Spring Adventures At Rainier

At this time of year, when Mount Rainier is bursting forth from the quiet of winter into the excitement of a vibrant new season, the park becomes a stage set for adventure. Explore the lower elevation forests during early spring when snow still covers much of the park. Search for what lies above and beyond those lower forests in late spring as winter snows melt higher up the slopes of the mountain.

EARLY SPRING: MID-APRIL TO MID-MAY

LONGMIRE AREA
Kautz Creek: This wheelchair-accessible viewpoint offers a good look at Mount Rainier’s south face while its low elevation encourages flowers to bloom here months before spring arrives in higher areas. The standing dead trees, killed by a glacial outburst flood in October 1947, are evidence of geologic forces still active on Mount Rainier. Located 3 miles past the Nisqually Entrance where the road crosses Kautz Creek.

Rampart Ridge: 2.5 hours, 4.5 mile loop, 1390 feet elevation gain. Reach for the sky as you hike from valley to ridgetop. Trail starts across the main road from the National Park Inn, on the west side of the “Shadow of the Shadows”.

Carter Falls: Via the Wonderland Trail from Longmire: 3 hours, 5 miles roundtrip, 900 feet elevation gain. Enjoy the sights and sounds of an old-growth forest as you stroll along the Nisqually and Paradise Rivers to Carter Falls. The trailhead at Longmire is located across the road from the Museum. Follow the Wonderland Trail toward Paradise. For a shorter walk of 2 hours, 2.2 miles roundtrip, 500 feet elevation gain: Start from the trailhead located 2 miles above Longmire on the last road curve before Cougar Rock Campground.

OHANAPIECOSH AREA
Silver Falls: 1.5 hours, 3 mile loop, no elevation gain. Walk under a canopy of towering Douglas-fir trees past hot springs that once supported a health resort to see the Ohanapecoh River plunge through a slot in ancient volcanic rocks.

Trail starts at the Ohanapecoh Visitor Center. For a shorter walk: Start from Highway 123, 0.2 mile south of the Stevens Canyon Entrance at the Three Lakes Trailhead.

推荐路线：带孩子一起徒步！安全小径，岩石和溪流，对受惊的动物很危险！

CARBON RIVER AREA
Green Lakes: 2 hours, 4 miles roundtrip, 1200 feet elevation gain. Climb through dense forest, past Ranger Creek Falls, to view a crystal-clear mountain lake. Trailhead is located 3 miles beyond the Carbon River Entrance.

LATE SPRING: MID-MAY TO END-OF-JUNE

NISQUALLY TO PARADISE ROAD
Comet Falls: 3 hours, 3.8 miles roundtrip, 900 feet elevation gain. Plummeting 320 feet, Comet Falls is one of the park's most spectacular waterfalls. Look for pikas and marmots along the trail as well as trillium and early avalanche lilies. Trailhead is located 4 miles above Longmire.

Ricksecker Point: In addition to its panoramic vistas, Ricksecker Point is one of the best locations in the park for viewing sunsets, alpenglow, stars, and the full moon (June 12). This viewpoint opens May 19 and is located 6.5 miles above Longmire where a short, one-way loop road veers away from the main road at the top of a long hill.

Canyon Rim: By late spring, the rocky outcrop near this lookout of Mount Rainier is dotted with cream-colored heads of beargrass and brightly colored Indian paintbrush, penstemon, and columbine. The viewpoint is located 7.5 miles above Longmire at the photo sign.

Narada Falls: A 10-minute walk down a steep but short trail takes hikers to the base of 168-foot Narada Falls. As if by magic, rainbows often color spray from the falls.

STEVENSON CANYON ROAD
The lower elevations and south-facing exposures of Stevens Canyon between Paradise and Ohanapecoh (road opens May 26) boast some of the earliest blooming subalpine flowers. Look for flowers at Reflection Lakes, near Sunbeam and Stevens Creeks, along the trail to Bench Lake and at Box Canyons.

Bench Lake: 1 hour, 1.5 miles roundtrip, 350 feet elevation gain. Avalanche lilies and marsh marigolds are abundant here during late spring. The trailhead can be found 1 mile east of Louise Lake. Box Canyons: 20 minutes, 0.25 mile loop trail. This unique area is an excellent location to view stonecrop, phlox, saxifrage and other early flowers; look at glacially polished granite; and see the Muddy Fork of the Cowitz River as it flows through a slot canyon nearly 200 feet below the trail bridges.

