Congratulations,
Superintendent Alex Romero!

As of July 18, 2010, Alex Romero will assume his new role as Superintendent of National Capital Parks–East! Superintendent Alex Romero is a 19-year veteran of the National Park Service, with 15 years of supervisory/management experience in both the Northeast and National Capital Regions. Superintendent Romero has served in positions of progressively increasing responsibility ranging Public Health Sanitarian to District Manager of Breezy Point District at Gateway National Recreation Area, to Assistant Superintendent at Prince William Forest Park, to his current position, serving since late 2004 as the Deputy Superintendent of National Capital Parks–East. He also successfully completed a 120 day detail as Acting Superintendent at National Capital Parks–East, December 2009–March 2010.

Congratulations to Alex, the park employees, volunteers, and partners as National Capital Parks-East transitions to new leadership!
Safety In Your National Parks

ON THE ROAD

• Buckle Up! Seat belts are required.
• Slow down at dawn and dusk.
• Watch out for pedestrians, other motorists, and animals on roadways.
• Pedestrians have the right-of-way.
• Follow park speed limits.
• Be aware that traffic in parks can be very heavy so be patient. Always yield to emergency vehicles.
• Always keep watch for bicyclists, especially when turning, merging, changing lanes, or entering intersections.

FORTIFICATIONS

• Climbing any part of the fortifications is unsafe and can damage them. Many historic surfaces are uneven and some areas can be slippery when wet. Please stay off earthworks and watch your children.

SUN AND HEAT PROTECTION

• Apply a broad spectrum sunscreen with a Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of at least 15. Reapply sunscreen every 2 hours when outdoors, even on cloudy days.
• Drink plenty of water to avoid dehydration.

HIKING PRECAUTIONS

• Hiking off trails is unsafe, damages vegetation, causes erosion, and creates unsightly paths.
• Choose hiking trails suitable to your physical condition.
• If you plan to hike solo, give your intended route and length of trip to a park ranger or friend.
• Wear proper clothing. Hiking boots should be sturdy with good traction and ankle support and should be well broken in ahead of time.
• Bring bottled water.

ALWAYS PUT OUT YOUR FIRES!

• Fires left unattended are dangerous. Be sure your fire is put out completely with water before leaving the area.

FLORA AND FAUNA

• Poison Ivy can be found in many of the parks.
• White-tail deer live in the same places as the ticks which can cause Lyme disease, check yourself after walking the trails.
• Do not approach the wildlife.

Become a Volunteer!

Please consider being a VIP and join in with the other National Park Service Volunteers-In-Parks that serve our community across the country.

National Capital Parks–East is one of Washington, D.C.’s largest multi-recreation parks. It is rich in history, communities, and culture. It has many crown jewels of the NPS and has more than 1,200 acres to share. It includes, Frederick Douglass National Historic Site, the Mary McLeod Bethune Council House National Historic Site, Oxon Cove Park, Greenbelt Park, Fort Washington Park, Kenilworth Aquatic Gardens, and many more.

Anyone can sign up to be a volunteer and help care for these special places. As a volunteer, you preserve the special legacy that surrounds our special places. By volunteering with us you help to keep our resources safe and help us connect with diverse audiences for future generations.

As a VIP you will work side by side with other National Park Service staff and volunteers.

Contact us today and have a great park experience!

Not all the fun things happening at the various units of National Capital Parks–East are planned special events. Pictured is an impromptu ball game in Anacostia Park.
Anacostia Park
Anacostia Park presently spans over 1,200 acres stretching the length of the Anacostia River from the Frederick Douglass Memorial Bridge north approximately five miles to the District/Maryland line. It includes Langston Golf Course and River Terrace and it is one of Washington, D.C.’s largest and most important parks with diverse recreational opportunities, natural areas, and historic sites.

This multi-use recreation park, with shoreline access, skating pavilion, ball fields, basketball and tennis courts, and picnic areas attracts people from throughout the city and across the nation. The shorelines also provide opportunities for river access, fishing, birding, and just relaxing!

The park is open daily from 9 am to 5 pm except January 1, Thanksgiving Day, and December 25.

Capitol Hill Parks
When L’Enfant submitted his design for the national capital of Washington in 1790, a system of grand avenues, public buildings, and grounds dominated the overall plan. Many of the parks, medians, circles, and squares of Capitol Hill evolved from this plan and its subsequent modification in 1901 by the McMillan Commission.

