Welcome to Your National Park!

Whether you are looking for wilderness solitude or historical architecture, spectacular drives or challenging hikes, Mount Rainier National Park has something for you. This issue includes information that will help you plan your activities and have a safe and enjoyable visit.

Discovering Rainier – Off The Beaten Path

If you are in the park on a busy day you may want to explore less-visited areas to escape the biggest crowds. In taking the extra time to seek out these special places, you can immerse yourself in an old growth forest, reflect next to a cascading waterfall, hike in virtual solitude, or just relax, take in the view, reconnect with nature. No matter where you go in the park you will find spectacular scenery and a multitude of recreation opportunities! Use the photo map at the top of page 2 and your park map to choose a place to visit and the best route to get there.

Interested in Old Growth Forests? Visit Ohanapechseh (SE) to explore lush old growth forests of Douglas fir and western redcedar. There is also a self-guided nature trail behind the visitor center that leads past hot springs and the site of an early resort.

How about Subalpine Meadows and Lakes? For an outstanding wildflower meadow experience highlighted by beautiful lakes, try Reflection Lakes (SW), Mowich Lake (NW), or Tipsoo Lake (NE). In mid-summer the meadows should be bursting with color providing a great backdrop for these tranquil lakes set in glacially carved basins.

Is Geology Your Interest? Then drive 3 miles to the end of the Westside Road (SW) near the Nisqually Entrance to view the dramatic results of flooding and rockfall. You may even see a mountain goat gazing down at you from a cliff face high above! For great views of lava layers, glaciers, and a glacially carved canyon stop at one of the first pullouts on Ricksecker Road (SW). (continued on page 3.)

Historic Paradise Guide House Rehabilitation

On a ridge near Paradise Inn, the Paradise Guide House has served as a climbing center and a dormitory since its construction in 1910. The Guide House is listed on the National Register of Historic Places as part of the Paradise Historic District and as part of the Mount Rainier National Historic Landmark District. This historic building is an important part of the park's history and the early history of the National Park Service.

While visiting Paradise, you'll see evidence of the extensive repairs needed to maintain this historic building, including replacing the existing masonry stone foundation. Last fall and this spring, we installed a temporary water treatment plant (replacing the existing plant in the basement of the Guide House), completed associated trenching and piping work, and salvaged all viable plants from the construction area. This summer the contractor is working on the foundation. This work involves lifting the building and excavating underneath. The construction will affect your visit to Paradise as part of the upper parking lot is cordoned off for construction use and the traffic pattern is altered. Parking in the upper loop (Loop A) of the Paradise Picnic Area will also be limited. Please drive with extra caution.

3 Wild Encounters

What would you do if you came face to face with a bear or a mountain lion or encountered bad weather on the Muir Snowfield? Find out how to prepare for an encounter with the wilder side of Mount Rainier.

3 Naturalist Programs

When and where do interpretive walks, evening campfire programs, and Junior Ranger programs start? What programs are offered? Look on page 3 to get the details.

8 Park Information

Where are the visitor centers? When are they open? Where can I get something to eat? Which campground is right for me? How do I get a Wilderness Permit? It's all on the back page!

Wild for Waterfalls? Then the east side (State Routes 123 and 410) of the park is the place to go. The powerful Silver Falls near Ohanapecosh is only a 0.3 mile hike from Route 123 or you can take the 1.3 mile trail from Ohanapecosh Campground. For those who like to hike, take the East Side Trail to one or all of the many waterfalls dotted along the route. Start off of Route 123 – park at a small pullout 0.5 mile south of Deer Creek – or at Grove of the Patriarchs on Stevens Canyon Road.

Did You Bring a Picnic? If so there are many smaller picnic areas scattered around the park. From Nisqually Entrance (SW) stop at Sunshine Point for a picnic with a view of Nisqually River or at Kautz Creek where you can take a short walk to view the aftermath of the 1947 Kautz Creek mudflow. At Ohanapecosh (SE) stop at the picnic area adjacent to the campground for a picnic set in deep green old growth forest. West of Ohanapecosh you can stop at the Box Canyon Picnic Area just east of the Box Canyon Interpretive Site. Be sure to stop at the latter for a look at the Cowlitz River, 180 feet below, as it cuts a narrow deep slot into the bedrock. From the Tipsoo Lake picnic area (NE) you’ll have a great view of the meadows surrounding the lake. Picnic at Mowich Lake (NW) and admire the fragile wildflower meadows surrounding the deepest and largest lake in the park.

Are You a History Buff? If so, then Longmire (SW) is the place to visit. The Longmire Museum is the starting point for the Longmire Historic District Walking Tour. Take the self-guided tour of the historic district to get a taste of early National Park Service rustic architecture. Follow the Trail of the Shadows to learn about the park’s first homestead and resort.

