He left the Chisos camp about 9:30 a.m. and drove to the quicksilver mining camp at Terlingua. On the way I took a picture looking north showing the Tornillo slabs bounded by a stream terrace. About six miles before reaching Terlingua I noted a fold northeast of the road involving the Tornillo slabs and certain sills intruded into them. This fold might be sufficient to retain oil although I consider the possibility remote.

We then drove to La Fija where we again crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico at a point at the northwest end of the limestones escarpment through which Santa Elena Canyon has been cut. The crossing consists of two fords as there is an island in the middle of the river. We spent about two hours in making the crossing assisted by three Mexicans and four mules, with a number of other Mexicans serving us as audience and a small boy of six demons nightly about on a miniature pony to fetch ropes and other supplies.

From the crossing may be seen the distance an intrusive sill of igneous rock with the overlying bed of limestone well exposed. As we waited for the last car to be brought over, I climbed the terrace and took a picture of this igneous sill. As I came down from the terrace I found one of the Mexican ranch owners who had directed us at the crossing waiting for me on his horse. I accepted his invitation to mount behind him and he took me back to the ranch. It was an act of courtesy such as is typical of Mexico.

PREFACE

The National Park Service (NPS) Park History Program is pleased to present this revised finding aid for the records of the National Park Service (Record Group 79) at the National Archives at College Park, Maryland. The product of more than four years of records research and verification by archivist Renée M. Jaussaud, this finding aid updates Edward E. Hill’s 1966 Inventory of the Records of the National Park Service. It contains descriptions of all records in the record group, which collectively represent more than 200 years of history, from 1785 to 2002. The finding aid includes an updated administrative history of the NPS, more than 130 new series descriptions, and more than 40 appendices, many of them detailed file title lists. Also included is a file title list of records relating to the NPS in the Central Classified Files, 1907-1972, of the Records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior (Record Group 48), which document administrative oversight of the Service by that office.

Significant new records described in this finding aid include the Washington Office Administrative Files, 1949-1971; the Superintendents’ Annual Narrative Reports, 1980-2001; and records concerning budget and accounting, program coordination, management analysis, the National Park System Advisory Board, the Mission 66 Program, and the Job Corps Center Program. The revised inventory also includes series descriptions for the Office of Design and Construction, Division of Land Acquisition, the Office of Archeology and Historic Preservation, and other organizational units.

Many people helped carry this ambitious project through to completion. NPS Records Officer Michael Grimes worked closely with archivist Renée Jaussaud and archives technicians Carolyn Bowers and Matt Kasprzak to produce the revised inventory. Lise Sajewski copyedited the manuscript in record time. Susan Ferentinos, public history manager at the Organization of American Historians (OAH)—the Park History Program’s cooperating partner on this and many other projects—administered the inventory project and helped NPS get the word out about this new research and reference tool. The National Archives and Records Administration, specifically Ann Cummings, supervisory archivist for processing, deserves special thanks for their enthusiastic support and assistance over the last several years.

Record Group 79 at the National Archives contains something for everyone interested in the history of the National Park Service and the National Park System. NPS staff, archivists, historians, and local and family history enthusiasts will all find something of value in this revised finding aid.

INTRODUCTION

This inventory is an updated version of the Inventory of the Records of the National Park Service published in 1966. Insofar as possible, the original language and inventory format have been retained. Many textual series descriptions were revised by adding lists of sites or subjects, either as part of the description or as a file title list in an appendix. Still picture descriptions now include series designations (for example, entry 185, Photographs of State Parks, is designated 79-SP). This designation is used to provide for specific item citations. Cartographic, motion picture, and sound recording series descriptions were revised to reflect accretions to the records. The large number of new series descriptions made it necessary to renumber the descriptive entries. Therefore, citations in published works that include the 1966 inventory entry numbers will not correspond to the entry numbers used in this inventory.

Records of the National Park Service accessioned by the National Archives after the 1966 inventory was compiled are described in this inventory. They include the (Washington Office) Administrative Files, 1949-71; the Superintendents’ Annual Narrative Reports, 1980-2001; and records concerning budget and accounting matters, program coordination, management analysis, the National Park System Advisory Board, the Mission 66 Program, and the Job Corps Center Program. The revised inventory also includes series description for several new organizational units—the Office of Design and Construction, Division of Land Acquisition, and Office of Archeology and Historic Preservation. The records of the National Capital Region now include many new series such as subject files, land acquisition files relating to Recreational Demonstration Projects, and surveyors’ notebooks for the District of Columbia. The records of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company include four new series descriptions (entries, 240, 254, 290, and 301). The records of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission, Civil War Centennial Commission, Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commission, and the National Parks Centennial Commission are also new additions to this inventory. This inventory also includes four series entries for electronic records.

The records of Region 1 described in the 1966 inventory in entries 81-115 have been transferred to the National Archives Mid Atlantic Region (Philadelphia). Other records described in the 1966 inventory that have been transferred to the same National Archives facility are the records of Colonial National Historical Park (entry 104), records of the Yorktown National Cemetery (entries 105-113), records of the Petersburg National Battlefield (entries 114-115), and records of the Jamestown-Yorktown Celebration Commission (entry 327). The series descriptions of the transferred records appear in Appendix 46 in this inventory.

Agency charge-out cards (pink) are found throughout the files. These are not mentioned in the file title lists because it is not possible to determine if they are still valid or if the records are still charged out.

A file title list of records relating to the National Park Service in the Central Classified Files, 1907-72, of the Records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior (Record Group 48) appears as Appendix 45 in this inventory. These records document administrative oversight of the Service by the Office of the Secretary of the Interior.

Most of the file title lists that appear as appendixes in this inventory include the stack locations (row, compartment, shelf) of the boxes.

The National Park Service Inventory Project team is grateful for the support of the National Archives and Records Administration. Staff members Ann Cummings and Jimmy Rush provided supplies, work space, computer access, and other assistance.

ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

The National Park Service was established in the Department of the Interior by an act of August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535), and funds were provided for its operation by an act of April 17, 1917 (40 Stat. 20). It was charged with administering the national parks and monuments as well as the Hot Springs Reservation in Arkansas (made a national park in 1921). The 1916 act directed the National Park Service to promote and regulate the use of national parks, monuments, and similar reservations in order to “conserve the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wild life therein and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations.”
Before the establishment of the Service, park administration was under the direct supervision of the Secretary of the Interior. Most of the work was performed by the Patents and Miscellaneous Division until 1907 and thereafter by the Miscellaneous Section of Chief Clerk. On June 4, 1914, Mark Daniels was appointed General Superintendent and Landscape Engineer of the National Parks with headquarters in San Francisco. On December 10, 1915, Daniels was replaced by Robert B. Marshall, who was given the title Superintendent of National Parks with an office in Washington, D.C. Marshall resigned December 31, 1916, and was not replaced. Stephen T. Mather, who as Assistant to the Secretary of the Interior since January 1915 had been particularly concerned with the national parks, was appointed the first Director of the National Park Service in May 16, 1917.

An act of June 8, 1906 (34 Stat. 225), entitled “An Act for the Preservation of American Antiquities,” authorized the President to set apart by proclamation as national monuments lands owned or controlled by the United States containing “historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest.” Until 1933 such monuments were administered by the Secretary of the department which had jurisdiction over the areas concerned. Most monuments were administered by the Department of the Interior, but some were supervised by the Department of Agriculture and the War Department.

There has been some confusion in distinguishing between national parks and national monuments beyond the fact that national parks are established by act of Congress and national monuments by Presidential proclamation. The Park Service defines national parks as “spacious land areas essentially of primitive or wilderness character which contain scenery and natural wonders so outstanding in quality that their preservation intact has been provided for by their having been designated and set aside by the Federal Government for the benefit, enjoyment, and inspiration of the people.” It defines national monuments as “nationally significant landmarks, structures, objects, or areas of scientific or prehistoric interest so designated by the Federal Government for preservation and public use.” Typical national monuments are the Statue of Liberty, Fort Sumter, the Petrified Forest, and the Gila Cliff Dwellings.

In 1936 the National Park Service adopted the National Recreation Area concept as a guide for management of lands withdrawn around Lake Mead. This allowed for the formulation of specialized plans for facilities, recreational uses, and related regulations that were not normally accepted in other National Park System areas. In 1949 the term “National” was officially added to the titles of the recreational areas then in existence – Coulee Dam, Lake Mead, and Millerton Lake. Other national recreation areas were added later.

By Executive Order 6166 of June 10, 1933, the Service was expanded and redesignated the Office of National Parks, Buildings, and Reservations. An act of March 2, 1934 (48 Stat. 389), restored the name National Park Service. The expanded Service was in charge of the national monuments formerly administered by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture and the national monuments, national military parks, national battlefield parks and sites, and some national cemeteries formerly administered by the War Department. The Office of Public Buildings and Parks of the National Capital, the Arlington Memorial Bridge Commission, the Public Buildings Commission, the National Memorial Commission, and the Rock Creek and Potomac Parkway Commission were all abolished and their functions transferred to the Park Service. These changes put the Service in charge of all national parks and monuments and some other areas of historical significance, Federal parks and most Federal buildings in the District of Columbia, and some Federal buildings outside the District. In 1939 the responsibility for public buildings was transferred to the new Public Buildings Administration and the Federal Works Agency. The parks in the District of Columbia and surrounding areas that are designated as National Capital Parks are still administered by the National Park Service.

The first public park, Yellowstone, was established by an act of March 1, 1872 (17 Stat. 32). The other original National Parks in existence in 1933 were: Acadia, established 1919; Bryce Canyon, established in 1928; Carlsbad Caverns, established in 1930; Crater Lake, established in 1902; General Grant, established in 1890; Glacier, established in 1910; Grand Canyon, established in 1919; Grand Teton, established in 1929; Great Smoky Mountains, established for administration and protection in 1930, fully established in 1934; Hawaii, established in 1916; Hot Springs, established in 1921; Lassen Volcanic, established in 1916; Mesa Verde, established in 1906; Mount McKinley, established in 1917; Mount Rainier, established in 1899; Platt, established in 1902; Rocky Mountain, established in 1915; Sequoia, established in 1890; Sullys Hill, established in 1904; Wind Cave, established in 1903; Yosemite, established in 1890; and Zion, established in 1919.
National monuments under the supervision of the Department of the Interior and administered by the National Park Service in 1933 were Arches, Aztec Ruins, Capulin Mountain, Casa Grande, Chaco Canyon, Colorado, Craters of the Moon, Devils Tower, Dinosaur, El Morro, Fossil Cycad, George Washington’s Birthplace, Glacier Bay, Gran Quivira, Hovenweep, Katmai, Lewis and Clark Cavern, Montezuma Castle, Muir Woods, Natural Bridge, Navajo, Petrified Forest, Pinnacles, Pipe Spring, Rainbow Bridge, Scotts Bluff, Shoshone Caverns, Sitka, Tumacacori, Verendrye, Wupatki, and Yucca House.

National monuments transferred from the Department of Agriculture (administered by the Forest Service) in 1933 were Chiricahua, Devils Postpile, Gila Cliff Dwellings, Holy Cross, Jewel Cave, Lava Beds, Lehman Caves, Mount Olympus, Old Kasaan, Oregon Caves, Saguaro, Sunset Crater, Timpanogos Cave, Tonto, Walnut Canyon, and Wheeler.

National monuments transferred from the administration of the War Department in 1933 were Abraham Lincoln’s Birthplace, Big Hole Battlefield, Cabrillo, Castle Pinckney, Chalmette, Fort Marion, Fort Matanzas, Fort McHenry, Fort Niagara, Fort Pulaski, Fort Wood, Kennesaw Mountain, Kitty Hawk, Meriwether Lewis, Mound City Group, and White Plains Battlefield.

An act of August 21, 1935 (49 Stat. 666), provided for the establishment of national historic sites, including some owned by private organizations. (The act also established an Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings, and Monuments.) Other types of areas that have been established under the supervision of the Service are: national historical parks, national memorials, a national memorial park, national parkways, national recreation areas, and national seashores.

The National Park Service, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, is responsible for all aspects of park administration. These include the establishment and enforcement of regulations for use, protection from fire and other dangers, regulations of concession operators, investigations and recommendation of proposed new areas, land acquisition (including the extinguishment of private land titles to land within park boundaries), and construction and maintenance of roads and trails, buildings, and other structures. Increasing emphasis has been placed on research and educational work, known collectively as “interpretation.” This work includes the management of guided tours and lectures, the marking of nature trails, the maintenance of museums and libraries, and the preparation of publications and studies in history, archeology, natural history, and wildlife.

During the Depression years the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) and other emergency agencies provided funds for work in national park areas. The National Park Service was given technical supervision of CCC work in State and local park areas. A Park Service official served as the Interior Department representative on the CCC Advisory Council. In 1964 the National Park Service began operation of Job Corps Conservation Centers authorized by the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 (78 Stat. L. 508).

In 1934 the recreational demonstration project program for the development of submarginal lands into recreation areas was initiated by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration. In 1935 the land-acquisition aspect of this program was taken over by the Resettlement Administration, and the Park Service assumed the work of developing the areas. By an executive order of November 14, 1936, the Service was given full control of the program. Later, under the provisions of an act of June 6, 1942 (56 Stat. 326), most of the recreational demonstration projects and land were transferred to the States.
Other programs in which the Service participated were the Park, Parkway, and Recreation-Area Study, the Historic Sites Survey, the Historic American Buildings Survey, and the Archeological Salvage Program. During World War II the Service operated Civilian Public Service Camps for conscientious objectors. It has continued to cooperate with and assist the States in the development of public park and recreation-area facilities.

At first the central office of the National Park Service was small. It included the Director, and Assistant (later Associate) Director, a Chief Clerk, and an administrative and clerical staff. A position of Field Assistant to the Director was established in 1920 and redesignated Assistant Director (Field) in 1926. That position existed until 1929 when the incumbent, Horace M. Albright, became Director of the National Park Service and was not replaced as Assistant Director (Field).

The Engineering Division, established in 1917, was the first of several technical divisions. Others were the Landscape Engineering (later Landscape Architecture) Division (1918), Educational Division (1925), Forestry Division (1927), and Wildlife Division (1929). The names given are those by which the divisions were most commonly known; there were changes in their exact designations. The headquarters of these divisions were located in different cities and parks in the West; and some of them were moved frequently. In 1927 a Field Headquarters was established in San Francisco to coordinate the work of the field divisions. All of the division headquarters were then located either in San Francisco or nearby Berkeley. Beginning in 1930, eastern offices were established for some of the divisions to supervise work in the eastern parks. In the same year the transfer of supervision of technical activities from the Field Headquarters to the central office in Washington was begun.

There were some specialized branches in the central office before 1930. They included a unit concerned principally with administrative matters that became the Branch of Operations in 1930; a legal unit that developed into the Office of the Chief Counsel; and a Branch of Lands responsible chiefly for investigations of proposed park areas. The last-named was given many additional duties concerning emergency programs of the Depression, and its name was changed several times. In this inventory it is called the Branch of Recreation, Land Planning, and State Cooperation. The Branch of Research and Education was established in the Washington office in 1930 (its name was also changed several times); and the Educational Division and Wildlife Division in Berkeley was subordinated to it. In 1933 the headquarters of the Branch of Plans and Design, successor to the Landscape Architecture Division, was moved from San Francisco to Washington, D.C. In November 1933 a Branch of Forestry was established in Washington. The use of the term “Field Headquarters” for the San Francisco office was discontinued in 1935. When the Chief Engineer, head of the Branch of Engineering (formerly the Engineering Division), moved to Washington in 1937, the transfer process was completed. Duties of the technical divisions in the field that had not been transferred to Washington were assigned to the regional offices that were then established.

The organization of the Washington office has undergone many changes. The position of Associate Director was created in 1928. New branches and divisions were established for new or expanded activities. Until 1938 heads of major branches were usually designated Assistant Directors of the Service; thereafter they were usually called supervisors or chiefs.