The Capitol Hill Parks, located between 2nd Streets NE and SE and the Anacostia River, provide elegant and open green space within the city of Washington for relaxation, aesthetic enjoyment, and historic commemoration.

Included in this group are: Lincoln, Folger, Stanton, and Marion Parks; Maryland Avenue Triangles; Pennsylvania Avenue Medians, Squares and Triangles, including Seward Square; Potomac Avenue Metro Station; Twining Square, and other inner city green spaces.

Fort Circle Parks: Fort Dupont Park
Fort Dupont Park is the largest of the Fort Circle Parks. Here you will find earthwork fortifications used in the Civil War in defense of Washington, D.C.

Today, Fort Dupont Park is a heavily wooded, 400-acre site that protects an important sub-watershed of the Anacostia River and contains tennis and basketball courts, softball fields, and a community ice-rink. Its rolling wooded hills are an important visual element of the nation’s capital and provides an attractive setting for community garden plots, frolicking children, and an annual summer concert series. There you will also find picnicking areas and hiking and biking trails. The park is open to the public daily, from dawn to dusk.

Fort Washington Park
Fort Washington Park is a 19th century fortification that was built to defend the nation’s capital from naval attacks. It remained active through 1946.

Tours of the fort are available daily. Picnicking areas, river views and access, extensive woodlands, and hiking trails are also available.

Fort Washington Park hosts a number of special events annually including Civil War artillery firing demonstrations and living history programs.

The fort is closed on Thanksgiving Day, December 25, and January 1. The grounds are open from sunrise to sunset and the fort and visitor center are open from 9 am to 5 pm Memorial Day through Labor Day and from 9 am to 4:30 pm Labor Day through Memorial Day. An entrance fee is charged from April through October.

Oxon Cove Park
Oxon Hill Farm
Located in the District of Columbia and Prince George’s County, Maryland, Oxon Cove Park features the 63-acre Oxon Hill Farm, a working historic farm. Visitors can explore the early 19th century farm house (Mount Welby) and other historic barns, stables, and outbuildings. Animals, crops, orchards, and gardens are also found on the farm site. The park’s 485 acres provide recreational opportunities for hiking, biking, and picnicking, and are an excellent resource for environmental studies and wildlife observing.

The farm is open to the public daily from 8 am to 4:30 pm except January 1, Thanksgiving Day, and December 25. Reservations are required for special programs, education offerings, and popular activities such as milking cows, gathering eggs, and wagon rides.

Piscataway Park
Situated along the Potomac River in Maryland, Piscataway Park was created to preserve the historic views from Mount Vernon, home to President George Washington, to Fort Washington. Piscataway Park is a natural area and is home to bald eagles, beavers, fox, osprey, and many other species. The forested coves and tidal marshes located along the Piscataway Park shoreline are a great place for exploring by canoe. Piscataway Park is a beautiful place for picnicking and fishing. National Colonial Farm, located in the park, is an outdoor living history museum founded by the Accokeek Foundation. The park offers a public fishing pier, two boardwalks over freshwater tidal wetlands, and a variety of nature trails.

The park is open from dawn to dusk.

Sewall-Belmont House and Museum
The Sewall-Belmont House and Museum is the site where suffrage leader Alice Paul and the women of the National Woman’s Party led the fight for equal rights for women in the United States and throughout the world. The National Woman’s Party was instrumental in gaining the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution giving women the right to vote.

Alice Paul, the author of the Equal Rights Amendment, lived and worked in the house for many years. The library, which contains an unparalleled collection of suffrage and equal rights artifacts and documents, is dedicated to the history of the party and the history of the suffrage and equal rights movements. Langston Golf Course
Named for John Mercer Langston, an African American elected to Congress in 1888, Langston Golf Course offers an 18-hole course, driving range, and clubhouse.

The course opened in 1939 as a 9-hole facility when very limited golfing facilities were available to African Americans. Nine additional holes were constructed in the 1950s. Although the layout and landscape has evolved over time, Langston Golf Course was placed on the National Register of Historic Places for its efforts to provide equal access during the era of racial segregation. Historically, it was a pioneer in establishing African American golf clubs and professional golfers.

Langston's Pro Shop and snack bar are open from dawn to dusk year round. The driving range is open from 9 am to 5 pm daily, except December 25.

