Restoring Paradise

In the upper lot at Paradise a new visitor center is under construction with completion scheduled for this summer. The new building is designed in the rustic park architecture style typical of the early 1900s with features similar to the Paradise Inn and is compatible with the park’s National Historic Landmark District. The visitor center is being built over the original location of the former Paradise Camp building reflecting the historic landscape.

The new visitor center will be much smaller and significantly more sustainable than the existing Henry M. Jackson Visitor Center which no longer meets present-day fire, safety, or accessibility standards, and is extremely expensive to operate and maintain.

Construction of the new facility began in 2006 with opening schedule for this fall. What will happen to the existing visitor center at Paradise? It is scheduled for demolition after opening of the new visitor center.

The Paradise Inn, which opened July 1, 1917, was built in 1916 using massive timbers and glacial boulders to blend the building with its natural surroundings. Today, the Inn is a National Historic Landmark and is a contributing feature to the park’s National Historic Landmark District. It was determined that the structure needed extensive rehabilitation to enable it to remain intact for the enjoyment of future generations. Rehabilitation includes earthquake retrofitting, the addition of a foundation, stabilization of the grand chimneys and hearths in the main lobby and dining hall, and upgrading guest rooms to be compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Visiting Paradise During Construction

The current visitor center is open and continues to provide book and gift sales, dining at the Grill, guided walks and interpretive activities. Come on up to enjoy the reawakening of Paradise as it slowly emerges from under its deep snowpack.

Construction needs combined with the remaining snowpack have significantly reduced parking in the immediate Paradise area. Shuttle services will resume for the summer beginning in early July. Until then arrive early or late in the day to avoid parking congestion.

The Paradise Shuttle will run again this summer starting June 20 providing service to Paradise from Ashford, Longmire, and Cougar Rock.

Welcome...

to Mount Rainier National Park.

You are visiting during a very exciting time in the park’s history. Major renovations and new construction are nearing completion at Paradise. The Paradise Inn is reopening on May 16, after two years of much needed structural rehabilitation. Visit this historic inn to experience the rustic architecture and enjoy ambiance reminiscent of the park’s early years.

Construction of the new Paradise Visitor Center will be complete this summer with the opening scheduled for October, following installation of the new exhibits. A film is currently under production for this facility as well. Next year the existing visitor center will be removed and the area, including the adjacent parking lot, will be redesigned to incorporate additional parking spaces.

With the removal of the existing visitor center and completion of the new visitor center, the Paradise Historic Landmark District will more closely align with the original look of the area.

A visit after completion of the Paradise projects will be worth your time, I guarantee it!

In November 2006, the late autumn rains continued for 36 hours overwhelming the rivers and drastically changing some of the landscape. The roads on the east side of the park are now repaired and will be open this summer. See the Road Opening Schedule on page 4 for opening dates. Park staff and volunteers will continue repair to the remaining damage until the work is complete.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

Looking for that perfect gift?
How about a pass to our nation’s treasuries?

The Interagency Annual Pass
This pass entitles access to, and use of, federal recreation sites that charge entrance or standard amenity fees. The Interagency Annual Pass costs $80 and is valid for 12 months from purchase date. They are available at any Mount Rainier entrance station.

The Interagency Volunteer Pass
This new pass is for anyone who volunteers 500 hours or more at federal recreation sites after January 1, 2007. The pass is free and is valid for 12 months from issue date. Contact Volunteer Program Manager Kevin Bacher at (360) 569-2211 ext. 3385 to learn about volunteer opportunities at Mount Rainier National Park.

The Mount Rainier Annual Pass
If you plan to visit only Mount Rainier National Park, consider the Mount Rainier Annual Pass. It costs $30 and, like the Interagency Annual Pass, is good for 12 months from the purchase date. The Mount Rainier Annual Pass is available at any Mount Rainier National Park Entrance station.

A Great Gift Idea!

Mount Rainier
An Active Volcano
Active steam vents, periodic earth tremors, and historic eruptions provide evidence that Mount Rainier is sleeping, not dead. Seismic monitoring stations around the mountain should provide days or weeks of advance warning of impending eruptions. Other geologic hazards, however, can occur with little warning. These include debris flows and rockfalls.

The more time you spend in an area with geologic hazards, the greater the chance that you could be involved in an emergency event. While most people consider the danger to be relatively low, you must decide if you will assume the risk of visiting these potentially dangerous locations. If you are near a river and notice a rapid rise in water level, feel a prolonged shaking of the ground, and/or hear a roaring sound coming from upvalley—often described as the sound made by a fast-moving freight train—move quickly to higher ground! A location 100 feet or more above river level should be safe. Detailed information is available at park visitor centers or from scientists at the U.S.G.S. Cascades Volcano Observatory, 1300 SE Cardinal Court, Building 10, Suite 100, Vancouver, WA 98661, or visit the U.S.G.S. Cascade Volcanoes website: vulcan.wr.usgs.gov.