Prefer Uncrowded Trails? Many trails leave from the Reflection Lakes (SW) area including the Lakes, High Lakes, Mazama Ridge, and the Wonderland trails, with Snow and Bench Lakes Trail located in a pullout just down the road to the east. Another great area for trails is on the east side along State Routes 123 and 400. From south to north you will find Silver Falls, Three Laken, East Side, Shrinr Peak, and Crystal Lakes trails to name a few. Trails in the Mowich Lake area lead to subalpine lakes and amazing meadows.

If you are tempted by any of these opportunities, stop by a visitor center or entrance station for more information and consult your park map for locations. Enjoy visiting your National Park!
Hiking the Muir Snowfield?
The Muir Snowfield, a permanent field of snow, ice, and rock outcrops, is located north of Paradise between 7,000 - 10,000 feet in elevation. Thousands of people hike on the Muir Snowfield each year en route to Camp Muir. The snowfield is magnificent, but it can be dangerous. The trail is covered with snow, and you don’t know where you are. You might be in an avalanche zone and not even know it.

Don’t Become a Muir Snowfield Statistical!

- Avoid the snowfield in questionable weather, especially if you are alone or unprepared. Weather conditions can change suddenly and drastically.
- If you’re ascending and clouds or fog start rolling in, turn around and head back to Paradise. If that’s not possible, stop moving, dig in, and wait for better weather.
- Without a compass, map, and altimeter, it is extremely difficult to find your way to the trailhead in a whiteout. Carry these items and know how to use them!
- Do not attempt to descend from Camp Muir in poor weather. Do not descend on skis or a snowboard in limited visibility — you could become quickly lost!
- When hiking to Camp Muir, be sure to carry emergency bivouac gear so that you can spend the night out if you have to.
- While it may be disappointing to abandon your hike to Camp Muir, remember that the snowfield will be there for you next time, in better weather.

Ask a ranger for tips on other areas to explore during your visit.

The Secret to a Great Visit

Mount Rainier National Park offers excellent opportunities for adventure, exploration, learning, and just plain having fun! The secret to a great visit? Staying safe! Reduce the risk of spoiling your trip by following these guidelines:

Pay Attention to the Weather

Think about all the ways weather can outsmart you. It’s easy to get lost or injured when the weather deteriorates, the trail is covered with snow, and you don’t know where you are. You might be in an avalanche zone and not even know it.

Eyes on the Trail

You may be hiking before trail crews have a chance to clear away fallen trees or replace missing foot logs at river crossings. Be especially careful at river crossings. Many people underestimate the power of the water and are unaware of the large, rolling boulders it carries. If you must cross, go in the morning when rivers are generally lower.

Prepare and Take Care

Bring the “10 Essentials” with you and know how to use them (see bottom of page). Tell someone your travel plans so they can notify the park if you fail to return. Do not travel alone. If visibility is poor, do not travel at all. Taking these few precautions could save your day...and your life!

Protect Yourself and Your Park

Mount Rainier National Park was established in 1899 to preserve its resources and to provide for public benefit and enjoyment. By following the rules, you protect your park and yourself:

- Pets must be on leashes no longer than six feet and are not allowed in buildings, on trails, or on snow

- Make fires only in a fire grill. Collecting firewood is prohibited
- Weapons are prohibited in wilderness. Firearms transported through the park must be unloaded, broken down, and stored to prevent use

Close Encounters With Mountain Lions

- DON’T RUN! Stand still and face the lion with your companions
- Immediately pick up and hold small children
- Stand upright to make yourself appear larger — wave your arms and make a noisy commotion if the animal moves toward you
- Back away slowly while facing the animal
- If attacked, fight back aggressively
- Report all sightings to the nearest ranger station or call (360) 569-2211 ext. 3373 or ext. 2334

Animal Encounters

The beauty and wonder of Mount Rainier National Park doesn’t just come from the scenic grandeur of a single, towering mountain. The presence of wild creatures remains an essential part of the experience of wilderness. Being in the home of large creatures like black bear and mountain lion (cougar) can make Mount Rainier an exciting — and sometimes scary — place to visit.

Black Bear Sense

- Never feed a black bear, either intentionally or by leaving food unsecured
- Do NOT approach bears or cubs
- If a black bear approaches you, try to scare it away by shouting and making noise
- If attacked, fight back aggressively
- Report all sightings to the nearest ranger station or call (360) 569-2211 ext. 3373 or ext. 2334

Washington's National Park Fund
The Fund was created to restore, enhance, and preserve Washington's national parks. The Fund is a private, independent, not-for-profit organization that works with individuals, businesses, foundations, and others to secure financial and volunteer support for projects to improve the parks. In 2002 the Fund contributed to projects like the emergency roadside assistance program, geology webpage development, community outreach programs, and monitoring marbled murrelets. If you'd like to help, look for donation boxes at park visitor centers, or contact Executive Director, Washington's National Park Fund, 212 Third Avenue, Suite 501, Seattle, WA 98121, (206) 770-0627, www.wnpf.org.