Carter G. Woodson Home NHS
Imagine a world in which people like you have no written history, or that which has been written is incomplete or distorted. Before Dr. Carter Godwin Woodson (1875–1950) began his work, there was very little information, and much of that stereotypical misinformation, about the lives and history of Americans of African descent.

The Carter G. Woodson Home at 1538 9th Street, NW in Washington, DC, was Dr. Woodson’s home from 1922 until his death in 1950. He directed the operations of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History and pursued his own studies of African American history from there.

The home was acquired by the National Park Service in 2005. The site is closed to the public. The planning process is underway to restore the home and renovate the adjacent buildings into a visitor and research center.

Suitland Parkway
Suitland Parkway begins at the Frederick Douglass Memorial Bridge (South Capitol Street Bridge) in D.C., and extends 9.35 miles to Andrews Air Force Base. The Maryland portion of the parkway is under the jurisdiction of National Capital Parks-East.

The Parkway was constructed during the early months of World War II to serve as a rapid transit road between Camp Springs (now Andrews Air Force Base) in Prince George’s County, Maryland, to Bolling Field Air Force Base, and ultimately the Pentagon and downtown Washington, D.C.

Today the Parkway is used by visitors and commuters approaching the nation's capital from the east. Government officials, military personnel, and foreign dignitaries who fly into and out of Andrews Air Force Base frequently use the Parkway. The Parkway corridor is often the first image foreign heads of state get of the United States.

Anacostia Riverwalk Trail through Kenilworth Park.

Washington, D.C.—The National Park Service, in collaboration with the District of Columbia Department of Transportation (DDOT), is proposing to construct a portion of the Anacostia Riverwalk Trail through Kenilworth Park. The proposed section of trail is located east of the Anacostia River in the northeast section of the District and extends into Maryland along the Anacostia River, connecting to the existing MD-NCPC trail from historic Bladensburg Waterfront. This trail would link with other sections of the Anacostia Riverwalk Trail, as well as the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission’s Bladensburg Waterfront trail, and points beyond. The proposed trail is a key component of the Anacostia Waterfront Initiative (AWI), which is the Framework Plan for revitalizing the District’s waterfront areas. The AWI is the product of the commitment made by twenty Federal and local agencies to cooperatively develop a vision for the waterfront.

In 2004, NPS completed an Environmental Assessment that analyzed all three sections of the proposed Anacostia Riverwalk Trail. Since 2004, the proposed trails for sections one and two have moved forward. The alignment of this third section of the trail has since been revised, offering an additional trail alignment option. The proposed alignment is the result of an effort to provide a better visitor experience by reducing trail alignments on city streets and directing more of the trail through parkland.

Anacostia Watershed Youth Ambassador Program

The Anacostia Watershed Youth Ambassador Program is an education and public outreach program designed to raise awareness about watershed issues in the Anacostia Watershed. This is a partnership with the National Park Service, Bank of America, the National Park Foundation, Earth Conservation Corps and Alice Ferguson Foundation. Through this program, youth are placed in watershed management areas in Washington D.C. to serve their local communities. By putting youth in the position to educate their communities about the environmental issues of the Anacostia Watershed, they will be educated and taking ownership of their neighborhood. This exercise of social justice and resource stewardship will help contribute to the character building of the youth involved.

There are three main objectives to the program. The first objective of the program is to reach out to neighboring communities around the Anacostia Watershed to share information on environmental issues and advise them on what they can do at their homes and in their communities to reduce their impact on the environment and to protect the Anacostia Watershed. The second objective is to educate participants about factors that adversely impact the Anacostia River Watershed and the environment. Lastly, the third objective is to provide a life changing experience or behavior change with participants engaged in the outreach program.

The service project will be held on Tuesday, July 20, 2010. 250 youth from around the country who are participating in the Bank of America Youth Leadership Program will be coming to Washington D.C. for the event. The day will consist of learning activities, motivational speakers and reflection. We will have ten high school Anacostia Watershed Ambassadors who will be managed by two college interns and a Teacher-Ranger-Teacher (TRT). These students will be engaging in peer education and the preliminary work for the service project. The TRT will be overseeing all the students as well as working on the Anacostia Watershed curriculum. The structure of this program allows for local youth to peer-educate youth from across the nation and engage in a dialogue concerning their generation’s role in natural resource conservation and environmental protection.