Protect Your Park
Mount Rainier National Park was established in 1899 to preserve the natural and cultural resources in this area and to provide for public benefit and enjoyment. To protect yourself and your park, during your visit please follow these rules:
- Pets must be on leashes no longer than six feet and are not allowed in buildings, on trails, or on snow.
- Do not feed or disturb the wildlife.
- Stay on designated trails.
- Make fires only in a fire grill. Collecting firewood is prohibited.
- Weapons are prohibited in the park. Firearms transported through the park must be unloaded, broken down, and stored to prevent use.
- Bicycle only on roads, not on trails.
- Camp in designated campsites only. Sleeping in vehicles outside of campgrounds is not permitted.

HEY KIDS!
Ask for a Junior Ranger Activity Book. It's FREE at all park visitor centers. Complete it and learn lots of cool stuff about your park and earn a badge and certificate.

Park Partners
Who’s responsible for protecting Mount Rainier National Park? Everyone! Here are some people who deserve special thanks:

Visitors Like You! Just by paying the entrance fee, you make a difference. Eighty percent of the fees collected at Mount Rainier are kept in the park, while twenty percent are made available to other parks in need. Your money is helping several projects right now:
- Rehabilitating park trails
- Meadow restoration at Sunrise and Reflection Lakes
- Upgrading exhibits and media
- Rehabilitating picnic areas

As you explore the park, look for signs of your fees at work!

Washington’s National Park Fund
The Washington’s National Park Fund has connected people to parks and inspired contributions of time, talent and money. The Fund helps ensure that visits to Washington’s national parks are positive experiences for all. To learn more about how you can help Washington’s national parks, call 206-770-0662 or visit www.wnpf.org.

Student Conservation Association
S.C.A. is a nationwide force of high school and college-age volunteers who are committed to protecting and preserving the environment. Through internships, conservation jobs, and crew experiences, S.C.A. members are rising to meet environmental challenges while gaining real, hands-on field experience. They complete projects in every conservation discipline—from archaeology to zoology—and everything in between. In January 2007, S.C.A. was named to direct volunteer flood recovery efforts at Mount Rainier National Park. S.C.A. worked collaboratively with park officials to assess backcountry damage caused by torrential rains, devised a restoration strategy, and organized a multi-year volunteer work plan to engage trail coalitions, friends groups, and individual volunteers. For more information about S.C.A. or to get involved visit www.thesca.org.
Permits

Wilderness Camping

Permits are required for all overnight stays in the park’s backcountry. Permits and backcountry information are available at all Wilderness Information Centers and most visitor centers (see page 12 for locations and hours).

Although permits are free, there is an option for a fee-based reservation system for campers and climbers in effect May through September. Backcountry reservations are $20 per party (1-12 people) for 1 to 14 consecutive nights. Sixty percent of all backcountry reservations are $20 per party (1-12 people) for 1 to 14 consecutive nights. Sixty percent of all backcountry reservations are $20 per party (1-12 people) for 1 to 14 consecutive nights.

Hiking the Muir Snowfield

The Muir Snowfield, a permanent field of snow, ice and rock outcrops, is located north of Paradise between 7,000 and 10,000 feet in elevation. Thousands of people hike on the Muir Snowfield each year en route to Camp Muir. On a clear day, the hike is spectacular. But when the weather deteriorates, as it often and unpredictably does, crossing the Muir Snowfield can be disastrous.

Don’t Become A Muir Snowfield Statistic:

- Avoid the snowfield in questionable weather, especially if you’re alone or unprepared.
- Weather conditions can change suddenly and drastically.
- If you’re ascending and clouds or fog start rolling in, turn around and head back to Paradise. If that’s not possible, stop moving, dig in, and wait for better weather.
- Without a compass, map, and altimeter, it is extremely difficult to find your way to the trailhead in a white-out. Carry these items and know how to use them.
- Do not attempt to descend from Camp Muir in poor weather. Do not descend on skis or a snowboard in limited visibility — you could quickly become lost.
- When hiking to Camp Muir, be sure to carry emergency bivouac gear so that you can spend the night out if you have to.
- While it may be disappointing to abandon your hike to Camp Muir, remember that the snowfield will still be there in better weather.
- To protect fragile alpine vegetation, hike only on trails or snow.

The Secret To A Great Hike

Hiking at Mount Rainier National Park can mean adventure, exploration, learning, or just plain having fun! The secret to a great hike? Staying safe! For a great and safe hike, follow these tips:

Check the Trail

Deep snow covers park trails into early summer. Before you hike, stop at a Visitor Center or Wilderness Information Center (see page 4 for locations and hours of operation) to learn about current trail conditions.