In 1943 the position of Assistant Director was reestablished as part of the Service organization in the Chicago Office where the headquarters operation was moved during World War II. A second Assistant Director’s position was created in 1949. In 1954 the divisions in the Central Office were consolidated into five divisions: Administrative, Operations, Design and Construction, Interpretation, and Cooperative Activities. Administration and Operations were each supervised by an Assistant Director. The remaining divisions were supervised by Division Chiefs. In 1964 the number of Assistant Directors was increased to six. Their areas of responsibility were Administration, Cooperative Activities, Design and Construction, Operations, Resources Studies, and Specialized Services. In 1967 the first Deputy Director was named. There have been various consolidations, separations, and name changes since that time, however the organization has remained on a functional basis.

In 1937 four regional office were set up in Richmond, Virginia (Region 1), Omaha, Nebraska (Region 2), Oklahoma City, Oklahoma (Region 3; moved to Santa Fe, New Mexico in 1939), and San Francisco, California (Region 4)—each a small-scale replica of Washington headquarters, with a regional director, associate director, and regional branch chiefs. This arrangement has lasted. In 1955 a fifth regional office was established in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and in 1962 the National Capital Parks was made the sixth region.
In 1962 the regional offices were designated by their geographic areas: Southeast (Richmond), Midwest (Omaha), Southwest (Santa Fe), Western (San Francisco), Northeast (Philadelphia), and National Capital (Washington). A Pacific Northwest Region was established in 1970. In 1973 the Rocky Mountain and North Atlantic Regions were formed. The Alaska Region was formed in 1980. In 1995 the ten regions were restructured into seven field areas. In 1997 the field areas were redesignated regions. A detailed account of the development of the regional structure of the National Park Service is provided in Appendix 47 in this inventory.

Other major field offices established are those of the Office of Design and Construction, which opened field offices in 1954 in San Francisco (Western) and Philadelphia (Eastern). These offices became part of the Planning and Service Centers that were established in 1966.

In 1966 National Park Service field offices were established. The Seattle Field Office under the supervision of the Superintendent of Mount Rainier National Park; the Portland Field Office under the supervision of the Western Regional Office; the Los Angeles Field Office under the supervision of the Superintendent of Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks, and the Denver Field Office under the supervision of the Superintendent of Rocky Mountain National Park. In 1967 the Salt Lake City Field Office was established under the supervision of the Superintendent of Canyonlands National Park and the Great Lakes Area Field Office was established under the supervision of the Northeast Regional Office. The New England Field Area Office was established under the supervision of the Northeast Region in 1969.

Other field units were also including Archeological Centers, Training Centers, Museum Laboratories, and Cluster Offices.

In 1939 the work and personnel of the Wildlife Division were transferred from the Service to the Bureau of Fisheries and the Bureau of Biological Survey that were consolidated in 1940 to form the Fish and Wildlife Service. The Park Service has, however, continued to engage in wildlife work.

As a wartime measure, from August 1942 until October 1947, the central office of the Service was located in Chicago. A liaison office, with the Associate Director in charge, was maintained in Washington.

Superintendents were in charge of the individual parks and for a time custodians were in charge of most monuments. In time the title Custodian was discontinued. After World War II Superintendents were in charge of National Park System areas. Park rangers are responsible for protection against fire and other dangers and for the enforcement of park regulations. When appropriate, historians, naturalists, engineers, or other technical personnel are assigned to individual areas. From 1917 to 1937 park superintendents were responsible only to the Director of the Service. Since 1937 they have been responsible to the appropriate regional director. Occasionally several park areas were placed under one superintendent, who was designated as coordinating superintendent.

The records described in this inventory are those of the National Park Service that were in the National Archives facility at College Park, Maryland, on December 31, 2006. They are records of the Washington Office of the National Park Service. The records are designated as Record Group 79, Records of the National Park Service. Included are records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior relating to national parks and monuments, 1872-1916; records of the War Department relating to areas transferred to the Park Service; general records of the Service; financial records; records of several officials; records of the Office of the Chief Counsel; records of some the branches and other administrative units; and the National Capital Region; records of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company and its predecessor, the Potomac Company, that were transferred to the Service after the Federal Government bought the canal in 1938; records of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission; records of the Commission for the Celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of John Marshall; records of the Battle of New Orleans Sesquicentennial Celebration Commission; records of the Civil War Centennial Commission; records of the Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commission; and records of the National Park Service Centennial Commission. Also included are cartographic and photographic records; sound recordings; and digital or electronic records maintained apart from the textual records. Many records of regional offices and other field offices are kept in the National Archives regional centers.

There are related records in other record groups. In Record Group 48, Records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior, are additional records for the period from 1872 until 1917, when the Secretary had immediate responsibility for park administration, and for the period since 1917, when the Secretary has had supervisory control over the Park Service. War Department records relating to the use of troops in national parks until 1919 and the administration of areas transferred to the National Park Service in 1933 are in Record Group 77, Records of the Office of the Chief of Engineers; Record Group 92, Records of the Office of the Quartermaster General; Record Group 94, Records of the Adjutant General’s Office; Record Group 98, Records of United States Army Commands; Record Group 107, Records of the Office of the Secretary of War; and Record Group 153, Records of the Office of The Judge Advocate General (Army).

In Record Group 49, Records of the Bureau of Land Management, are records of the former General Land Office relating to park lands. In Record Group 42, Records of the Office of Public Buildings and Grounds, are records of the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks of the National Capital and its predecessors and of commissions that were merged with the National Park Service in 1933. Records concerning the administration of public buildings by the National Park Service, 1933-39, are in Record Group 121, Records of the Public Buildings Service. Records concerning the activities of the Park Service in the District of Columbia are in Record Group 66, Records of the Commission of Fine Arts, and in Record Group 328, Records of the National Capital Planning Commission. Records of the Historic American Buildings Survey (HABS)/Historic American Engineering Record (HAER) Division, 1928-97, are in Record Group 515. Original drawings and related materials of the division are in the Library of Congress.

Records relating to programs conducted in cooperation with other agencies are in the following record groups: Record Group 22, Records of the Fish and Wildlife Service; Record Group 30, Records of the Bureau of Public Roads; Record Group 35, Records of the Civilian Conservation Corps; Record Group 57, Records of the Geological Survey; Record Group 69, Records of the Work Projects Administration; Record Group 90, Records of the Public Health Service; Record Group 95, Records of the Forest Service; Record Group 114, Records of the Natural Resources Conservation Service; Record Group 115, Records of the Bureau of Reclamation; Record Group 96, Records of the Farmers Home Administration; Record Group 135, Records of the Public Works Administration; and Record Group 187, Records of the National Resources Planning Board.

Records relating to legislation concerning the Park Service are in Record Group 46, Records of the United States Senate, and in Record Group 233, Records of the United States House of Representatives. Fiscal records concerning park administration are in Record Group 39, Records of the Bureau of Accounts (Treasury), and in Record Group 217, Records of the United States General Accounting Office.

In the 1966 inventory the entries for cartographic records were prepared by Laura E. Kelsay. The entries for still pictures are based on information supplied by John E. Maddox and those for motion pictures and sound recordings, by Thomas A. Devan. New and revised non-textual entries in the 2007 revised inventory were prepared with the assistance of Richard Smith for cartographic records, Edward McCarter for still pictures, and Daniel Rooney and Carrie Goeringer for motion pictures and sound recordings. The project team members who compiled many of the files title lists and aided in other descriptive work were Matthew J. Kasprzak and Carolyn M. Bowers.

INVENTORY

Described below, in entries 1-4, are records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior relating to the administration of parks and monuments before the establishment of the National Park Service. They are records that were transferred to the National Park Service but were kept apart from the records created by the Service. Other records of the Office of the Secretary were merged with the records of the Park Service. Most important of those are the records, 1907-16, removed from the Central Classified Files of the Office of the Secretary which are now in equivalent series of records of the National Park Service (see entries 9 and 10). Other records, chiefly copies of letters sent, 1872-1907, which could not be easily segregated are in Record Group 48, Records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior.

Arranged alphabetically by name of park and thereunder chronologically by date of receipt, although some records on a particular subject or, infrequently, from a particular source are grouped together. There are records for the following parks for the years indicated: Crater Lake National Park, 1902-07; Hot Springs Reservation, 1877-1907; Mesa Verde National Park, 1906-07; Mount Rainier National Park, 1900-1907; Platt National Park (Sulphur Springs Reservation), 1901-07; Sequoia and General Grant National Parks, 1890-1907; Sully’s Hill Park, 1904-06; Wind Cave National Park, 1899-1907; Yellowstone National Park, 1872-1907; and Yosemite National Park, 1890-1907. For some parks a few documents are dated earlier or later than the years indicated. At the end of the series are some records relating to the Casa Grande Ruins (including monthly reports up to 1915), various national monuments, proposed parks and monuments, antiquities, and other subjects.

Letters received mainly by the Patents and Miscellaneous Divisions of the Office of the Secretary, but including some received by the Lands and Railroads, Indian Territory, and other divisions. Included also, usually as enclosures, are maps, plans, specifications, contracts, leases, bonds, bids, petitions, affidavits, memorandums, copies of letters sent, photographs, newspaper clippings, printed documents, estimates, vouchers, receipts, payrolls, financial statements, and other records. Most of the letters are from park superintendents, but there are also letters from the President, Members of Congress, the War Department, the General Land Office, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the Department of Agriculture, the Geological Survey, forest rangers, special investigators, members of commissions, residents in and near park areas, concession operators and applicants for concessions, attorneys, applicants for employment, members of conservation societies, and others. The letters concern establishment of parks and related legislation; appropriations; rules and regulations; surveys and boundaries; construction, maintenance, use, and management of facilities; concessions to private operators; fire control; protection of animals and scenic attractions; intruders on park lands; claims of persons to land or other resources in park areas; investigations; administrative matters; and many other subjects. For some parks there are subjects of special importance, such as protection of the buffalo at Yellowstone Park and the use of water from Yosemite Park by the city of San Francisco. Most of the letters have an endorsement on the back or on a cover sheet giving information about the letter and the action taken on it.

Except during the earliest years, letters were assigned file numbers by the divisions of the Office of the Secretary that handled them. Usually such numbers were assigned in order of receipt, beginning again each year, without subject or other breakdown. Beginning in July 1905 the Patents and Miscellaneous Division numbered letters relating to parks and reservations separately. Only a small proportion of the file numbers in any set were assigned to the letters relating to one park, however. Some of the letters relating to Yellowstone National Park have been reproduced by the National Archives as part of Microfilm Publication 62.

For registers and an index to letters received by the Patents and Miscellaneous Division concerning parks and reservations beginning in July 1905, see entries 2 and 3. Earlier letters received concerning parks and reservations were not registered and indexed separately, and the registers and indexes for them are among the records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior in the National Archives (Record Group 48). The record copies of letters sent relating to parks are also among the records of the Office of the Secretary; they are in bound volumes and could not be segregated easily. Beginning about June 1907, the Office of the Secretary filed both incoming and outgoing correspondence under a central filing system. Records filed under this system that later were transferred to the National Park Service are described in entry 9. Other correspondence of the Office of the Secretary relating to national parks before the National Park Service was established is included in the records of the Chief Clerk (entry 4).

2. INDEX TO LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE PATENTS AND MISCELLANEOUS DIVISION RELATING TO NATIONAL PARKS AND RESERVATIONS. 1905-07. 1 vol. 3 in.

The entries are arranged alphabetically by name or subject.

Gives years and file numbers of letters received from individuals and offices and relating to certain subjects. For letters relating to specific parks and some other subjects there is a further breakdown by subject. Black ink is used for file references to letter writers and red ink, for references to subjects. For registers, see entry 3. For the letters, see entry 1. Before July 1, 1905, letters concerning parks and reservations were indexed as part of the miscellaneous letters received by the divisions, and those indexes are among the records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior now in the National Archives (Record Group 48).

3. REGISTERS OF LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE PATENTS AND MISCELLANEOUS DIVISION RELATING TO NATIONAL PARKS AND RESERVATIONS. 1905-07. 2 vols. 4 in.

Arranged chronologically by date of receipt. For an index, see entry 2. Most of the letters are among the records described in entry 1. Before July 1905 letters concerning parks and reservation were registered as miscellaneous letters received; and the registers are among the records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior now in the National Archives (Record Group 48).

Entries for individual letters give file number and heading, date of receipt, name and address of writer, date and subject of letter, indication of action taken, and often cross references to related records.

Arranged alphabetically by name of park of other area with some general records arranged by subject: General, Casa Grande National Monument, Glacier National Park, Hot Springs Reservation, Mesa Verde National Park, Mount Rainier National Park, Platt National Park (formerly Sulphur Springs Reservation), Sequoia and General Grant National Parks, Yellowstone National Park, Yosemite National Park, and Wind Cave National Park.

Correspondence, reports, memorandums, legal opinions, congressional documents, maps, and other records, mostly copies. Many of them relate to legislation and legal questions. For most of the records of the Office of the Secretary relating to national parks before the establishment of the National Park Service, see entries 1 and 9.

RECORDS OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT RELATING TO NATIONAL PARKS, 1892-1937

5. WAR DEPARTMENT RECORDS. 1892-1937. 36 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by name of area with some general records at the end, thereunder by office of origin, and thereunder according to the filing system of the office – usually a modification of the decimal classification system of the Quartermaster Corps. The subject areas are Abraham Lincoln National Park; Antietam Battlefield; Appomattox Court House Monument; Battle Ground National Cemetery; Big Hole Battlefield; Brices Cross Roads Monument; Cabrillo Monument; Castle Pickney National Monument; Chalmette National Monument; Chattanooga National Cemetery (1st set); Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park; Cowpens Battleground; Chattanooga National Cemetery (2nd set); Fort Donelson National Military Park; Fredericksburg National Cemetery; Gettysburg National Cemetery; Gettysburg National Military Park; Guilford Courthouse; Kennesaw Mountain National Monument; Kings Mountain National Military Park; Fort Marion National Monument; Fort Matanzas National Monument; Fort McHenry National Park; Meriwether Lewis National Inventory of the Records of the National Park Service

Monument; Monocacy Battlefield; Moore’s Creek National Military Park; Petersburg National Military Park; Poplar Grover National Cemetery; Rules and Regulations; Fort Pulaski National Monument; Shiloh National Cemetery; Statue of Liberty (microfilmed); Stones River National Military Park; Vicksburg National Cemetery; Vicksburg National Military Park; Wilderness National Military Park; White Plains Battlefield; Yorktown National Cemetery; National Military Parks, General File; National Monuments, General File; and New Eschota Memorial. Some War Department records have been interfiled with the Central Classified Files of the Park Service (entry 10). For field records of areas under War Department supervision, see entries 163, and 164. Also see entries 25-33, and 35, in Appendix 46.

Included are correspondence, memorandums, narrative and statistical reports, historical summaries, copies of contracts and leases, estimates, specifications, bids, requisitions, purchase orders, sales bills, vouchers, time sheets, payrolls, maps, plans, photographs, clippings, and congressional documents relating to military parks, cemeteries, monuments, and other areas that were under the supervision of the War Department until they were transferred to the National Park Service in 1933. Most of the records were transferred to the Service about 1937. There are records from the Office of the Chief of Engineers, the Office of the Quartermaster General, the Office of the Quartermaster Supply Officer, quartermaster offices in corps areas, quartermaster depots, and from park officials. They relate to the establishment of areas, acquisition of land, construction (especially of monuments and markers), restoration, maintenance, supplies and equipment, personnel, and other subjects.

The microfilm copy of the records concerning the Statue of Liberty are in Stack 150 - Row 01/ Compartment 01/ Shelf 03. The microfilm also includes a copy of the records concerning the Statue of Liberty National Monument found in boxes 2387-2409 of the Central Classified Files, 1907-49, described in entry 10 in this inventory.

