popular amphibian. Be prepared to get a little wet and even a little dirty as we search for this slimy creature. Closed-toed shoes recommended.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kephart Prong Hike: Join a ranger to explore the remains of an old logging camp, which later became a Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camp. Discover what signs are still visible and what life was like.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: River Ramble: Relax and cool off along a mountain stream. This easy walk with a Ranger offers you an amazing opportunity to explore the Smokies only minutes from your car.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smokemont Evening Campfire Program: Charismatic Megafauna! What is it? Where can I find it? Join a Ranger by the campfire to discover what you might see in the park!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Family Hike: Where the Waters Sing! Pack a snack and water and join a Ranger on a moderate 3-mile round-trip hike along side Bradley Fork Trail to Chasteen Creek Falls.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: Welcome Home! After more than a century of absence, the elk have returned. Join a Ranger to hear the story of the return on the largest mammal in the Great Smoky Mountains.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: Neighbors or Nuisances? Join park staff on the porch to learn about some small animals found right here around the Mountain Farm Museum. As cute as they may be, you decide whether they are friend or foe!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SPECIAL PROGRAMS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sugarlands Science: Join a scientist on the 3rd Friday of the month to learn about and engage in on-going scientific research happening inside Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Topics vary each month.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaped-Note Singing School: Singing schools in the mountains were scheduled when people were not occupied with their work. Usually held when the “literary” schools were adjourned. Singing schools taught the rudiments of music to the general population by the use of shaped notes (also known as Old Harp singing). Come and participate or just listen. Songbooks will be provided.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women’s Work Festival: Join Park Staff and Volunteers for a glimpse into the past roles that rural women held in the family and community. Come experience the similarities as well as the differences life presented more than a century ago. A variety of demonstrations will be ongoing throughout the day.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Back Porch Old-Time Music Jam: Bring an acoustic instrument and join in on this old-time jam. Or just sit back and enjoy the sights and sounds as others play traditional Appalachian music.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blacksmith Demonstration: Learn the art of blacksmithing and why it was important in the Cades Cove community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior Ranger: Slimy Salamanders: Join a ranger to explore the damp, dark world of the park’s most popular amphibian. Be prepared to get a little wet and even a little dirty as we search for this slimy creature.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Old-Time Toy Demonstration: See how wooden toys were used back in Cades Cove’s earlier days.</td>