When hiking, be especially careful at river crossings. Many bridges are damaged and may be unsafe. Hikers often underestimate the power of the water and can be unaware of the large rolling boulders it carries. If you must make a water crossing, go in the morning when rivers are generally lower. Beware of snow-covered trails, steep and icy slopes, thin snowbridges over streams and crevasses, snow mosas, wet or slippery rocks (especially near rivers and waterfalls), and snow cornices.

Pay Attention to the Weather

At Mount Rainier, the weather can change rapidly. Hikers who aren’t prepared for weather conditions increase their risk of becoming lost or injured.

Avoid problems: know and plan for Mount Rainier’s changeable weather.

Prepare and Take Care

Carry the “10 Essentials” with you and know how to use them. Tell someone your travel plans so they can notify the park if you fail to return. Do not travel alone. If visibility is poor, do not travel at all. Taking these few precautions could save your day...and your life!

Wilderness Camping Permits

Wilderness camping permits are required for all overnight stays in the park’s backcountry. Permits and backcountry information are available at all Wilderness Information Centers and most visitor centers (see page 12 for locations and hours).

Although permits are free, there is an option for a fee-based reservation system for campers and climbers in effect May through September. Backcountry reservations are $20 per party (1-12 people) for 1 to 14 consecutive nights. Sixty percent of all backcountry sites and zones are available for reservation. The remaining 40% are issued on a first-come, first-served basis on the day the trip begins.

Animal Encounters

While sightings of black bears and mountain lions are not common, these animals do live in the park. A better understanding of these park residents will serve as your best defense- and their best protection - should you encounter one.

Black Bear Sense

- Never feed a black bear, either intentionally or by leaving food unsecured.
- Do not approach bears or cubs.
- If a bear approaches, shout and make noise to scare it away.
- If attacked, fight back aggressively.
- Report all sightings at the nearest ranger station or call (360) 569-2211 ext. 3373 or ext. 2334.

Avoiding Mountain Lions

- Hike in a group. To avoid looking like prey, walk rather than run.
- Keep children in your view and ahead of you.
- Never approach cougar kittens – leave the area immediately.
- Don’t take your pet on trails or in the backcountry and never leave a pet unattended in a campground.

Close Encounters With Mountain Lions

- Don’t Run! Your group should stand still and face the mountain lion.
- Immediately pick up and hold small children.
- Stand upright to make yourself appear larger. If the mountain lion moves toward you, wave your arms and make noise.
- Back away slowly while facing the animal.
- If attacked, fight back aggressively.
- Report all sightings. Reports can be made at the nearest ranger station or by calling (360) 569-2211, ext. 3373 or ext. 2334.

Carry the“10 Essentials” and know how to use them!

1. map of the area
2. compass
3. extra food & water
4. extra clothing (warm!) & rain gear
5. emergency shelter
6. first aid kit
7. flashlight or headlamp
8. sunglasses & sunscreen
9. pocketknife
10. matches (waterproof)!*

Leave No Trace

Plan ahead & prepare
Travel & camp on durable surfaces
Dispose of waste properly
Leave what you find
Minimize campfire impacts*
Respect wildlife
Be considerate of others

*Fires are for emergency use only; they are not allowed in Mount Rainier’s Wilderness.

Before you step off the trail...

... consider this: each step into a meadow crushes an average of 20 plants!

Climbing

Each year, approximately 9,000 people attempt to climb Mount Rainier. Nearly half reach the 14,410 foot summit. Climbing permits are required for travel above 10,000’ and/or on glaciers. Climbing information - including fees, routes, and conditions is available at ranger stations. For recorded route conditions, call (360) 569-6099. Guided climbs and climbing seminars are available through:

Please Recycle!

Mount Rainier National Park has been recycling since the late 1960s.

We reduce our consumption of resources by refusing and recycling products. In addition to the usual items – aluminum, plastic, glass, paper – we recycle scrap metal, used oil, batteries and a number of other items. We purchase recycled products including plastic bags, picnic tables, and lumber; pre- and post-consumer recycled paper; and automobile products.

Be part of the effort! Please deposit aluminum cans, plastic bottles and glass in the recycle cans provided.

Accessibility

Most comfort stations, visitor centers, picnic areas, and designated campsites are accessible or accessible with help for wheelchair users.

Accessible lodging is available inside the park and in local communities. In the Jackson Visitor Center at Paradise, written information, exhibits, and scripts for uncaptioned audiovisual programs are available. The Kautz Boardwalk Nature Trail is accessible. The new Paradise Visitor Center is designed for accessibility. TDD: (360) 569-2177