Arranged chronologically. Many of the early entries are synopses of letters received.

Handwritten copies of letters received, chiefly from the Office of the Quartermaster General, concerning appointment of the Superintendent, preparation of records relating to existing graves and burials, transmitting vouchers and information about accounts, hiring laborers, purchasing supplies and equipment, assisting visitors, constructing and repairing roads, and the general care and maintenance of the cemetery.

Arranged chronologically.

Handwritten copies of letters sent concerning expenses associated with the construction, maintenance, and administration of the cemetery. Interspersed are a few letters to private individuals responding to questions about the cemetery.

8. CASH ACCOUNT BOOK (VICKSBURG NATIONAL CEMETERY). August 18, 1880–December 30, 1905. 1 vol. 1 in.

Chiefly arranged by fiscal year, thereunder by type of entry, and thereunder in chronological order. There are some separate sets of entries showing labor and supplies expenses for the construction of new roads.

The entries grouped by fiscal year show maintenance and labor expenses for the cemetery and roadways. The entries usually give the names of the laborers and the types of supplies purchased.
RECORDS OF THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

GENERAL RECORDS

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by name of park and thereunder alphabetically by subject. There are records concerning the following parks: Acadia, Crater Lake, Glacier, Grand Canyon, Hawaii, Hot Springs, Lassen Volcanic, Mesa Verde, Mount McKinley, Mount Rainier, Platt, Rocky Mountain, Sequoia (including General Grant), Sully’s Hill, Wind Cave, Yellowstone, Yosemite, and Zion. There are also records concerning Petrified Forest, Pinnacles, and Tumacacori National Monuments, and general records not relating to a specific area. A file title list appears as Appendix 1 in this inventory.

Included are letters received and copies of letters sent by the Office of the Secretary of the Interior until 1917 and thereafter by the Park Service, memorandums, narrative and statistical reports, contracts, bonds, permits, affidavits, maps, plats, specifications, photographs, tables, financial statements, vouchers, estimates, printed documents, pamphlets and other publications, clippings, press releases, bulletins, and processed procedural material. Most of the correspondence is with park superintendents and other field officials, but there is also correspondence with the President, the Secretary and other officials of the Department of the Interior (especially after 1916), Members of Congress, the War Department, the General Land Office, the Bureau of Public Roads, other departments and bureaus, forest rangers, concessionaires and leaseholders, applicants for concessions and permits, contractors, shippers, members of conservation societies and similar organizations, persons residing in and near park areas, park visitors, applicants for employment, and others.

The series of Park Service records covers a broad range of subjects. Typical headings are: administration, appropriations, automobiles, boundaries, buildings, complaints, disbursing clerk, employment, expenditures, fires, inspection and investigations, lands, legislation, maps, museums, nature study, privileges (concessions, leases, permits, and the like), publications, receipts and revenues, repairs, and improvements, reports, roads, rules and regulations, sanitation, supplies, telephone and telegraph service, timber, travel, troops, vouchers, water supply, and wild animals. For many of the headings there are subheadings, also arranged alphabetically. The individual documents under a heading or subheading are arranged chronologically.

For the years 1907-25 this is the principal series of records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior and the National Park Service relating to national parks. The series includes records originally filed under the classification system used in the Office of the Secretary and records designated with the decimal classifications developed by the Park Service (see entry 10). A few records are dated before 1907. For the years beginning with 1925 the records described in entry 10 are the principal series of records for the National Park Service. The two series overlap, however, and there is not immediate way of determining in which series a particular file is located. For earlier letters received by the Office of the Secretary of the Interior relating to national parks, see entry 1. Earlier letters sent are in Record Group 48, Records of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior.

10. CENTRAL CLASSIFIED FILES. 1907-49. 1,571 ft.

All the records are arranged in accordance with the same decimal classification system (see Appendix 2 for a select list of headings). Within each decimal classification the records are often subdivided by more specific subjects or by names of park, individuals, States, government agencies, or other appropriate headings, most frequently in alphabetical order. Occasionally, particularly in the 885-01 classification relating to Emergency Conservation Work (later Civilian Conservation Corps), other decimal classifications are used as subheadings. In other instances, particularly in the 900 classification (concessions), the decimal system has not been followed strictly, and all the subheadings relating to a particular subject or individual have been filed together. Some records not designated as part of the decimal system have been inserted in appropriate places, especially records concerning specific projects conducted under different programs. Within individual headings and subheadings, documents are usually fastened together in chronological order, but many loose items have been inserted. A file title list appears as Appendix 2 in this inventory.
Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, narrative and statistical reports, memorandums, minutes, contracts, permits, bonds, opinions, decisions, congressional bills and documents, printed copies of acts of Congress, bulletins, orders, circulars, manuals, charts, schedules, press releases, addresses, completed questionnaires, estimates and justifications, requisitions, vouchers, maps, plats, photographs, clippings, and publications. Most of the correspondence is with park superintendents and other field officials, but there is also correspondence with the President, Members of Congress, the Office of the Secretary of the Interior, other Federal offices, State and local officials, concessionaires, land owners, manufacturers and merchants, shippers, conservation societies and similar organizations, scholarly institutions, and others. Some records of commissions and special officers and some records transferred from the War Department (see entry 5) have been incorporated.

There are general records, records relating to each park in alphabetical order, and records relating specifically or in general to regional offices, monuments, historical parks, memorial parks, military parks, battlefield sites and parks, historic sites, memorials, cemeteries, parkways, recreational areas, National Capital Parks, and historic sites not federally owned. Frequently, however, records relating to an individual area are with the general records. Appendix 1 lists areas for which there are records in these files.

The records under the decimal system overlap chronologically those filed under the system described in entry 9. The decimal system was begun in 1925 but was not in full operation for several more years. Many older files were converted to the decimal system, but some records continued to be filed under the old system. There is no immediate way of determining in which series a particular file will be found.

11. ADMINISTRATIVE FILES. 1949-71. 1,158 ft.

Arranged in two subseries, 1949-69 (boxes 1-2622) and 1969-71 (boxes 2623-2780) and thereunder by a subject numeric file classification scheme. The main subject headings are: Administration, Concessions, Development, Fiscal, Forestry, History, Information, Lands and Recreational Planning, Laws and Legal Matters, Natural Science, Personnel, and Supplies and Equipment. The main sets of files that precede this series are the Central Files, 1907-39 (entry 9) and the Central Classified Files 1907-49 (entry 10). A file title list appears as Appendix 3 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, minutes of meetings, administrative issuances, periodic reports, cooperative agreements, copies of legislation, press releases, petitions, boundary status reports, plans and drawings, newspaper clippings, photographs, and maps. The records concern Service organization, budget estimates and appropriations, land acquisition, boundary adjustments, construction and maintenance of buildings, construction of roads and trails, museum exhibits and interpretive activities, archeological and historical research, compilation of area histories, Park dedications, concessions contracts and permits, water resources and facilities, wildlife management, forest fire control, predator and rodent control, geological features, park visitor safety, assessment of damage done to park areas by natural disasters, cooperation with conservation organizations, development of Master Plans, the Mission 66 Program, the Job Corps Program, proposed parks, State parks, international parks, assessment of historic structures, Service training programs, personnel matters, national defense activities, and related subjects.

Sites are entered by the designation that applied during the time span of these files. Some areas have since changed designation, for example from Memorial to Monument. Frequently information about specific sites is located in the regional files.

12. INDEX FILES. 1949-71. 49 ft.

The records are arranged in alphabetical groups and thereunder chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 4 in this inventory.

The records are chiefly copies of letters sent, but there are a few telegrams. The subjects relate to the operations and policies of the National Park Service. There are also letters concerning personnel matters, Federal legislation, and cooperation with Federal and State agencies and private organizations; and responding to comments on National Parks Service programs from private individuals. The letters are signed by the Director, Assistant Director, Chiefs of Divisions, and staff specialists.
Many of the letters carry a file reference to the incoming letter that initiated the response. That letter can be found among the Administrative Files, 1949-69, described as entry 11 in this inventory.

13. MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE RECORDS. 1933-68. 3 ft.

Arranged by a decimal classification system (see entry 10) or by subject. A file title list appears as Appendix 5 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, reports, copies of legislation, press releases, newspaper clippings, handwritten notes, maps, blueprints, and photographs. The records chiefly concern the establishment of Civilian Conservation Corps camps and development of Recreational Demonstration Projects. There are also records relating to the transfer of the completed Recreational Demonstration Projects sites to the States; proposed parks, parkways, and national seashores; boundaries of parks and monuments; cooperation with other government agencies; and parkway design and construction projects.

14. INDEX TO SUPERINTENDENTS’ MONTHLY REPORTS. 1923-35. 1 in.

Arranged by type of park site (National Parks, National Historical Parks, National Military Parks, National Battlefield Sites, National Cemeteries, and National Monuments) and thereunder alphabetically by park. A few cards at the end show reports from the Field Division of Education, Branch of Engineering, Branch of Forestry, Museum Division, Branch of Plans and Design, and Wildlife Division.

The 3”x 5” index cards show the months and years reports for each site were received. The reports are described in entry 16. Most of the cards also show the date the site was established.

15. CHRONOLOGICAL LIST OF SUPERINTENDENTS’ MONTHLY REPORTS. 1923-35. 2 booklets. 1 in.

Each page of the booklets shows the reports received that month beginning with December 1923 going to December 1935. The records are described in entry 16.

16. SUPERINTENDENTS’ MONTHLY REPORTS. 1923-35. 25 ft.

The reports are arranged by type of park site (National Parks, National Historical Parks, National Military Parks, National Battlefield Sites, National Cemeteries, and National Monuments) and thereunder alphabetically by name of site. An index to the reports is described in entry 14.

Narrative reports concerning park administration, construction, maintenance, personnel matters, fish and wildlife, concessions, Emergency Conservation Work, and related subjects. Some reports also include statistical tallies of visitors, reports by the Chief Ranger, meteorological summaries, nature notes (usually brochures), newspaper clippings, and photographs.

Arranged alphabetically by region followed by park areas, support offices, park group offices, and other sites. A list of the reports appears as Appendix 6 in this inventory.

The contents of the reports do not follow a standard format. The report time frames vary but are chiefly fiscal years or calendar years. Some reports from regions include detailed reports of organizational units. A few reports include photographs. Some reports are accompanied by booklets, brochures, and programs. Some files contain a site information sheet for 1991 instead of an annual report. Many later reports are designated “annual performance plans.”

18. PROCESSED ISSUANCES. 1940-47. 9 ft.
Arranged chronologically until April 1944. Thereafter there is a preliminary breakdown by employee distribution or nature of content.

Chiefly mimeographed copies of memorandums sent to regional directors and other field officers and to employees in the central office. There are also some orders, circulars, bulletins, directories, and other issuances of the Park Service, the Office of the Secretary of the Interior, and other offices. Most relate to procedural matters; other give statements of policy or information. Most are designated by a decimal classification of the Central Classified Files, and another copy is usually with the records described in entry 10.

19. ADMINISTRATIVE MEMORANDUMS. 1942-69. 5 ft.

Arranged by type of memorandum and thereunder by assigned number or chronologically. Related records are described in entry 18.

The records include General and Regional Office (RO) Memorandums (1942-45); Field Office (FO) General
Memorandums (1944-55); Washington Office (WO) Memorandums (1951-69); Budget and Finance (BF) Letters, 1950-67; FAO (Field Accounting Office) and FFO (Field Finance Office) Memorandums, 1950-65; Delegation of Authority Memorandums, 1954-58; FPO (Field Personnel Office) Memorandums, 1957-60; and Informational Memorandums, 1960-69. The memorandum subjects include the interpretation of regulations, budget and accounting matters, organizational changes, status of legislation, appropriations, personnel matters, and procedures for preparing and submitting reports. There are also memorandums from the Office of the Secretary of the Interior and the Bureau of the Budget. Some memorandums are accompanied by press releases, minutes of meetings, speeches, copies of forms, organization charts, lists of employees and Park sites, and printed booklets and brochures.

20. ADMINISTRATIVE MANUALS AND HANDBOOKS. ca. 1944-70. 23 ft.

Arranged by type of record. The Administrative Manual volumes are arranged by assigned number; the Handbooks are arranged alphabetically by title. A list of the series contents is in the first box.

The bulk of the records consist of the Organization Volume of the Administrative Manual; the Administrative Manual subject volumes; and Handbooks. Also included are parts of the [Interior] Departmental Manual and a copy of National Park Service Officials dated July 1, 1969. Most of the Administrative Manual Volumes and Handbooks are accompanied by revisions in the form of amendments and releases.

The first National Park Service Administrative Manual was compiled in 1932. Beginning in 1958 sections of the manual are converted into separate handbooks.

Arranged chronologically.

Processed minutes of staff meetings held by National Park Service Directors Conrad L. Wirth and George B.
Hartzog, Jr. Agenda items include budget and legislative matters, personnel actions, status of task group assignments and actions, cooperation with advisory groups and commissions, and discussion about proposed and ongoing Service programs. There are a few graphs and charts. The meetings were held at approximately two-week intervals.

22. ORGANIZATION CHARTS. 1927-49. 1 in.

Arranged chronologically. For other charts, see the 201-13.1 classification of the Central Classified Files (entry 10). A list of the charts appears as Appendix 7 in this inventory.

Chiefly printed copies of charts of the Department of the Interior and Park Service.

23. ORGANIZATION CHARTS. 1934-71. 1 oversize binder. 1½ in.
The charts are arranged by organizational unit or function and thereunder chronologically. The records are contained in a large binder. A list of the charts appears as Appendix 8 in this inventory.

Many of the older charts contain functional statements for organizational units. Some charts also list personnel and show salary information.

24. RECORDS CONCERNING THE NATIONAL CAPITAL PARK AND PLANNING COMMISSION. 1923-34. 5 ft.

For the most part arranged in rough chronological order, with some separate records concerning legislation and some separate clippings and published reports.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, processed copies of meetings of the Commission, congressional bills and documents, acts, clippings, maps, and other records relating to the establishment and activities of the Commission and its relations with the Park Service. The Director of the Park Service was a member of the Commission. Other records relating to the Commission are among the Central Classified Files (entry 10), especially under the 871 classification of the general records and among the records relating to National Capital Parks.

25. A REPORT ON THE PROPOSED UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER NATIONAL PARK. October 8, 1930. 1 vol. ½ in.

A typescript report by Roger W. Toll on the proposed Upper Mississippi River National Park. The report includes photographs and maps. The survey, authorized by Public Law 71-358 signed by the President on June 16, 1930, directed the National Park Service to investigate the feasibility of establishing a national park in the States of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Arranged by State, thereunder by type of form, and thereunder alphabetically by name of site, county or assigned number. The States represented are: Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Tennessee, and Wisconsin. There are two general files at the end of the series.

The “Analysis of Area Investigation Forms” show the State, County, name of the area under consideration, nearest town, land ownership, administering agency, acreage, miles from the river, general physical characteristics, facilities, types of activities, operating season, accommodations, potential development, and evaluation and remarks. The “Historical Inventory Forms” show the State, County, name of the site, location, history and importance, description of the physical setting and structures or remains, ownership, administering agency, state of development, parkway historical theme, assessment of parkway possibilities, and sources of information.

The general files contain monthly information bulletins for members of the Mississippi River Parkway Commission titled The Mississippi Parkway Survey, December 1949 to August 1951; and summary sheets for each State including a history of the State, and a list and brief description of State recreation areas, places of interest, and cities. The Commission comprised representatives of the ten States along the Mississippi River.

The survey, authorized by Public Law 81-262, directed the Bureau of Public Roads and National Park Service to conduct a joint survey “to determine the feasibility of constructing a parkway from the source to the mouth” of the Mississippi River. The proposed project was later renamed the Great River Road.

27. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE WESTERN MUSEUM LABORATORY CONCERNING WILLIAM HENRY JACKSON. 1935-41. ¼ in.

Arranged in chronological order.

Letters received, letters sent, telegrams, and lists of proposed paintings dated May 4, 1935 to August 31, 1937, and two Department of the Interior press releases dated March 31, 1940 and April 4, 1941. The records concern
Jackson’s employment by the Western Museum Laboratory. He completed a series painting on western subjects, including emigrants, Native Americans, and scenic vistas, for display in educational exhibits in museums in western parks.

28. RECORDS CONCERNING PRESIDENT HARDING’S TRIP TO YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK. 1923. ¼ in.

Four processed documents: a circular letter, two memorandums, and a press release, concerning the schedule and itinerary for President Warren G. Harding’s trip to Yosemite National Park in July 1923.

29. RECORDS CONCERNING THE LONG-RANGE REQUIREMENTS TASK FORCE. 1962-64. 4 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of record.

The records include draft reports of the Task Force, memorandums, statements, press releases, tabulated opinion surveys of National Park Service personnel, interview notes, reference materials, and other records. Also included are records concerning the Mission 66 Advisory Committee, 1957-60, and notes from a Personnel Instruction Meeting at Region 2 headquarters, October 6-18, 1941. The Task Force, which began work in June 1962, was charged with assessing the future needs of the Service and establishing long-range goals to guide the Service after the conclusion of the Mission 66 Program. The work focused on the Service organizational structure, use of manpower, and methods of operations. The recommendations of the Task Force were published in a pamphlet titled “Road to the Future: Long Range Objectives, Goals, and Guidelines.”

Arranged by Park Service site.

Chiefly lists of contractors subject to compliance reporting under Executive Orders No. 10925 and No. 11114 and directives issued by the President’s Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. There are also forms listing contractors surveyed for compliance, lists of compliance reviews conducted or projected, and memorandums concerning administration of the program within the National Park Service.

Arranged by subject or type of record.

The records include correspondence, press releases, agenda, a bound copy of The Vail Agenda, and other documents concerning a three-day symposium held at Vail, Colorado, October 7-10, 1991, as part of the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the National Park Service. The symposium was co-sponsored with the World Wildlife Fund and Conservation Foundation, Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government, and the National Park Foundation. The symposium was titled “Protecting Our National Parks: Challenges and Strategies for the 21st Century.”

Related records include printed materials concerning the 50th and 65th anniversaries of the National Park Service, draft reports from working groups that contributed to the symposium’s findings, background information for the working groups, comments by Park Service officials and staff on the symposium report (titled The Vail Agenda), memorandums discussing ways to implement recommendations made in the symposium report, audio tapes of panel discussions held at the Vail meeting, and photographs of meeting events.

Also included are records dating from 1983 concerning evaluations of National Park Service programs, the organizational structure, and functions of organizational units. The records concern an organizational realignment of the National Park Service headquarters and field offices.

32. RECORDS CONCERNING THE REORGANIZATION OF THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE. 1993-95. 5 ft.
Arranged by subject. There is an agency-compiled file title list in the first box.

The records include restructuring plans, processed and draft reports, organization charts, memorandums, printed copies of electronic mail, summaries of meetings, a “Proposal/Recommendation for Restructuring the National Park Service,” with critical comments, and newsletters. The records were generated by individuals, working groups, and Washington Office and Regional officials of the National Park Service in response to a restructuring plan issued by the Director of the National Park Service in 1994. In addition to comments and reaction to the proposal, areas addressed include exploring the concept cluster offices; projecting the of staffing needs of support and cluster offices; the post reorganization boundaries, organization, operation, and staffing and of cluster offices; defining the organization and responsibilities of Support Offices; establishment of a National Leadership Council to advise the Director of the National Park Service. Files in boxes 8-11 were collected by Heather Huyck, the head of Strategic Planning for the National Park Service

Arranged chronologically.

Periodic summaries of agency news relating to administration, natural and cultural resources, parks operation and education, pending legislation, international affairs, media inquiries, American Indian liaison activities, and other subjects. Also included are handwritten notes, copies of newspaper clippings, and press releases.

34. NATURE NOTES. 1927-35. 9 in.

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by area and thereunder chronologically. The areas are Acadia National Park, Colonial National Monument (Historical Notes), Crater Lake National Park, Glacier National Park, Grand Canyon National Park, Hawaii National Park, Mount Rainier National Park, Rocky Mountain National Park, Southwestern National Monuments (Monthly Reports), Yellowstone National Park, and Yosemite National Park. Also see the 504-11 classification of the Central Classified Files (entry 10).

Periodic publications of individual parks and monuments. Some copies of monthly reports are included.

35. CLIPPINGS. 1915-25. 46 vols. 7 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by park or other subject and thereunder in rough chronological order.

Newspaper and magazine clippings and a few other items mounted in scrapbooks with some loose duplicates.

RECORDS OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM ADVISORY BOARD

The National Park System Advisory Board was originally established in 1928 as an informal group of five educators known as the Committee on Study of Educational Problems in National Parks. Appointed by the Secretary of the Interior, this body was to study and report on the “educational possibilities of the national parks.” From their findings it was concluded that a committee of persons appointed by the Secretary should be permanently maintained “whose duty it shall be to advise the Director of National Parks on matters of educational policy.” As a result, the National Park Service Educational Advisory Board was created in 1929. Upon transfer of the administration of military parks and monuments from the War Department to the Department of the Interior, it was clear that this current Board lacked the required level of “historical research and interpretation” to maintain the necessary educational duties. While the previous committees were informal and lacked congressional approval, official authority was granted by the passing of the Historic Sites Act of August 21, 1935 (49 Stat. 666). The Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings, and Monuments was thus established.

The main purpose of the Advisory Board is to apply the standards for the recognition of historic sites laid out in the 1935 Act and to promote an education program based on the national contributions of each site in the “fields of history, archaeology, architecture, and human geography.” Areas possessing scenic or natural value are to be held equally significant as those relating to historical and archaeological matters. Working directly with the National Park Service, “the Board advises the Secretary of the Interior on matters relating to National Parks and to the administration on the Historic Sites Act.” In addition, it may recommend policies to the Secretary pertaining to “the restoration, reconstruction, conservation, and general administration of historic and archaeological sites, buildings, and properties.”

The Advisory Board is composed of members who are appointed by the Secretary of the Interior and serve in six-year terms without pay. The Board officers are a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. A few years after its official establishment, the position of a permanent Executive Officer was added. This appointee, selected from among the personnel of the National Park Service, has the duty of serving as a “direct liaison between the Park Service and the Board” and also prepares meetings, agenda, and oversees all other operational functions.

There are also records concerning the Advisory Board in the Administrative Files, 1949-71, file A16 (entry 11).

36. RECORDS RELATING TO ADMINISTRATION AND MEMBERSHIP. 1945-66. 1 ft.

Arranged by subject and thereunder chronologically.

Most of the records are memorandums and general correspondence regarding the policies, functions, and development of the organization. There are also reports, affidavits, congressional acts, executive orders, newspaper articles, press releases, and photographs. Of particular significance are records that describe the criteria developed by the Board for historic sites, buildings, and objects; and records that document discussion about the overall restoration policy of the National Park System. There are also files that contain biographies and correspondence of board members.

37. MINUTES OF MEETINGS OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM ADVISORY BOARD. 1936-83. 3½ ft.

Arranged chronologically by meeting date.

These records deal with Board policies and evaluations of historic sites, buildings, and monuments. Most of the files contain a contents index, meeting agenda outlines, and attendee lists. Some minutes are accompanied by memorandums, reports, and correspondence.

38. RECORDS RELATING TO FIELD TRIPS. 1965-75. 2 ft.

Arranged chronologically by meeting year as follows: Alaska, 1965; Everglades, San Juan, Virgin Islands, 1966; Canyonlands, Glen Canyon, 1967; Redwoods, North Cascades, 1968; Field Trip, Cancelled (Northeastern Areas, Great Lakes Areas, Hawaii Areas), 1969-70; Tucson, Arizona, etc., 1970; Advisory Board Teams’ Field Trips, 1971-72; Grand Canyon, 1971; Special Study Report and News Release, 1972; Requests for Special Study Report, 1972-73; Master Copy of Special Study Report, 1971-72; Canadian Field Trip, 1972; 1973 Field Trip (Northeastern Areas, Great Lakes Areas, Hawaii Areas), 1969-72; Field Trip, Cancelled, Hawaii, 1974; Golden Gate National Recreation Area, 1974; Gateway National Recreation Area, 1974; Voyageurs and Isle Royale National Park, 1974; Gateway National Recreation Area, 1975.

Most of the records are correspondence, memorandums, itineraries, and reports addressing the major issues of concern for each meeting location. Also included are attendee lists, expense reports, brochures, pamphlets, newspapers, press releases, and photographs. Included in the records pertaining to the Canadian Field Trip are organizational charts of the Canadian National Park System.

39. CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO NATIONAL HISTORIC LANDMARKS. 1974-86. 6 in.

Arranged chronologically and thereunder by subject.

A majority of the records are correspondence and reports relating to specific requests and evaluations of sites for landmark status. There are records concerning various World War II related recommendations such as areas in the Pacific Theater, individual naval warships, the bombers Enola Gay and Bock’s Car, and Japanese-American Internment Camps; and Civil War sites such as Ulysses S. Grant’s boyhood home, White Haven, and the USS Monitor. Also significant are records relating to specific NASA exploration vehicles and technology; the Kennecott Mines in Alaska; a memorandum noting a survey of historic sites and buildings of Black Americans in United States history; and letters requesting withdrawal of sites and artifacts from consideration for landmark status.
Records of the National Park Service

RECORDS CONCERNING THE MISSION 66 PROGRAM

The Mission 66 Program was announced by the Director of the National Park Service in a memorandum dated February 18, 1955. The memorandum stated that “the purpose of Mission 66 is to make an intensive study of the problems of protection, public use, interpretation, development, staffing, legislation, financing, and all other phases of park operation, and to produce a comprehensive and integrated program of use and protection that is in harmony with the obligations of the National Park Service under the Act of 1916.” The studies developed by the Program were intended to form the basis for a ten-year park development and conservation programs that would meet the needs of the areas in 1966, the 50th anniversary of the National Park Service.

A Steering Committee was formed to establish general policies in the development of the program and to periodically review the work of the newly established Working Staff (later referred to as the Mission 66 Study Staff), which was responsible for planning and managing the program. Three basic documents were compiled to provide detailed information about the status and projected needs for each park area. A “Summary of Mission 66 Objectives and Program,” statement, fiscal and statistical estimates data sheet (also referred to as prospectus estimates), and narrative prospectuses. The information was compiled in a report to Congress dated February 2, 1956. The first funds for Mission 66–related construction projects were part of the National Park Service 1957 fiscal year appropriation.

In February 1956 the Steering Committee was replaced by an Advisory Committee for the Mission 66 Program. The Mission 66 Study Staff was disbanded in February 1957 and replaced by a permanent staff in the Director’s Office. Records relating to the administration of the Mission 66 Program are described in entry 54.

40. DATA FOR PART TWO OF THE MISSION 66 REPORT. 1955-56. 7 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by name of park or other field site. A list of the sites appears in Appendix 9 in this inventory.

Each file usually contains three basic documents. A “Summary of Mission 66 Objectives and Program”; prospectus estimates (also referred to as financial data sheets “shown in the format used for appropriation estimates”), which specified the type of job or improvement with assigned priority and cost, a 10-year program for maintenance and protection, a 10-year program for maintenance and rehabilitation, projected staffing needs, and, for some areas, a land acquisition program; and preliminary prospectuses. Information presented in the documents formed the basis for parts two and three of the Mission 66 Final Report.

The files also contain correspondence concerning the review of the prospectus and recommendations for modifications by the Regional Director and the Mission 66 Working Staff. Some files also include maps, newspaper clippings, copies of legislation, park brochures, telegrams, graphs, park organization charts, and press releases.

Also included is a transcript of a hearing before the United States Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs at Tacoma, Washington, October 15, 1956, concerning Mission 66 plans for Mount Rainier and Olympic National Parks (box 11).

41. FINAL PROSPECTUSES. 1955-60. 8 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by name of park or other field site. A list of the sites appears in Appendix 9 in this inventory.
The files include draft and final versions of prospectuses with review comments and notices of acceptance. Some files also contain correspondence, copies of Master Plans, newspaper clippings, press releases, park organization charts, and park brochures.

42. REVISED PROSPECTUSES. 1960-61. 5 ft.

Arranged in two sets: development schedules (boxes 1-10) and prospectuses (boxes 11-12) and thereunder alphabetically by name of park or other field site. A list of the sites appears in Appendix 9 in this inventory.

The development schedules are often accompanied by revised estimates of expected visitor use and correspondence regarding revisions of Master Plan narratives in view of Mission 66 studies. Sometimes there is also correspondence with Members of Congress regarding concerns raised by their constituents about the impact of Mission 66 plans on their area. The revised prospectuses are usually accompanied by correspondence concerning the revisions.

43. DEVELOPMENT SCHEDULES. 1956-69. 7 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by name of park or other field site. A list of the sites appears in Appendix 9 in this inventory. When this series was processed by the staff at the National Archives box 4 of Accession 71A4512 was missing. The last file in box 3 was Kings Mountain National Military Park and the first file in box 5 was Padre Island National Seashore.

The files typically include Park Development Schedules, Mission 66 Prospectuses, and a summary overview of the Development Schedules. Some files also contain correspondence and notices relating to the review and approval of final prospectus, Summary of Mission 66 Objectives and Program statements for the park area, press releases, memorandums, park organization charts, and maps. The Development Schedules state the type of construction project, number of miles or capacity, and cost. The schedules were frequently revised as costs rose or to reflect changes in development priorities.

RECORDS CONCERNING BUDGETS, ACCOUNTS, AND AUDITS

44. APPROPRIATION EXPENDITURE RECORD. 1915-21. 6 binders. 1 ft.

Arranged in six binders, one for each fiscal year from 1916 to 1921. Thereunder for the most part arranged by park. For some years difference types of forms are in separate sections of the binder.

Accounting forms that balance expenditures against allotted funds.

45. ABSTRACTS OF DISBURSEMENTS. 1921-25. 3 binders. 9 in.

Arranged in three binders by fiscal years, thereunder alphabetically by park (with some special accounts), and thereunder chronologically.

Entries for individual disbursements give date of entry, name of claimant or other indication of purpose, distribution under different accounting headings, and sometimes other pertinent information.

46. ALLOTMENT LEDGER. 1924-30. 1 binder. 1 in.

Entries are arranged in a binder by year and thereunder for the most part alphabetically by name of park.

An itemized record of funds allotted to parks.

47. SUMMARY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS. 1925-32. 1 in.

Arranged chronologically.
Periodic statements with the following designations: “Statement of Balances—General Ledger Accounts,” “Schedule of Balances Showing Status of Appropriations,” “Summary Allotment Ledger Totals,” “Statement of Allotment Accounts,” and “Schedule of Balances of Resources and Obligation.”

48. CORRESPONDENCE AND SUBJECT FILES CONCERNING AUDITS AND ACCOUNTS. 1933-60. 14 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of record. A file title list appears as Appendix 10 in this inventory.

The records includes memorandums, correspondence, reports, administrative issuances, contracts, regulations, memorandums of agreement, charts, tables, and accounting sheets. The records chiefly concern the development and implementation of accounting methods in accordance with regulations issued by the General Accounting Office and procedures established by the Department of the Interior’s Division of Budget and Finance.

49. RECORDS CONCERNING APPROPRIATIONS, ALLOTMENTS, AND EXPENDITURES. 1940-64. 3 ft.

Arranged by program area or type of form.

