A Visitor’s Guide to National Capital Parks–East
Summer 2008

Charting the Future While Preserving the Past

www.nps.gov/nace
Dear Visitor:

Welcome to Anacostia Park one of Washington, D.C.’s largest multi-recreation parks, with shoreline access, a roller skating pavilion, ball fields, basketball, tennis courts, and picnic areas. Anacostia Park is known historically for the Na-cotchtanks Indians who were the primary residents along the eastern shore of the Anacostia River before 1670. The neighborhood of Anacostia was the home of the famed orator and abolitionist Frederick Douglass, and by 1932 Anacostia Park was occupied by World War I veterans who marched on Washington to demand the immediate payment of wartime bonus better known as the “Bonus Marches.” With such rich history, an excellent resource for environmental studies, an annual visitation of over 1 million, we invite you to come and enjoy these opportunities for your family.

Remember, Anacostia Park is only one of the sites within National Capital Parks-East that offers great recreational opportunities for the entire family. So take the time to visit all 14 areas listed on pages four and five.

For Your Information

Camping
The 174-site campground at Greenbelt Park is open all year. Sites are available for tents, recreational vehicles, and trailers up to 30 feet long. Restrooms, showers, picnic tables, water, and fire grates are provided. There are no electric hookups and camping is limited to 14 days. Overnight fees are dependant on the number of campers. For campground reservations, call 1-800-365-CAMP or 301-344-2929.

Special Services
NCP–East makes every effort to provide access to all of our facilities and programs for the broadest possible range of visitors. From children and the elderly to those who are physically challenged, NCP–East strives to create inclusive opportunities for all people. For detailed information on special services, visitors should contact the park Accessibility Coordinator at 202-690-5188.

Park Regulations
To help protect park resources and ensure an enjoyable visit for everyone, please follow park rules and posted regulations.
- Pets are welcome in all of NCP–East, except at Oxon Cove Park. Pets must be on a leash no longer than 6 feet and under control at all times.
- Discharging firearms anywhere on NCP–East lands is unlawful.
- Please dispose of your garbage and other refuse in park-provided containers or take it with you when you leave.
- For your safety while hiking, stay on the established trails and watch your footing at all times.
- Prevent damage to resources by bicycling on paved roads and designated bike trails only.

Safety In Your National Parks

On the Road
- Buckle Up! Seat belts are required by law.
- Slow down at dawn and dusk.
- Watch out for pedestrians, other motorists, and animals on roadways.
- Pedestrians have the right-of-way.
- Follow park speed limits.
- Be aware that traffic in parks can be very heavy so be patient.
- Always yield to emergency vehicles.
- Always keep watch for bicyclists, especially when turning, merging, changing lanes, or entering intersections.

Fortifications
- Climbing any part of the fortifications is unsafe and can damage them. Many historic surfaces are uneven and some areas can be slippery when wet. Please stay off earthworks and watch your children.

Sun and Heat Protection
- Apply a broad spectrum sunscreen with a Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of at least 15. Reapply sunscreen every 2 hours when outdoors, even on cloudy days.
- Drink lots of water to avoid dehydration.

Hiking Precautions
- Hiking off trails is unsafe, damages vegetation, causes erosion, and creates unsightly paths.
- Choose hiking trails suitable to your physical condition.
- If you plan to hike solo, give your intended route and length of trip to a park ranger or friend.
- Wear proper clothing. Hiking boots should be sturdy with good traction and ankle support and should be well broken-in ahead of time.
- Bring bottled water.

Always Put Out Your Fires!
- Fires left unattended are dangerous. Be sure your fire is put out completely with water before leaving the area.

Points of Interest

Anacostia Park

ANACOSTIA PARK presently spans over 1,200 acres stretching the length of the Anacostia River from the Frederick Douglass Memorial Bridge north approximately five miles to the District/Maryland line. It includes Langston Golf Course and River Terrace and it is one of Washington, D.C.’s largest and most important parks with diverse recreational opportunities, natural areas, and historic sites.

This multi-use recreation park, with shoreline access, skating pavilion, ball fields, basketball and tennis courts, and picnic areas attracts people from throughout the city and across the nation. The shorelines also provide opportunities for river access, fishing, birding, and just relaxing.

The park is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. It is closed Monday through Saturday from December 25.

The park is open to the public daily, from dawn to dusk.

Capitol Hill Parks

When L’Enfant submitted his design for the national capital of Washington in 1790, a system of grand avenues, public buildings, and grounds dominated the overall plan. Many of the parks, medians, circles, and squares of Capitol Hill evolved from this plan and its subsequent modification in 1901 by the McMillan Commission.

The CAPITOL HILL PARKS, located between 2nd Streets NE and SE and the Anacostia River, provide elegant and open greenspace within the city of Washington for relaxation, aesthetic enjoyment, and historic commemoration.

Included in this group are: Lincoln, Folger, Stanton, and Marion Parks; Maryland Avenue Triangles; Pennsylvania Avenue Medians, Squares and Triangles, including Seward Square; Potomac Avenue Metro Station; Twining Square, and other inner city green spaces.

Fort Dupont Park

FORT DUPONT is the largest of the Fort Circle Parks. Here you will find earthwork fortifications used in the Civil War in defense of Washington, D.C.