Volunteers
Each year more than 85,000 volunteers donate over 300,000 hours of service in the national parks. They come from every state and nearly every country in the world to help preserve and protect America's natural and cultural heritage for the enjoyment of this and future generations. At Mount Rainier National Park, 866 volunteers contributed a total of 31,935 hours in 2002. We express our deep appreciation to them and to all who are volunteering in 2003! 365 DAYS - 388 WAYS
TO EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA

Mount Rainier:
An Active Volcano
Recent research has improved our understanding of Mount Rainier, an active volcano. Active steam vents, periodic earth tremors, and reported historical eruptions provide evidence that Mount Rainier is sleeping, not dead. Seismic monitoring stations around the mountain should provide days or weeks of advance warning of impending eruptions. However, other geologic hazards like debris flows and rockfall can occur with little warning. Needless to say, the longer you stay in an area where there are geologic hazards, the greater the chance that you could be involved in an emergency event. While most people consider the danger to be relatively low, you must decide if you will assume the personal risk of visiting these potentially dangerous locations.

If you are near a river and notice a rapid rise in water level, feel a prolonged shaking of the ground, and/or hear a roaring sound coming from upvalley—often described as the sound made by a fast-moving freight train—move quickly to higher ground! A location 160 feet or more above river level should be safe. Detailed information is available at park visitor centers and from scientists at the U.S.G.S. Cascades Volcano Observatory, 1300 SE Cardinal Court, Building 90, Suite 100, Vancouver, WA 98661, www.vulcan.usgs.gov.

Accessibility
Most comfort stations, visitor centers, picnic areas, and designated campites are accessible or accessible with help for wheelchair users. Accessible lodging is available inside the park and in local communities. In the Jackson Visitor Center at Paradise, written information, exhibits, and scripts for uncaptioned audiovisual programs are available. An accessible boardwalk at Kautz Creek (3 miles west of Longmire) overlooks the 1947 debris flow and a view of the mountain. TDD: (360) 599-2177.

Doing Our Part!
We all share the responsibilities of caring for our environment and conserving scarce natural resources. You probably do your part at home by carpooling and by turning down your thermostat and switching off your lights. Staff at Mount Rainier National Park do these things and many more out of concern for our environment and in response to old and new environmental laws.

We conduct environmental analysis on construction and design projects. The park is engaged in a wide variety of planning and construction projects that have the potential to impact park resources including air, water, plants, wildlife, historic structures, etc. To determine what those impacts might be, the park is required to conduct environmental analysis. Resource professionals and other staff engage in collaborative planning to identify the best possible alternatives, with the least possible impacts.

We focus on using new "green" products as they are developed. One of our park generators and all our diesel vehicles now run on special emissions-reducing fuel made with a soybean-based, low-sulfur fuel. Additionally, we recently added 18 new vehicles with a propane fuel option to the park fleet. As an ENERGY STAR Partner Organization we are committed to lowering our energy consumption by purchasing ENERGY STAR rated devices including refrigerators, furnaces, and computers.

We reduce our consumption of resources by reusing and recycling products. In addition to the usual items—aluminum, plastic, glass, paper—we recycle scrap metal, used oil, batteries and a number of other items. We purchase recycled products including plastic bags, picnic tables, and lumber; pre- and post-consumer recycled paper; and automobile products.

Be part of the effort! Please deposit aluminum cans, plastic bottles, and glass in the recycle cans located throughout the park.

Mountain Lives: People of the Past
Saturday, August 16
Meet in front of the National Park Inn.
Historical characters emerge from the darkness along the Trail of the Shadows as you walk the trail with a ranger. Meet the people who explored, settled, climbed, and protected Mount Rainier more than 100 years ago. Lantern tours last 90 minutes and depart every 20 minutes between 8:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Bring a warm jacket and a flashlight, and wear sturdy shoes.

A Window to the Past – Nature Notes on the Web

"Last week the Naturalist watched two half grown marmots stage an exciting three-round boxing match at Marmal Point. An old hoary-backed fellow refereed the match. The two stood on their hind feet and slapped each other with both fists. With bears it would have been a slapping match but these marmots exchanged short jabs and punches like professionals. Not only was the boxing and head work good, but they were also active on their feet. Contrary to the usual procedure each round lasted until one of the other of the contestants was knocked down, then instead of retiring to his corner the winner of the round jumped upon his fallen foe and began worrying him. After a minute or so of this they were on their feet again, and the next round was underway." – July 1, 1927

Want to learn about Mount Rainier National Park through the eyes of old-time rangers? Check out Nature Notes on Mount Rainier's website. From 1923 through 1939, park naturalists published hundreds of issues of Nature Notes. They feature articles on plants, wildlife, and history, along with poems, illustrations, and anecdotes. Over 100 issues are on the web, and we'll keep adding until the collection is complete. Check out www.nps.gov/mora/notes/nm-intro.htm.