The records include processed cumulative tabular statements showing: appropriations; funds available from all sources; allotments; and expenditures for parkways, roads, and trails. Information concerning parkways dates from 1938 and for roads and trails from 1925. There are also separate cumulative tabular statements for the Baltimore-
Washington Parkway, Blue Ridge Parkway, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Parkway, Colonial Parkway, Foothills
Parkway, George Washington Memorial Parkway, Green Mountain Parkway, Natchez Trace Parkway, and Suitland Parkway.

A separate set of files contain correspondence, memorandums, Budget and Finance Letters from the Division of Budget and Finance (Office of the Secretary of the Interior), memorandums of agreement, handwritten notes, work orders, and accounting forms. The records concern the transfer of working funds to and from the Bureau of Reclamation, Bureau of Public Roads, the Navy Department, and other agencies.

There are also files consisting of working ledger sheets and summary sheets concerning expenditures associated with the acquisition of lands. Information in these records dates from 1915. Other files concern expenditures relating to buildings and utilities and water rights work orders.

50. RECORDS CONCERNING BUDGET EXECUTION AND ALLOTMENTS. 1940-73. 23 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of record. A file title list appears as Appendix 11 in this inventory.

“Activity Allotment Program,” and related forms. Also included are memorandums, ledger worksheets, notes of telephone conversations, telegrams, accomplishment reports, work orders, working tabular statements, and handwritten notes.

The records concern funding of park management, protection, maintenance, and rehabilitation activities and construction programs; funding reviews and requirements; budget formulation; cost estimates; requests for changes in authorization, allotment, apportionment, and reapportionment of funds; distribution of appropriations; status of contingency reserves; and emergency obligations for fire suppression.

51. BUDGET ESTIMATES AND RELATED RECORDS. 1949-67. 25 ft.

Arranged by fiscal year, 1951 to 1968, thereunder by type of record, organizational unit or program area. A list of the series contents is in the first box.
The records include administrative issuances, estimates, statements of appropriations and expenditures, budget justifications, correspondence, organization charts, press releases, completed forms, position lists, and related records. The records show consultation with budget and finance officials in the Office of the Secretary of the Interior and the Bureau of the Budget.

RECORDS CONCERNING PROGRAM COORDINATION

52. RECORDS CONCERNING DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS. 1946-65. 6 ft.

Arranged by fiscal years 1947 to 1966.

Chiefly lists of construction projects (parkways, roads, trails, buildings, and utilities) showing projected cost estimates and funds to be expended based on appropriations. Some lists are annotated to show reductions in appropriations, additional funding, adjustments in allocations of funds, and revised construction programs. The records also include memorandums, project justification statements, work sheets, copies of legislation, and handwritten notes. A new program area, Plans, Surveys and Supervision, was added in fiscal year 1957 to administer funds allocated for projects associated with the Mission 66 program. Also included is an employee housing inventory compiled in 1964 with photographs of typical housing and records concerning funding recreational facilities at Colorado River reservoir areas.

53. PROGRAM RECORD FORMS. 1954-67. 5 ft. (15 in. of files and 11 binders)

Arranged by type of form, thereunder by fiscal year, and thereunder by project program area (parkways, roads and trails, and buildings and utilities), region or park service area.

The records consist of Project Completion Record Sheets, 1954-57; Construction Project Cards, fiscal year 1957; Project History Records, fiscal years 1958-64; Program Adjustments Sheets, fiscal years 1958-67; and Program Authorization Sheets, fiscal years 1965-66. The information on the forms vary but generally include the park service area, type of project, final construction cost, and date of project completion.

54. RECORDS CONCERNING MISSION 66 PROGRAM PLANNING AND ANALYSIS. 1955-65. 2 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of document.

The records chiefly consist of processed reports, memorandums, prospectuses, statements, press releases, and financial tables; but also include typescript memorandums, program statements, and periodic status reports. The records concern the organization and administration of the Mission 66 Program; program objectives; establishment of the Mission 66 Steering Committee; preparation and review of prospectuses and park development schedules; funding estimates and appropriations; mid-point assessments of the program; and program accomplishments.

Other records concerning the Mission 66 program are described in entries 40-43.

55. RECORDS CONCERNING ACCELERATED PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAMS. 1961-65. 3 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of record.

The records includes correspondence; memorandums; summaries of proposed projects; project justification forms; notes concerning meetings; press releases; newsletters; lists of projects; reports and other compilations prepared by the Area Redevelopment Administration; handwritten notes; lists of projects; statistical reports on project progress and financial status; maps showing Redevelopment Areas and Public Works Acceleration Areas; copies of legislation; lists of projects under consideration; and memorandums designating redevelopment areas.

The records concern appropriations; allocations of funds; and delineation of the technical planning assistance rendered by the National Park Service regional offices to State and local areas in determining park, parkway, and recreational area resources and developing these areas as part of the Area Redevelopment Program. The programs were administered under the authority of the Area Redevelopment Act of May 1, 1961 (Public Law 87-27) and the Public Works Acceleration Act of September 14, 1962 (Public Law 87-658). The Area Redevelopment Administration was part of the Department of Commerce.

RECORDS CONCERNING MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS

56. MONTHLY PUBLIC USE REPORTS. 1957-74. 15 cu. ft. (in 15 cubic-foot boxes)

The records in boxes 1-14 are arranged alphabetically by site and thereunder in rough chronological order. The last box (box 15) contains Comparative Monthly Visitor Reports, November 1961, January-November 1962.

The Monthly Public Use Reports are summary statistical forms that variously show the total number of visitors, total visitor days, number of group visits, types of vehicles (sometimes including bicycles and boats), and tent sites occupied. The remarks section may include information such as closed roads and a list of the States or countries visitors were from. The forms often show a calendar year to date visitor tally. There are a few annual summary sheets.

57. MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS PROJECT FILES. 1963-70. 4 ft.

Arranged by project. There is a file title list in the first box.

Chiefly copies of reports, but also including preliminary drafts of the reports, working papers, memorandums, handwritten notes, minutes of meetings, and statistical data tables. Most of the files include a “Project Assignment” form that states the title of the project, purpose and scope of the project, accomplishments or significant actions, and dates of the beginning and end of the project. Subject areas of the reports include analysis of staffing levels, use of camp sites in the National Park System, land acquisition procedures, the usefulness of the Superintendents’ monthly narrative reports, the management of Yosemite National Park, the management of national seashores, organization and operations of Design and Construction offices, and the organization and operations of the Washington, D.C. and Regional Offices. Other reports deal with the revision of the Departmental Manual, economic studies, and inventories of automated data-processing applications. Most of the reports were done by National Park Service personnel. Some were done by academic institutions.

58. STATISTICAL REPORTS. 1964-67. 6 cu. ft. (in 6 cubic-foot boxes)

Arranged by type of forms and thereunder rough alphabetical order by park area or site.

Chiefly two statistical report forms: Weekly Reports of Daily Activities of Uniformed Staff (form 10-287) and Campsites Occupied (form 10-288). Information in the weekly reports was gathered February 22-March 7, 1965 (winter sample), May 3-16, 1965 (summer sample), and October 10-23, 1965 (fall sample). Data furnished in the weekly reports was used for the “Uniformed Staff Work Measurements Study.” There are also memorandums and worksheets, and other records concerning instructions for completing the forms, which employees were required to participate, and disposition of the forms. Data in the camp-site forms was gathered July-August 1966.

RECORDS OF KEY OFFICIALS

59. RECORDS OF DIRECTOR HORACE M. ALBRIGHT. 1927-33. 3 ft.

Arranged for the most part by correspondence, park, or subject and thereunder chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 12 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, reports, maps, clippings, photographs, and press releases. Mr. Albright was simultaneously Assistant Director (Field) and Superintendent of Yellowstone National Park from 1926 until January 1929, and Director from 1929 until 1933. Many of these records are designated “semi-official” and some “personal.” A few are dated as early as 1922.
60. RECORDS OF DIRECTOR ARNO B. CAMMERER.  1922-40.  7 ft.

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by subject or correspondence, sometimes with subheadings, and thereunder chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 13 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, reports, memorandums, clippings, photographs, maps, and processed and printed material. Mr. Cammerer was Assistant Director from 1919 to 1929, Associate Director from 1929 until 1933, and Director from 1933 to 1940.

61. RECORDS OF DIRECTOR NEWTON B. DRURY.  1940-51.  11 ft.

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by subject or correspondent and thereunder chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 14 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, reports, procedural issuances, press releases, addresses, congressional documents, clippings, photographs, maps, periodicals, pamphlets, brochures, and picture postcards. Mr. Drury was Director during these years.

62. OFFICE FILES OF DIRECTOR CONRAD L. WIRTH.  1935-64.  10 ft.

Arranged by subject. A file title list appears as Appendix 15 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, press releases, memorandums, minutes of meetings, speeches and articles by Wirth, statements before congressional committees, reports on inspection trips, congressional reports, legislative bills, and resolutions, newspaper clippings, newsletters, brochures, blueprints, charts, and graphs.

Also included are memorandums discussing decisions made by the Director on field trips, in conferences, on inspection trips, and based on recommendations of National Park Service staff (Records of Decisions by Director, 1959-63, box 6).

The records concern subjects such as National Park Service policies regarding park use, resource management, and land acquisition; the Mission 66 program; encroachments on park areas by water development projects; design and construction programs; budget estimates; appropriations for public work programs; concession operations; park entrance fees; cooperation with conservation organizations; recommendations for vacancies on the Fine Arts Commission; and service on departmental committees.

Conrad L. Wirth served as Director of the National Park Service from 1951-1960. Previous positions with the Service included Chief of Lands (later Land and Recreational Planning) 1946-49, Assistant Director, 1949-51, and Associate Director, 1951.

63. RECORDS OF ROGER W. TOLL.  1928-36.  5 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder by area or other subject. At the end are some records concerning foreign countries and general subjects. A file title list appears as Appendix 16 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent and correspondence of others, reports, memorandums, notes, maps, photographs, brochures, picture postcards, press releases, and copies of publications. Mr. Toll was Superintendent of Rocky Mountain National Park until 1929 and then of Yellowstone National Park until his death in 1936. In addition to his regular duties, during off-seasons he investigated proposed park and monument areas, boundary extensions, and other matters. These series consists of records concerning those investigations and of reference material. Some of the reference material is dated before 1928.
64. RECORDS OF THE ASSISTANT DIRECTOR FOR ADMINISTRATION, HILLORY A. TOLSON.  1941-63.  2½ ft.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, processed issuances, minutes of meetings of the Management Improvement Committee, employee lists, press releases, transcripts of congressional hearings, copies of congressional legislation and reports, newsletters, and printed rosters of National Park Service officials dated 1951, 1953, and 1956 (which include complete listings of the custodians and superintendents of areas under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service since the date of their establishment). The files also contain a few reference items dating from 1937.

The subject areas found in the records include appropriations and budgets; policies governing employee training, promotions, and transfers; department and service inspection programs; the management appraisal program; membership on and authority for activities of Departmental and inter-departmental committees, commissions, and boards; organization, functions, and staffing of regional offices; civil and defense emergency preparedness; Service construction projects; and establishment of the Woodrow Wilson Centennial Celebration Commission.

Hillory A. Tolson began his career with the National Park Service in 1932 as an attorney. He was an Assistant Director, 1933-38; Regional Director, Region 3, 1939-40; Chief of Operations, 1940-43; and Assistant Director 1943-63.

RECORDS OF THE OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE AND CONGRESSIONAL AFFAIRS

The Office of the Chief Counsel was established August 6, 1938, but there had been a legal unit in the Park Service since its beginning. The person in charge was designated successively as Law Clerk, Law Officer, Assistant Attorney, Assistant to the Director, and Assistant Director. The office was known by such names as Branch of Use, Law, and Regulation; Branch of Lands and Use; and Branch of Land Acquisition and Regulation. The Office of the Chief Counsel and its predecessors were particularly concerned with land status and acquisition, water rights, contracts and concessions, preparation and enforcement of regulations, and legislation. Most of the records of the Office of the Chief Counsel in the National Archives relate to legislation. The name of the office was changed to Legal Division in 1947, but the position of Chief Counsel continued. In 1962 the Office was reconstituted as the Office of Legislation with responsibility for review of legislation and Service regulations and to act as liaison with the Office of the Solicitor in the Office of the Secretary of the Interior to obtain legal reviews and opinions. The Division has been renamed several times including the Office of Legislation, the Legislation and Regulations Division, the Office of Legislation and Regulations, and the Legislative Services Division. It was titled the Office of Legislative and Congressional Affairs in 1970.

65. LEGISLATIVE FILES.  1932-50.  49 ft.

Arranged for the most part by Congress, thereunder by House, and thereunder by bill number. Earlier records concerning proposed legislation are in the Central Classified Files (entry 10) under the 120 classification.
Letters received; copies of letters sent by the Park Service and the Office of the Secretary of the Interior; reports; memorandums; printed copies of bills, acts, hearings, and congressional reports; clippings, mainly from the Congressional Record; maps; photographs; and other records concerning proposed legislation in which the Park Service was interested.

66. LEGISLATIVE CASE FILES. 1991-2001. 84 ft.

Arranged by Congress (102nd to 107th) and thereunder alphabetically by subject. A box list appears as Appendix 17 in this inventory.

Chiefly copies of House and Senate bills but also including copies of Public Laws, testimony, statements, pages from the Congressional Record, memorandums by the National Park Service, memorandums of meetings and telephone conversations, press releases, and newspaper articles.

67. DEED FILES OF SELECT NATIONAL CEMETERIES, MONUMENTS, BATTLEFIELDS, AND HISTORIC SITES. 1865-1955. 5 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by site: Andrew Johnson National Cemetery, 1906-52; Antietam Cemetery, 1870-1933; Chalmette Monument, 1869-1945; Custer Battlefield National Cemetery, 1886-1940; Fort Donelson Cemetery, 1867-1934; Fredericksburg National Cemetery, 1868-1923; Gettysburg Cemetery, 1872-1911; Poplar Grove Cemetery, 1868-1915; Shiloh National Cemetery, 1867-71; Stones River National Cemetery, 1865-68; Vicksburg National Cemetery, 1867-1955; and Yorktown National Cemetery, 1868-75.

The files contain land title papers, plats and location maps, petitions, agreements, transmittal letters, county court documents, memorandums, and related records. The largest file is for Vicksburg National Cemetery (boxes 2-11). Box 12 contains an oversized plat, dated April 22, 1868, showing a parcel of land taken from the property of Dr. Powers and made part of the Yorktown National Cemetery.

68. RECORDS CONCERNING NEGOTIATIONS AND CONTRACTS WITH THE MONTANA POWER COMPANY. 1951-62. 2 cu. ft. (in 2 cubic-foot boxes)

The records are in binders arranged by subject or type of document and thereunder chronologically.

The records concern negotiations between the Montana Power Company and Yellowstone National Park regarding an electricity installment project. Most of the records are reports comprised primarily of fiscal data and estimates, charts depicting analysis of estimated expected electricity consumption, and copies of contracts between the National Park Service and the Montana Power Company. Many of the reports are accompanied by maps, schematic illustrations, letters, memorandums, correspondence, photographs, and newspaper articles.

Also included are two reports: “House of Representatives Hearings before the Committee on Government Operations, Special Subcommittee on Yellowstone National Park Power Contract,” dated 1959, consisting of statements presented to the U.S. House of Representatives by the National Park Service and Montana Power Company; and “A Survey of Electric Generating and Distribution Systems at Yellowstone National Park, Government Owned and Operated Systems Versus Commercial Owned and Operated Systems,” ca. 1956-58. This report debates the advantages and disadvantages of government versus private installation and ownership of the power system.