Today, Fort Dupont Park is a heavily wooded, 400-acre site that protects an important sub-watershed of the Anacostia River and contains tennis and basketball courts, softball fields, and a community ice-rink. Its rolling wooded hills are an important visual element of the nation’s capital and provides an attractive setting for community garden plots, frolicking children, and an annual summer concert series. There you will also find picnicking areas and hiking and biking trails.

The park is open to the public daily, from dawn to dusk.

Fort Washington Park

FORT WASHINGTON is a 19th century fortification that was built to defend the nation’s capital from naval attacks. It remained active through 1946.

Tours of the fort are available daily. Picnicking areas, river views and access, extensive woodlands, and hiking trails are also available.

Fort Washington Park hosts a number of special events annually including Civil War artillery firing demonstrations and living history programs.

The fort is closed on Thanksgiving Day, December 25, and January 1. The grounds are open from sunrise to sunset and the fort and visitor center are open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Memorial Day through Labor Day and from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Labor Day through Memorial Day. An entrance fee is charged from April through October.

Oxon Cove Park

Located in the District of Columbia and Prince George’s County, Maryland, OXON COVE PARK features the 63-acre OXON HILL FARM, a working historic farm. Visitors can explore the early 19th century farm house (Mount Welby) and other historic barns, stables, and outbuildings. Animals, crops, orchards, and gardens are also found on the farm site. The park’s 485 acres provide recreational opportunities for hiking, biking, and picnicking, and are an excellent resource for environmental studies and wildlife observing.

The farm is open to the public daily from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. except January 1, Thanksgiving Day, and December 25. Reservations are required for special programs, education offerings, and popular activities such as milking cows, gathering eggs, and wagon rides.

Piscataway Park

SITUATED along the Potomac River in Maryland, PISCATAWAY PARK was created to preserve the historic views from Mount Vernon, home to President George Washington, to Fort Washington. Piscataway Park is a natural area and is home to bald eagles, beavers, fox, osprey, and many other species. The forested coves and tidal marshes located along the Piscataway Park shoreline are a great place for exploring by canoe. Piscataway Park is a beautiful place for picnicking and fishing. National Colonial Farm, located in the park, is an outdoor living history museum founded by the Accokeek Foundation. The park offers a public fishing pier, two boardwalks over freshwater tidal wetlands, and a variety of nature trails.

The park is open from dawn to dusk.

Sewall Belmont House and Museum

The SEWALL-BELMONT HOUSE AND MUSEUM is the site where suffrage leader Alice Paul and the women of the National Woman’s Party led the fight for equal rights for women in the United States and throughout the world. The National Woman’s Party was instrumental in gaining the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution giving women the right to vote.

Alice Paul, the author of the Equal Rights Amendment, lived and worked in the house for many years. The library, which contains an unparalleled collection of suffrage and equal rights artifacts and documents, is dedicated to the history of the party and the history of the suffrage and equal rights movements.

Kenilworth Aquatic Gardens

KENILWORTH AQUATIC GARDENS is the only National Park Service site devoted to the cultivation of flowering aquatic plants. It is a 12-acre sanctuary that features serene ponds, flowering water lilies and lotus, as well as many species of birds and wildlife. The Aquatic Gardens’ Annual Waterlily and Asian Cultural Festival in July and the blooming season, attracts thousands of visitors. The visitor center is open daily from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., except January 1, Thanksgiving Day, and December 25.

KENILWORTH MARSH is a 77-acre freshwater tidal marsh that borders the Kenilworth Aquatic Gardens. The marsh includes 32-acres of marsh restored in the 1990s to provide habitat for a wide array of native wildlife and wetland plants. A boardwalk and trail from the Aquatic Gardens provide visitors access to various marsh zones and the Anacostia River.

Langston Golf Course

Named for John Mercer Langston, an African American elected to Congress in 1888, LANGSTON GOLF COURSE offers an 18-hole course, driving range, and clubhouse.

The course opened in 1939, as a 9-hole facility when very limited golfing facilities were available to African Americans. Nine additional holes were constructed in the 1950s. Although the layout and landscape has evolved over time, Langston Golf Course was placed on the National Register of Historic Places for its efforts to provide equal access during the era of racial segregation. Historically, it was a pioneer in establishing African American golf clubs and professional golfers.

Langston’s Pro Shop and snack bar are open from dawn to dusk year-round. The driving range is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily, except December 25.

Dear Visitor:

Welcome to Anacostia Park, one of Washington, D.C.'s largest multi-recreation parks, with shoreline access, a roller skating pavilion, ball fields, basketball, tennis courts, and picnic areas. Anacostia Park is known historically for the Na'cotchtanks Indians who were the primary residents along the eastern shore of the Anacostia River before 1670. The neighborhood of Anacostia was the home of the famed orator and abolitionist Frederick Douglass, and by 1932 Anacostia Park was occupied by World War I veterans who marched on Washington to demand the immediate payment of wartime bonus, better known as the "Bonus Marches." With such rich history, an excellent resource for environmental studies, and an annual visitation of over 1 million, we invite you to come and enjoy these opportunities for your family.

Remember, Anacostia Park is only one of the sites within National Capital Parks–East that offers great recreational opportunities for the entire family. So take the time to visit all 14 areas listed on pages four and five.