Eastside Trail: From the Grove of the Patriarchs, exploring northward toward Deer Creek: 6 hours, 13 miles roundtrip. Even when the trail veers away from the Ohanapecoh River its soothing melody can always be heard providing background music during forest hikes. Grove of the Patriarchs trailhead is located 0.25 mile west of the Stevens Canyon Entrance. For a one-way hike of 4 hours, 9 miles, 1500 feet elevation loss: Start at Deer Creek and hike to Ohanapecoh. Trailhead is located 5 miles south of Cayuse Pass on Highway 123.

SUNRISE AREA
Sunrise, situated at 6,400 feet in the northeastern part of the park, is a place of breathtaking vistas and the intriguing beauty of fragile subalpine vegetation. The road to Sunrise opens June 30, weather permitting.

CARBON RIVER AREA
Carbon Glacier: 3.5 hours, 7 miles roundtrip, 1200 feet elevation gain. Hike to the terminus of the lowest-elevation glacier in the contiguous United States. Trailhead is located at the far end of Ipsut Creek Campground.

CAUTION: Stay On The Trail. Rock And Ice Falling From The Glacier Face Can Be Hazardous.

NOTE: Starting June 13, Bridge Repair On Route 165 Will Restrict Access To The Carbon River Area Of Mount Rainier.

Entry/exit Will Be Closed 7 A.M. To 5 P.M. Daily.

"For the first announcement of spring - and not in a whisper but a shout - look to the swamps and marshes and bogs. There, while the plant world all around is only just budding, great yellow flames of skunk cabbage leap up like galaxies of exploding suns."

Harvey Manning, Mountain Flowers of the Cascades and Olympics.

Permits for Overnight Trips & Climbing

Planning an overnight backpacking trip or summit climb? Be sure to stop at a Hiker Information Center or any ranger station for your permit.

Rangers will assist with trip planning, and issue wilderness permits. The main reason for permits is to control the number of people in one place at one time and limit the impact from litter, human waste, and trampling of the ground.

Camping at all trailside camps as well as Camps Muir and Schurman is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Anyone intending to go above the high camps at Camp Muir or Camp Schurman, or to travel on the glaciers, must obtain a climbing card in lieu of a wilderness permit.

Longmire

The Longmire Hiker Information Center, located in the log and stone building beside the flagpole, opens June 10. Through June 9, permits are issued at the Longmire Museum.

Be Prepared

- Be prepared for the unexpected: carry extra food and water, rain gear and emergency items including matches and first-aid supplies. Use your common sense to avoid accidents and injuries.
- The waterways of Mount Rainier are home for micro-organisms like Giardia that can make you very sick. Please drink water only from treated, piped water systems; in the backcountry, boil your water or use an adequate filtration system. Contrary to historic claims, Longmire Mineral and Ohanapocoosh hot spring waters are not safe to drink.
- It is wise to carry a flashlight in case you return after dark.
- Please remember that dogs and other pets, bicyclists and motor vehicles are not allowed on park trails.
- Have a safe, and enjoyable trip.

Mount Rainier, North Cascades & Olympic Fund

Almost a century ago, citizens nationwide recognized the spectacular beauty of the Puget Sound region, and later established Mount Rainier, North Cascades and Olympic National Parks.

Preserved as National treasures, these parks draw millions of visitors from all over the world and offer a personalized connection to nature. Their very popularity has placed these parks in jeopardy. Washington's National Parks struggle with increasingly tight budgets, as Congress faces conflicting funding priorities.

The Mount Rainier, North Cascades & Olympic Fund is a private, independent, not-for-profit organization whose mission is to restore, enhance and preserve these three national parks. The fund works with individuals like you - as well as business, foundations and allied organizations - to secure financial as well as volunteer support for specific projects to improve the parks.

If tomorrow's visitors to our great National Parks are going to experience the extraordinary beauty and diversity that originally set these parks apart, we must aggressively work together for their restoration and protection today.

To apply for volunteer service at Mount Rainier National Park, or to receive more information on the VIP program, contact a park ranger at any visitor center or ranger station or write: Clay & Dixie Gatchel, Lead VIP Coordinators, P.O. Box 1344, Renton, WA, 98057-1344.

Volunteers = VIP

Many Americans have had a love affair with the national parks since Yellowstone - our first national park - was created in 1872. Today, the National Park Service is officially entrusted with preserving more than 350 national parks in the United States. Thousands of individuals who want to ensure that the best of America will be protected, assist the Park Service by volunteering their time and talents.

If you would like to make a contribution to assure that your national parks will continue to be enjoyed by future generations, then consider becoming a VIP for the National Park Service.