69. WILDERNESS PUBLIC HEARING RECORDS. 1966-74. 39 cu. ft. (in 39 cubic-foot boxes)

Arranged by park or other area and thereunder by type of document: Great Smoky Mountains National Park, 1966 (boxes 1-8); Sleeping Bear Dunes National Seashore, 1974 (box 9); Crater Lake National Park, 1971 (box 10); Olympic National Park, 1973 (boxes 11-12); Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, 1974 (box 13); Guadeloupe Mountains National Park, 1971 (boxes 14-15); Rocky Mountain National Park, 1974 (boxes 15-16); Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, 1974 (box 16); Everglades National Park, 1974 (boxes 16-17); Theodore Roosevelt National Memorial Park, 1970 (boxes 17-18); North Cascades National Park Complex, 1970 (boxes 18-19); Death Valley National Monument, 1974 (boxes 19-22); Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, 1967 (boxes 22-23);
Records of the National Park Service

Big Bend National Park, 1972 (boxes 23-25); Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks, 1966 (box 26); Joshua Tree National Monument, 1972 (box 27); Carlsbad Caverns National Park, 1971 (box 28); Colorado National Monument, 1970 (box 28); Grand Teton National Park, 1972 (box 29); Bryce Canyon National Park, 1967 (box 30); Buffalo National River, 1974 (box 30); Arches National Monument, 1967 (box 31); Badlands National Monument, 1972 (box 31); Bandelier National Monument, 1971 (box 32); Black Canyon of the Gunnison National Monument, 1970 (box 32); Capitol Reef National Monument, 1967 (box 32); Cedar Breaks National Monument, 1967 (box 33); Chiricahua National Monument, 1968 (box 33); Glacier National Park, 1973 (boxes 34-35); Glacier Bay National Monument and Katmai National Monument, 1971 (boxes 35-36); Grand Canyon Complex, 1971 (box 37); Haleakula National Park, 1971 (box 38); Great Sand Dunes National Monument, 1970 (box 38); Lake Mead National Recreation Area, 1974 (box 39); Isle Royale National Park, 1967 (box 39); Lassen Volcanic National Park, 1966 (box 40); Lava Beds National Monument, 1967 (box 40); Mammoth Cave National Park, 1974 (box 41); Mesa Verde National Park, 1970 (box 42); Padre Island National Seashore, 1972 (box 42); Pinnacles National Monument, 1967 (box 42); Point Reyes National Seashore, 1971 (boxes 43-44); Saguaro National Monument, 1972 (boxes 44-45); Shenandoah National Park, 1967 (box 45); White Sands National Monument, 1972 (box 46); Yellowstone National Park, 1972 (boxes 46-47); Yosemite National Park, 1971 (box 47); and Zion National Park, 1973 (boxes 48-49).

A typical park record includes a public hearing notice; preliminary wilderness proposal boundary descriptions; a Master Plan; public hearing transcripts; written statements; public responses from individuals, organizations, and public agencies; and a tabulation of the public responses. Sometimes petitions, newspaper clippings, and maps are also included. The Rocky Mountain National Park records includes audio tapes of hearings.

The public hearings held by the National Park Service were in accordance with the provisions of the Wilderness Act of September 3, 1964 (Public Law 88-577).

RECORDS OF THE BRANCH OF ENGINEERING

The Engineering Division (sometimes called the Civil Engineering Division) was established in 1917. The division headquarters was located at different cities and parks in the West until 1927, when it was moved to San Francisco to become part of the Field Headquarters. The head of the Division, formerly designated successively as Civil Engineer and Chief Engineer, was now called Chief Engineer and was in general charge of the Field Headquarters.

In 1933 the Engineering Division was renamed to Branch of Engineering and an eastern office was opened. The Chief Engineer moved to Washington, D.C., in 1937, and the San Francisco office was closed. From 1938 until 1943 the Chief Engineer was called Chief of Engineering. In 1946 the Branch of Engineering was merged with the Branch of Plans and Design to form the Branch of Development.

The Branch of Engineering was in charge of engineering work in the parks and monuments system, especially construction work, although major road projects were directed by the Bureau of Public Roads. The records of the Branch include records for the period for the Engineering Division. Other records of the Engineering Division are among those of the Field Headquarters (entry 77).

70. GENERAL RECORDS OF THE ENGINEERING DIVISION. 1917-26. 8 ft.

The records are divided into general records and records relating to individual parks arranged alphabetically. Thereunder arranged by subject headings and subheadings. Within each heading or subheading arranged for the most part chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 18 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, work progress and other reports, memorandums, bulletins, clippings, photographs, estimates, and vouchers. Some records of engineers in the field have been incorporated.

71. RECORDS RELATING TO THE HETCH HETCHY PROJECT. 1901-34. 1 ft.
Arranged in part by type of record and in part in rough chronological order. Many other records relating to Hetch Hetchy and the San Francisco water supply are among the general records of the National Park Service (see entries 1, 9, and 10).

Correspondence and copies of correspondence of the Office of the Secretary of the Interior, the National Park Service, and the Advisory Board of Army Engineers; hearing; reports; photographs; blueprint profiles; copies of legislative bills; and other records relating to the use of Hetch Hetchy Valley in Yosemite National Park as a reservoir by the city of San Francisco.

72. REPORTS ON THE WATER SUPPLY OF SAN FRANCISCO AND NEIGHBORING AREAS. 1902-12. 55 vols. 6 ft.

For the most part arranged by assigned number. There are a few unbound documents with some of the same set of assigned numbers among the records described in entry 71.

Most of the reports were prepared by engineers for the city of San Francisco and the Spring Valley Water Company in connection with the controversy over the use of Hetch Hetchy Valley by the city of San Francisco. Some are printed; others typewritten. Photographs, tables, and maps are included in most of the reports. There are also some estimates, rebuttals to reports, and other records that are not strictly reports.

73. CONTRACTS, PROPOSALS, AND SPECIFICATIONS. 1920-26. 1 ft.

Arranged in rough chronological order and in the same order as a list that is with these records.

Mostly for construction work. Included also are some correspondence, progress reports, and other records.

74. ROAD SURVEY REPORTS. 1925-39. 2 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by park: Acadia National Park (Lafayette National Park); Bryce Canyon National Park; Carlsbad Caverns National Park (includes Walnut Canyon National Park); Crater Lake National Park; Glacier National Park; Grand Canyon National Park; Hawaii National Park; Lassen Volcanic National Park; Mesa Verde National Park; Mount Rainier National Park; Rocky Mountain National Park; Sequoia National Park; and Yellowstone National Park. There is also a file concerning Reconnaissance and Location Survey Reports in box 1.

Reconnaissance, location survey, and other reports concerning proposed road construction. They are in narrative form with estimates, photographs, maps, tables, and other illustrative material. Most are prepared by engineers of the Bureau of Public Roads; but some were prepared by engineers and architects of the Park Service.

75. FINAL CONSTRUCTION REPORTS. 1934-42. 5 in.

Arranged alphabetically by area: Chalmette Monument and Grounds; Gettysburg National Military Park; Guilford Courthouse National Military Park; Kings Mountain National Military Park; Manassas National Battlefield Park; Moores Creek National Military Park; New Echota Marker; Kennesaw Mountain National Battlefield Site; Salem Maritime National Historic Site; Shiloh National Military Park (includes Fort Donelson National Military Park); Stones River National Military Park; and Vicksburg National Military Park.

Narrative reports with cost reports, photographs, plans, and other illustrations concerning completed construction projects in some eastern areas.

76. MONTHLY NARRATIVE REPORTS OF BUREAU OF PUBLIC ROADS ENGINEERS. December 1936–June 1937. 3 in.

Arranged alphabetically by area Chalmette National Monument; Colonial National Historical Park; Fort Matanzas National Monument; Fort Pulaski National Monument; Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania County Battlefield Memorial National Military Park; Gettysburg National Military Park; Guilford Courthouse National Military Park; Petersburg National Military Park; Scotts Bluff National Monument; Shiloh National Military Park; and Vicksburg National Military Park, and thereunder chronologically.

Reports submitted by engineers assigned to road projects in Park Service areas. With the reports are maps, charts, photographs, and other illustrations. Most of the reports are for April and June 1937; there are reports for only a few areas, mostly in the East and South.

RECORDS OF THE FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN SAN FRANCISCO

The Field Headquarters in San Francisco was organized in 1927 to coordinate the work of the several field divisions: Engineering, Landscape Engineering, Educational, Forestry, and Sanitary (personnel detailed from the Public Health Service). The Chief Engineer was the head of the Engineering Division, and he was in general charge of the Field Headquarters. The headquarters of the Educational Division and the Forestry Division were in Berkeley; and in practice the Field Headquarters was concerned chiefly with the work of the Engineering Division and the Landscape Engineering Division (renamed Landscape Architecture Division in 1928).

From 1930 to 1937 a gradual transfer of direction of technical functions from the field to Washington took place. In 1935 the use of the term “Field Headquarters” was discontinued. In 1937 the Chief Engineer moved from San Francisco to Washington, D.C., and the field division offices in San Francisco and Berkeley were closed. Some duties formerly assigned to the field divisions were transferred to the new regional offices.

The records of the Field Headquarters in San Francisco include some records of the Engineering Division and the Landscape Engineering Division for the period before they were moved to San Francisco in 1927. Also see the records of the Branch of Engineering (entries 70-76) and the Branch of Plans and Design (entries 78 and 79).

77. CLASSIFIED FILES. 1925-36. 23 ft.

Divided into general records, records relating to individual parks arranged alphabetically, and records relating to monuments arranged alphabetically. Thereunder arranged for the most part according to a decimal subject classification system similar to that used in the Washington Office (see entry 10). Sometimes records relating to the work of the Landscape Division are separated from those relating to the work of the Engineering Division, and there are subheadings for some of the classifications. Within each heading or subheading arranged for the most part chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 19 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, reference copies of letters sent by other offices, reports, memorandums, press releases, other issuances and publications, clippings, photographs, tables, estimates, and bills of lading. The records for the period before October 1927 were transferred from the office of the Engineering Division in Portland, Oregon, and the office of the Landscape Engineering Division in Los Angeles. Some records are dated as early as 1919; comparatively few records are dated after 1931.

RECORDS OF THE BRANCH OF PLANS AND DESIGN

The Branch of Plans and Design was a continuation of the Landscape Engineering Division established in 1918. The name was changed to Landscape Architecture Division in 1928 and to Branch of Plans and Design in 1933. Its headquarters was moved several times. It was in Los Angeles from 1923 until 1927 when the Division was made part of the Field headquarters in San Francisco. An eastern office in Washington was established in 1930. The head of the division was known successively as Landscape Engineer, Chief Landscape Engineer, and the Chief Landscape Architect. In 1933 the Chief Landscape Architect began to spend most of his time at the eastern office in Washington, but the San Francisco office remained open until 1937. From 1938 to 1943 the Chief Landscape Architect was called the Chief of Planning. In 1946 the Branch of Plans and Design was merged with the Branch of Engineering to form the Branch of Development.

The Branch of Plans and Design supervised architectural and landscape designing, planning, development, and construction. Beginning in 1931 it was responsible for the preparation of Master Plans.
Records of the Landscape Engineering Division and Landscape Architecture Division are among the records of the Field Headquarters in San Francisco (entry 77).

78. MONTHLY NARRATIVE REPORTS. 1936-38. 9 ft.

Arranged by year, thereunder by Park Service region, and thereunder by month.

Submitted by landscape architects and some other employees in field offices. They relate mainly the Emergency Conservation Work (later the Civilian Conservation Corps) and other projects in both National Park Service areas and in State and local parks. Photographs accompany many of the reports. A few reports cover periods other than a month.

79. MASTER PLANS. 1931-41. 36 ft.

For the most part arranged alphabetically by area and thereunder chronologically; but there are exceptions to accommodate different sizes. A list of the plans is available in the National Archives.

Sets of maps and drawings, sometimes with accompanying statements, depicting work planned for Park Service areas. They were prepared in area and regional offices and relate to such subjects as topography, roads, and trails, administration and utility areas, fire control, and vegetation types. For some areas new plans were prepared almost every year; for other areas, less frequently.

RECORDS OF THE OFFICE OF DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION

The Branch of Engineering merged with the Branch of Plans and Design to form the Branch of Development in 1946 (renamed the Development Division in 1947 and then the Planning and Construction Division in 1950). On May 1, 1951 the Planning and Construction Division was renamed the Design and Construction Division. The Division handed matters relating to architecture, landscape architecture, engineering, parkway road construction, water rights (transferred to the Branch of Lands in 1950), and land acquisition. Until 1954 the Division had a Washington Office for oversight, with representation in each of the four regional offices and National Capital Parks. As part of a reorganization of the Service in 1954 design and construction functions were removed from the regional offices and consolidated in the newly established Western Office of Design and Construction (San Francisco) and the Eastern Office of Design and Construction (Philadelphia). A Design and Construction staff remained in the Office of National Capital Parks (later designated a field office) and a small headquarters staff in the Washington Office. Later the Office of National Capital Parks Design and Construction Division and the Washington, D.C. unit were merged into one office.

As part of a reorganization of the Service, effective November 8, 1961, the title of the Division of Design and Construction was changed to Office of the Assistant Director, Design and Construction. In 1966 three Planning and Service Centers were established in San Francisco, Philadelphia, and Washington, D.C. Design and Construction functions were part of the organization of the centers. In 1969 the Philadelphia Service Center was closed and its function transferred to the Washington, D.C. Planning and Service Center.

80. GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION. 1965-68. 58 ft.

Arranged by the same file system as the Administrative Files, 1949-71 (entry 11). A file title list appears as Appendix 20 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, minutes and summaries of meetings, trip reports, field study reports, work orders, administrative issuances, cooperative agreements, project construction proposals, park development schedules, weekly reports to the Director, monthly progress report forms, Master Plans, press releases, newspaper clippings, photographs, maps, sketches, and drawings. The trip reports are often detailed studies and analysis of site development potential and site inspections. The records concern on-site evaluations of physical resources; review of Master Plans; building restorations; landscaping; shore erosion control; and the construction of park facilities including road and trail systems, visitors’ centers, campgrounds, water systems, mechanical installations, and staff housing.

There are also records concerning the organization, functions, and staffing of the Washington Service Center; the relationship of that Center with the Philadelphia and San Francisco Service Centers; cooperation with advisory groups on design and construction of facilities; cooperation with the Bureau of Public Roads and State highway agencies concerning the realignment of roads and highways adjacent to park areas; and cooperation with the National Capital Planning Commission on the maintenance and development of parks and recreation areas in the District of Columbia. There are a few items dated before 1963 and after 1969.

During the time frame of these records, the Washington Service Center was under the direct supervision of the Assistant Director of Design and Construction.

81. RECORDS CONCERNING PERSONNEL MATTERS AND BUDGET ESTIMATES. 1954-66. 2 ft.

Arranged by subject.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, administrative issuances, program authorization forms, tabulated financial statements, and related records. The records concern personnel matters including recruitment, hiring, and performance evaluation policies; training programs; position classification standards; personnel management projects; and funding and staffing the Historic American Buildings Survey. The records also contain information relating to budget estimates and allocations; cooperation with the Public Health Service; and the reorganization of the Division of Design and Construction.

82. GENERAL FILES OF THE PHILADELPHIA PLANNING AND SERVICE CENTER. 1954-68. 29 ft.

Arranged by the same file system as the Administrative Files, 1949-71 (entry 11). A file title list appears as Appendix 21 in this inventory.

Included are correspondence, memorandums, administrative issuances, minutes of meetings, trip reports, press releases, inspection forms and reports, work orders, field trip reports, project priority lists, memorandums of agreement, project construction proposal review sheets, cost estimate sheets, copies of Master Plans, water analysis forms, handwritten notes, telegrams, drawings and sketches, copies of legislation, newspaper clippings, and photographs.

The records concern park development schedules, review of Master Plans and Land Acquisition Plans, planning and oversight of site work done by the Job Corps Conservation Centers, access to water supplies, development of plans for the construction of roads, trails, picnic areas, parking areas, visitors’ centers, and related projects, and cooperation with the Bureau of Public Roads. Also included is a file dated 1939-41 that contains lists of original tracings, Yellowstone National Park drawings, National Capital Parks development plans, and drawings for park sites throughout the country. (D18 Planning Program, Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania County Battlefields Memorial National Military Park, 1939-41, 1963-66, box 14). There are a few items dated after 1968.

83. RECORDS CONCERNING MASTER PLANS AND CONSTRUCTION PROGRAMS. 1957-61. 4 ft.

Arranged in two segments: files designated D18 – Planning Program (including Development Outline and Master Plans); and D22 – Construction Program, and thereunder alphabetically by name of park or other site. A file title list appears as Appendix 22 in this inventory.

The records include copies of Master Plans with review comments; correspondence; memorandums; project construction proposals; construction program schedules; construction progress and cost reports; priority lists; handwritten notes; summary notes of meetings; newspaper clippings; maps; and photographs. The records chiefly concern the review of Master Plans and related Development Plans but also include information about approval of plans and drawings, implementation of Master Plan objectives, allocation of funds for the Buildings and Utilities Program, processing of construction contracts, discussion about land acquisition and general development projects, and cooperation with local Civil War Centennial Commission committees and other historical organizations. The projects included visitors’ centers, campgrounds, roads and trails, bridges, parking areas, forest protection, and repair and maintenance programs.

RECORDS OF THE FORESTRY DIVISION

The Forestry Division was established in the Berkeley office of the Park Service in 1937. Chief Park Naturalist Ansel F. Hall also served as Chief Forester. In 1928 John D. Coffman was appointed Fire Control Expert. In 1933 he was transferred to Washington to assist in the organization and administration of the Emergency Conservation Work program and in November of that year the Branch of Forestry was established in Washington with Coffman as Chief Forester. The Branch was concerned chiefly with the protection of forests from fires, insects, diseases, and other dangers. Until 1936 the Chief Forester also directed the Emergency Conservation Work program in national parks. From 1938 to 1943 the Chief Forester was called the Chief of Forestry. In 1947 the Branch of Forestry was redesignated the Forestry Division. No organizational unit with the title Forestry appears on Service organization charts after 1956.

84. CORRESPONDENCE AND SUBJECT FILES. 1928-59. 90 ft.

The records are arranged in sections – General Files, regional files, and by park areas – and thereunder by a decimal classification scheme, followed by a fourth section concerning Emergency Conservation Work and related programs arranged alphabetically by park area. A file title list appears as Appendix 23 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, fire control plans, annual fire reports, forest protection requirements reports, insect survey reports, cooperative agreements, rangers’ handbooks, minutes of meetings, administrative issuances, annual estimates and other fiscal forms, press releases, copies of legislation, newspaper clippings, maps, and photographs.

The records chiefly concern forest management and protection, including fire prevention and control, tree preservation, and treatment of tree diseases. There are also records concerning park boundary extensions, wildlife habitat, vegetative surveys, soil and moisture conservation, timber cutting and sales, grazing, and ecological surveys; and cooperation with the Forest Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, Resettlement Administration, Public Works Administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, and War Department.

There is also a section of personnel files concerning individuals chiefly employed in Emergency Conservation Work and Civilian Conservation Corps positions. The files variously contain employment applications, employment histories, letters of recommendation, copies of professional papers, and professional and personal correspondence.

85. FOREST FIRE REPORTS. 1928-49. 3 ft.

The comparatively few reports for the years 1928-31 are together. For the years 1932-41, the reports are arranged for the most part alphabetically by park area and thereunder chronologically. For 1942-49 they are arranged by year, thereunder by Park Service region, and thereunder alphabetically by park area.

Chiefly forms completed for individual fires. They give information concerning location (usually including a small map or plat), cause, physical conditions, action taken, damages, cost of suppression, and other matters. Also included are some narrative reports, memorandums, correspondence, and other records. There are some separate reports for recreational demonstration areas, 1935-44.
86. FOREST FIRE REPORTS. 1950-63. 4 cu. ft. (in 4 cubic-foot boxes)

The reports are arranged by year, thereunder by region, and thereunder alphabetically by park area. For the years 1950-54, there are reports for Regions 1-4. For the years 1955-61, there are reports for Region 1-5. For the years 1962-63, there are reports for Regions 1-6. There is a separate file of reports for the Blue Ridge Parkway for 1955.

The reports are an accretion to the records described in entry 85. The series is chiefly composed of completed “Individual Forest Fire Report” forms, which give the date, location, type, cause, acres of land burned, action taken, and suppression costs. Some of the forms are accompanied by narrative reports and sketch maps.

RECORDS OF THE WILDLIFE DIVISION

In 1929 a Wild Life Survey was organized in the Berkeley office of the National Park Service. Until 1931 it was financed entirely by George M. Wright. The government began contributing to its support in 1931 and took over the financing completely in 1933. In 1934 the Wild Life Division, with Wright as chief, was formally established in the Washington Office within the Branch of Research and Education to direct all activities concerning the conservation and management of wildlife. On July 30, 1934, the Park Service changed its usage from “wild life” to “wildlife.”

In December 1939 the duties and personnel of the Wildlife Division were transferred from the Park Service to the Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Fisheries. These two agencies were merged on June 20, 1940, to form the Fish and Wildlife Service. Personnel of the Fish and Wildlife Service continued to work in close cooperation with the Park Service. Biological work was resumed by the Park Service in 1944, but no separate records of the administrative units in charge of this work are in the National Archives.

Arranged by park areas, other subjects, and correspondents and thereunder for the most part chronologically. Records relating to Emergency Conservation Work are arranged by enrollment period and thereunder by area. A few records are dated before 1934 and after 1936. A file title list appears as Appendix 24 in this inventory.

Correspondence, memorandums, reports, procedural issuances, opinions of the Solicitor of the Department of the Interior, copies of legislative bills and acts, copies of executive orders and proclamations, lists, press releases, clippings, photographs, and maps.

88. RECORDS OF DAVID H. MADSEN. 1930-39. 3 ft.

The records are arranged alphabetically by park area or other subject and thereunder in rough chronological order. For other records maintained by Madsen during the period when he was Supervisor of Fish Resources, see the following entry. A file title list appears as Appendix 25 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, copies of correspondence of other offices, memorandums, narrative reports, work progress reports, stream survey reports, travel reports, procedural issuances, vouchers, and photographs. Mr. Madsen was appointed Assistant Land Purchaser in August 1930. On December 26, 1930, he was instructed to give as much attention as possible to problems affecting wildlife and was given the additional title of Supervisor of Wild Life Resources. On March 2, 1934, his title was changed from Assistant Land Purchaser to Wild Life Expert. In March 1935 he was given the new position of Fish Culturist; in May of the same year the title was changed to Supervisor of Fish Resources. In all these positions, his headquarters were in Salt Lake City. He and his office were transferred to the Bureau of Fisheries in December 1939.

Arranged alphabetically by area or other subject and thereunder chronologically: Boulder Dam, Crater Lake National Park, Dinosaur National Monument, Escalante National Monument, Glacier National Park, Grand Canyon National Park, Grand Teton National Park, Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Mount Rainier National Park, Olympic National Park, Rocky Mountain National Park, Yosemite National Park, Yellowstone National Park, and Zion National Park. See the previous entry for other records maintained by David H. Madsen, as Supervisor of Fish Resources and in former positions.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, copies of correspondence of other offices, narrative reports, work progress reports, lists, procedural issuances, vouchers, clippings, and photographs and other records maintained by Madsen.

RECORDS OF THE BRANCH OF RECREATION, LAND PLANNING, AND STATE COOPERATION

The Branch of Lands, also known as Lands and Maps, was established in 1928 to investigate areas proposed as parks and to supervise land acquisition activities. On July 1, 1932, the name of the Branch was changed to the Branch of Planning, and supervision of land acquisition activities was transferred to the Branch of Lands and Use, a predecessor of the Office of the Chief Counsel.

In 1933 the Branch was put in charge of Emergency Conservation Work (later the Civilian Conservation Corps) activities in State and local parks. On January 15, 1936, it was also assigned CCC work in the national park areas, previously assigned to the Branch of Forestry. The Branch was also in charge of Work Projects Administration projects; the recreational demonstration area program for the development of submarginal land as parks; the park, parkway, and recreation-area study, undertaken in cooperation with State and local governments to aid in planning the development of public park facilities; and for a time the U.S. Travel Bureau. During World War II it directed the Civilian Public Service program for conscientious objectors in national and State parks.

The name of the Branch was changed several more times: Branch of Planning and State Cooperation (1935), Branch of Recreational Planning and State Cooperation (1936), Branch of Recreation, Land Planning, and State Cooperation (1938), Branch of Recreation and Land Planning (1941), Branch of Land Planning (1942), Branch of Lands (1943), Lands Division (1947), and Land and Recreational Planning Division (1948). In 1950 the Division was divided into the Land Planning Division and the Recreational Planning Division. There have been later changes. In this inventory the name of the Branch of Recreation, Land Planning, and State Cooperation is used because most of its records in the National Archives relate to programs of the Depression period and this name is most descriptive of its activities during those years.

Until 1938 the head of the Branch was designated an Assistant Director of the National Park Service. In that year his title was changed to Supervisor of Recreation and Land Planning. Later it was changed successively to Chief of Land Planning, Chief of Lands, and Chief of Land and Recreational Planning. Conrad L. Wirth was the head of the Branch during most of the period covered by the records described in entries 90-134.

90. STATE PARK FILE. 1933-47. 206 ft.

There are general records, records relating to regional offices, and records relating to each State arranged in alphabetical order (including a section for parks in the Tennessee Valley Authority area) and thereunder according to the decimal classification system used for the Central Classified Files of the National Park Service (see entry 10). Within headings and subheadings the individual documents are usually arranged chronologically. Comparatively few documents are dated after 1943. A file title list appears as Appendix 26 in this inventory.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, narrative and statistical reports, accident and travel reports, minutes, procedural issuances, bulletins, press releases, directories, estimates, requisitions, purchase orders, contracts (invitation, bid, and acceptance forms), vouchers, inventories, photographs, maps, tables, charts, copies of periodicals and other publications, speeches, clippings, and other records relating to Civilian Conservation Corps projects supervised by the Service in State and local park areas.

91. STATE PARK AND RECREATIONAL AREA HISTORY CARDS. 1935-40. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder alphabetically by area.
Information on the 5”x 8” cards includes the nearest town, the agency that administered the area, year established, topography, historical features, acreage, and dates Master Plans were submitted. A card at the end of the last box provides a key to characters under “type” and “deficiencies” found in the reports and plans. Some cards indicate that data came from Master Plan reports.

92. PROCEDURAL ISSUANCES CONCERNING CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS AND CIVIL WORKS ADMINISTRATION WORK. 1933-34. 2 ft.

Arranged in rough order by type of record or subject and thereunder for the most part chronologically.

Included are circulars, bulletins, orders, handbooks and supplements, press releases, and sample forms issued by the Park Service, the Office of the Secretary of the Interior, Emergency Conservation Work (later Civilian Conservation Corps), the Civil Works Administration, the War Department, and other offices. There are also many mailing lists for individual items.

93. RECORDS OF DISTRICT OFFICERS AND INSPECTORS CONCERNING STATE PARK EMERGENCY CONSERVATION WORK. 1933-35. 5 ft.

Arranged by district and thereunder chronologically. For reports for the period after the districts were replaced by regions, see entry 94.

Mainly semi-monthly and weekly narrative reports, some with photographs, clippings, and other illustrations.

94. REPORTS OF REGIONAL OFFICERS AND INSPECTORS CONCERNING STATE PARK EMERGENCY CONSERVATION WORK. 1935-36. 6 ft.

Arranged by region and thereunder for the most part chronologically. For reports for the district offices in existence from 1933 to 1935, see entry 93.

Chiefly monthly and semi-monthly narrative reports often with photographs, clippings, and other illustrations. Included are some reports by assistant regional officers and by technicians. There are reports for the original eight regions in operation before their consolidation in 1936.

95. PROJECT REPORTS ON CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS PROJECTS IN STATE AND LOCAL PARKS. 1933-37. 55 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State, thereunder by project number, and thereunder for the most part chronologically. There is an index to Civilian Conservation Corps Camps in State and Local Parks in box 1. Some reports for Hawaii and the Virgin Islands are at the end of the series. A list of file titles appears as Appendix 27 in this inventory.

Periodic (mostly bi-monthly) narrative and photographic reports usually submitted by project superintendents. There are also summary reports and some special reports. In addition to a large number of photographs, some maps, plans, charts, tables, and other illustrations are with the reports.

96. NARRATIVE REPORTS CONCERNING CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS PROJECTS IN NATIONAL PARK SERVICE AREAS. 1933-35. 16 ft.

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by State, thereunder by project number, and thereunder chronologically. Some reports are arranged alphabetically by area. Many of the reports were maintained at one time by the Branch of Forestry. An index to Civilian Conservation Corps camps in National Parks or at National Monuments is in the first box. A file title list appears as Appendix 28 in this inventory.

Mainly general progress reports, but some concern specific subjects and work programs. Most of the reports were prepared periodically by project and camp superintendents; but some were prepared by park superintendents, engineers, and others. Included are many photographs, maps, plans, statistical reports, tables, charts, and other illustrations. A few reports are dated later than 1935.

97. RECORDS CONCERNING WORK PROJECTS ADMINISTRATION PROJECTS. 1935-43. 3 ft.

There are general records, records relating to each region, and records relating to each State, arranged in alphabetical order and thereunder for the most part chronologically, except that sometimes records relating to a particular subject are together.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, reports, memorandums, procedural issuances, tables, lists, schedules, photographs, and clippings. The records relate chiefly to proposed projects.

98. PROGRESS REPORTS ON WORKS PROJECTS ADMINISTRATION PROJECTS IN STATE AND LOCAL PARKS. 1935-37. 2 ft.

There are reports for the following States in the order listed: Alabama, California, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and South Dakota. For each State the reports are arranged by project number and thereunder chronologically.

Periodic reports, chiefly monthly and bi-monthly, submitted by project superintendents. Most of them are narrative reports with statistics, photographs, maps, clippings, and other illustrations included. Some routing sheets and correspondence concerning the reports are included.

99. RECORDS CONCERNING WATER MATTERS. 1936-49. 42 ft.

Arranged by subject, in large part according to a numerical system. Some records have been assigned decimal classifications similar to those found in entry 10. Many of the subject headings concern areas and projects and are arranged geographically. Within headings and subheadings the records are usually arranged chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 29 in this inventory.

Included are reports, many published or processed, letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, maps, tables, charts, schedules, minutes, notices of hearings, copies of legislative bills, procedural issuances, press releases, clippings, photographs, and copies of publications. They relate to water resources and facilities, recreation areas at reservoirs, river basin programs, water diversion, flood control, and the like. Many of the records relate to Bureau of Reclamation and Corps of Engineers projects.

Records Concerning Recreational Demonstration Areas

100. RECREATIONAL DEMONSTRATION AREA PROGRAM FILES. 1934-47. 95 ft.

Divided into general records and records for each region. With the records for each region are records relating to the States in the region in alphabetical order and records relating to individual projects in the States. Thereunder arranged for the most part according to the National Park Service decimal classification system (see entry 10). Sometimes there are subject headings within decimal classifications. Some records are arranged by subject headings that are not assigned decimal classifications and some records are identified by Resettlement Administration classification numbers. Within headings and subheadings the records are usually arranged chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 30 in this inventory. Many records relating to land acquisition are in separate series (entries 101 and 103).

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, narrative reports, inspection reports, camp appraisal reports, project manager’s reports, weekly tract reports, offers to sell land, land appraisal reports, acreage determination certificates, schedules of land recommended for purchase, reports on families residing in project areas, questionnaires, employment reports, accident reports, permits, procedural issuances, maps, plans, photographs, newspaper clippings, press releases, brochures, copies of publications, charts, lists, tables, notices of Presidential authorization, estimates, vouchers, and financial statements. There are some records transferred from the Resettlement Administration and a few records dated later than 1947.

101. RECORDS ON RECREATIONAL DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS. 1934-36. 2 ft.

There are reports for the following States in the order listed: Kentucky, Michigan, Oklahoma, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. Arranged thereunder by individual project. Some of the same types of records are among those described in entries 100 and 103.

Mainly preliminary reports and final plans submitted by field officials and technicians. Included are photographs, maps, plans, estimates, tables, correspondence, land appraisal reports, offers to sell land, and other exhibits.

102. LAND PURCHASE CONTROL CARDS. 1934-36. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder by project number. The individual offer cards for a project are usually arranged in groups according to action taken on offers and thereunder alphabetically by owner. For the offers and other records submitted, see entry 103.

Cards for individual offers give name of owner, acreage, offer price, offer and tract numbers, expiration date, date of acceptance when applicable, dates of receipt and processing of offer and supporting documents, and occasional other information. Summary cards for projects are included.

103. RECORDS CONCERNING LAND PURCHASES. 1934-36. 7 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder by project number. For individual projects the records concerning the acceptance of offers are usually separated from the offers and supporting documents. The former are usually arranged chronologically and the letter by offer or tract number or alphabetically by name of owner. Other records concerning land purchases are among those described in entries 100 and 101.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, copies of correspondence of the Resettlement Administration, memorandums, notices of acceptance of offers, schedules of land purchase areas, offers to sell, options, appraisal reports, tract ownership data forms, plats, acreage determination charts and certificates, and recommendations of field officials.

104. PROJECT RECORDS OF THE PROJECT PLANNING AND CONTROL SECTION, LAND UTILIZATION DIVISION, RESETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION. 1935-36. 4 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State, thereunder by project number, thereunder by a numerical subject classification system, and thereunder chronologically.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, narrative and statistical reports, maps, applications for project numbers, budgets, and purchase orders for equipment relating to individual recreational demonstration projects. Other records transferred from the Resettlement Administration are among those described in entry 100.

105. NARRATIVE AND STATISTICAL REPORTS OF MANAGERS. November 1941–December 1942. 10 in.

Arranged by month and thereunder usually alphabetically by area.

Reports concerning use of areas, construction, maintenance, inspection, fire protection, and other pertinent subjects. Transmittal letters and some maps, photographs, and other illustrations are included.
106. LAND TRANSFER RECORDS. 1943-50. 2 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by area and thereunder for the most part chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 31 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, copies of quitclaim deeds and bills of sale, certificates of acceptance, transfer of property forms, memorandums, maps, reference sheets for transmitted abstract and title papers, and control cards, all of which relate mainly to the transfer of recreational demonstration lands and improvements to the States, as provided by an act of June 6, 1942 (56 Stat. 326). There are also records relating to transfers of areas to other Federal agencies, as further provided by the act. A few records are dated earlier than 1943. Other records concerning these transfers are among those described in entry 100.

Records Concerning the Recreational-Area Study

107. CLASSIFIED FILES. 1936-47. 15 ft.

There are general records, which include records concerning the regions; and there are records relating to the individual States arranged by region and thereunder by name of State. Thereunder for the most part arranged according to a few classification of the Park Service decimal system (see entry 10), especially 207 reports and 601-12 recreational areas. Sometimes there are subheadings within the decimal classifications. Within headings and subheadings the records are usually arranged chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 32 in this inventory.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, completed survey forms, narrative reports, memorandums, maps, charts, tables, schedules, photographs, clippings, copies of publications, procedural issuances, press releases, and estimates. Comparatively few of the records are dated after 1942. For maps maintained apart from the textual records see entry 213.

108. MONTHLY REPORTS. 1936-41. 2 ft.

Arranged by region and thereunder chronologically.

Narrative reports concerning recreation study and planning activities submitted by regional supervisors, State supervisors, assistant State supervisors, recreation planners, recreational specialists, and park planners. Tables, schedules, charts, and other illustrations are often included; and there are some transmittal letters and other correspondence. Most of the reports are for 1937 and 1938.

109. RECORDS CONCERNING COMPETITIVE RECREATIONAL DEVELOPMENT. 1935-40. 1 ft.

Arranged for the most part alphabetically by State and thereunder chronologically. Sometimes records concerning several neighboring States are filed together. A file title list appears as Appendix 33 in this inventory.

Included are reports, letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, maps, photographs, and clippings. The records relate to the investigation of possible duplication and conflict in the recreational development programs of different agencies, especially between Forest Service facilities and national and State parks.

110. REPORTS CONCERNING RECREATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE. 1940. 6 in.

Arranged alphabetically by State.

Forms submitted by regional offices concerning individual Federal and State areas being developed under the supervision of agencies of the Department of Agriculture. They give information concerning location, ownership, character and extent of development, management, financing, and other pertinent subjects. Often maps and transmittal letters and sometimes narrative reports accompany the form reports.
111. MISCELLANEOUS RECORDS. 1935-42. 1 ft.

Arranged for the most part by subject and thereunder chronologically.

Included are reports, correspondence, memorandums, maps, photographs, charts, tables, copies of publications, digests of laws, and sample forms. Many of the records relate to special studies.

Records of the Development Division

The Development Division coordinated and executed policies affecting development programs for Civilian Conservation Corps and Work Projects Administration projects, maintained conformity with established regulations and procedures, and prepared data and recommendation concerning project and job proposals.

112. NOTICES OF PRESIDENTIAL AUTHORIZATION FOR WORKS PROJECTS ADMINISTRATION PROJECTS. 1938-42. 4 in.

Arranged by fiscal year and thereunder alphabetically by State.

Chiefly processed copies of notices for individual projects with some tables.

113. MEMORANDUMS SENT TO FIELD OFFICERS. 1936-42. 5 in.

Divided into several subject groupings and thereunder for the most part arranged by assigned number. A list of the memorandums for each grouping accompanies the records.

Processed copies of circular memorandums.

114. REGIONAL OFFICE MEMORANDUMS. 1936-41. 3 in.

Arranged by region number and thereunder chronologically.

Processed copies of circular memorandums sent by regional offices relating principally to Civilian Conservation Corps and Work Projects Administration work.

115. RECORDS RELATING TO CIVILIAN PUBLIC SERVICE CAMPS. 1941-48. 6 ft.

There are general records and records relating to individual areas (including areas only proposed for camps). Thereunder, records relating to more specific subjects and particular kinds of records are often filed together. Within headings and subheadings for the most part arranged chronologically. Some records are designated by the 201 classification of the Central Classified Files of the National Park Service (see entry 10).

Included are memorandums, correspondence, narrative reports, statistical and financial reports, estimates, allotment advice forms, manual and procedural issuances, tables, photographs, and clippings. Civilian Public Service camps, in operation from 1941 to 1947, were for conscientious objectors and the sites were usually old Civilian Conservation Corps camps. They were generally under the supervision of the Selective Service System. Religious groups were responsible for camp administration; and difference agencies had technical supervision of work projects. National Park Service projects included forest protection work and the preservation and maintenance of park improvements. Camps were established at Glacier, Great Smoky Mountains, Hawaii, Sequoia-Kings Canyon, and Shenandoah National Parks; along the Blue Ridge Parkway; and at Patapsco State Park in Maryland. Details of enrollees were sometimes sent to other areas.

Records of the Project Application Section

116. GENERAL RECORDS. 1935-43. 3 ft.
Arranged by subject and thereunder usually chronologically.

Correspondence, memorandums, reports, procedural issuances, lists, tables, maps, estimates, sample forms, and other records relating mostly to Civilian Conservation Corps activities but also to Work Projects Administration work and other matters.

117. INSPECTION REPORTS. 1934-39. 2 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State with some reports at the end concerning recreation use of reclamation projects and the amount of work needed to complete projects.

Chiefly reports of investigations of State and local park sites proposed for development under the Civilian Conservation Corps program. There are also reports on work progress, investigations of charges, and other subjects. There are correspondence, photographs, maps, plats, clippings, and other records with the reports.

118. MEMORANDUMS AND CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS CAMPS. 1935-42. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder chronologically, except that there are usually separate records concerning requests for Civilian Conservation Corps development and occasionally concerning particular areas.

Chiefly copies. There are some reports, work program outlines, and other records. They relate especially to the establishment, continuation, and termination of camps.

119. RECORDS CONCERNING ABANDONED CAMPS. 1934-44. 2 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder by camp number.

Form reports, correspondence, memorandums, inventories, invoices, and other records relating particularly to transfers of custody and disposition of buildings and equipment. There are records for both Park Service camps and camps of other agencies. Some records are dated as late as 1949.

120. CAMP PROGRAM MEMORANDUMS. 1933-42. 6 ft.

Arranged by period. Thereunder there may be originals, revisions, and annotated sets maintained by different officials. Individual sets are usually arranged alphabetically by State.

Originals and carbon and processed copies of memorandums sent to the Director of the Civilian Conservation Corps and returned with his approval. They contain recommendations from regional officers and inspectors, lists, tables, correspondence, and other records.

121. INTERIOR DEPARTMENT CAMP DIRECTORIES. 1938-41. 3 in.

Arranged chronologically.

Periodic lists showing the designations and locations of Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camps and land development (Recreational Demonstration Area) projects under the technical supervision of agencies of the Department of the Interior. The name and party affiliation of the Member of Congress in whose district each camp was located are also given. Not a complete set. There are also two summary directories of CCC camps from the beginning of the CCC program to the time the directory was compiled.

122. ALL-SERVICE CAMP DIRECTORIES. 1933-41. 1 ft.

Arranged chronologically.
Periodic lists showing the designations and locations of all Civilian Conservation Corps camps.

123. ROAD MAPS. 1933-38. 1 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State.

Published maps distributed by gasoline companies and State governments with some other maps. On many maps the locations of Civilian Conservation Corps camps have been marked.

Records of the Work Control Section

124. FEDERAL PROJECT RECORDS. 1934-43. 48 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by area and thereunder usually divided into the following headings: correspondence, active jobs, completion records, work programs, and camp applications. Within headings usually arranged chronologically or by job number, as appropriate. A list of the project sites appears as Appendix 34 in this inventory.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, maps, blueprint plans, narrative reports, project application and accomplishment record forms, job application and completion record forms, job routing sheets, job application review forms, work program outlines, camp application review forms, camp applications, project sheets, estimates, justifications, and other records relating chiefly to Civilian Conservation Corps projects but also to Work Projects Administration projects in Park Service areas, in the Territory of Hawaii, and in the Virgin Islands.

125. STATE AND LOCAL PROJECT RECORDS. 1937-44. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder by project.

Included are job application and completion record forms, job applications review forms, notices of job clearance, work program outlines, requests for side camps, final Civilian Conservation Corps camp site liquidation inspection forms, blueprint plans, maps, specifications, bills of materials, estimates, justifications, memorandums, reports, and correspondence relating to projects in State and local parks in Texas, Utah, and Vermont.

Records of the Progress Records and Cost Analyses Section

126. RECORDS CONCERNING PROJECT PROGRESS AND COSTS. 1934-42. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by subject and thereunder chronologically.

Included are memorandums, correspondence, statistical reports, financial statements, tables, schedules, procedural issuances, rosters, press releases, and sample forms. The records relate chiefly to progress and costs on Work Projects Administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, and Recreational Demonstration Area projects.

127. RECORDS CONCERNING STATISTICAL COMPILATIONS. 1935-41. 10 in.

Divided into three main headings: operations, reference, and tabulations. Thereunder the records are arranged by more specific subjects and thereunder for the most part chronologically.

Memorandums, correspondence, procedural issuances, tables, charts, statistical reports and summaries, maps, requisitions, purchase orders, and other records relating chiefly to the reporting and tabulation of statistical information on Civilian Conservation Corps work.

128. EMERGENCY CONSERVATION WORK PROGRESS AND COST REPORTS. 1933-37. 3 ft.
Arranged alphabetically by area, thereunder by camp number, and thereunder chronologically.

Statistical reports for individual camps, chiefly monthly but also for other periods. The reports are for Park Service areas only; there are not reports for State and local parks.

Records of the Supervisor of Project Training

The Supervisor of Project Training was in charge of developing and coordinating a training program for Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees.

129. GENERAL RECORDS. 1935-42. 8 ft.

Arranged by subject for the most part in alphabetical order. For some subjects there are subheadings. Within subject headings and subheadings the records are usually arranged in rough chronological order.

Included are correspondence, memorandums, reports, procedural issuances, press releases, training manuals and outlines, addresses, agendas, minutes, tables, charts, maps, photographs, clippings, copies of publications, requisitions, and vouchers. There are some records, mostly copies of publications, dated before 1935.

130. CORRESPONDENCE AND MEMORANDUMS. 1935-42. 6 in.

Divided into the following headings: Washington office, regional offices, territories, Director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, superintendents, and miscellaneous. Thereunder arranged chronologically. There are not records in all the categories for every year; and there are many other letters and memorandums among other records of the office, especially the general records (entry 129).

Incoming and outgoing letters and memorandums, mostly copies.

131. JOB OUTLINES. 1936-42. 2 ft.

Except for some examples at the beginning considered particularly well prepared, arranged alphabetically by kind of job.

Chiefly standard forms prepared by field supervisors. They describe the purpose of particular jobs on projects and on- and off-the-job training to be provided for them.

132. RECORDS CONCERNING “P. T. [PROJECT TRAINING] SERIES” PUBLICATIONS. 1936-42. 2 ft.

Arranged by series publication number.

Printed copies, drafts, correspondence, memorandums, photographs, drawings, clippings, periodicals and other publications (some dated before 1936), and other records concerning the preparation and distribution of the “P.T. [Project Training] Series” of booklets. Some related to technical subjects, such as carpentry, concrete, lumber, and truck driving; and others to general training policies and methods.

133. CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS TRAINING MATERIALS. ca. 1935-43. 1 cu. ft. (in 1 cubic-foot box)

Arranged by assigned number or subject.

Chiefly Civilian Conservation Corps Project Training manuals numbered 1-22. There are also Safety Bulletins, a Small Water Developments Handbook, and a Final Report, Civilian Conservation Corps, 1933 to 1943.

134. PHOTOGRAPHS RELATED TO THE SUPERVISOR OF PROJECT TRAINING IN THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE AND THE CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS. ca. 1935–ca. 1941. 2 ft.
Arranged by subject.

The black-and-white photographs show various activities related to programs and work projects in the National Parks. Included are pictures of Civilian Conservation Corps trainees receiving instruction in forest fire management, the construction of indoor and outdoor facilities in the national parks, and training in the use of heavy equipment. There are also photographs of completed projects such as benches and tables, bridges, reservoirs, park roads, dams, and outdoor fireplaces. Also included are photographs of Native American trainees working on road development and reclamation projects at the Rocky Boy, Pine Ridge, Wind River, Fort Peck and Mission Indian Agencies. This series is designated 79-TR.

RECORDS OF THE DIVISION OF LAND ACQUISITION

The Branch of Lands first appears on an organization chart dated October 15, 1931. It was responsible for the acquisition of private holdings and studies of proposed park and monument areas. Legal work associated with land acquisition was handled in the Office of the Chief Counsel.

The title of the Branch changed as additional duties were added including the emergency land purchase program, the maintenance of records relating to land acquisition and status, review of boundary adjustments, handing proposals for naming geographical features, investigations of water resources, the formulation of policies concerning commercial activities in the National Park System, and supervision of recreational studies.

In 1947 it was named the Lands Division, in 1948 renamed the Lands and Recreational Planning Division, and later the Land Planning Division. In 1951 the Division was renamed the Lands Division and its Land Planning function was transferred to the Recreation Planning Division.

The latter Lands Division was composed of the Real Estate Branch to administer the acquisition of lands, the Water Resources Branch to administer the appropriation and use of water resources, Land Management Branch to review requests for special permits for grazing, use of park roads, mooring and docking facilities and other uses, and an Economic and Statistical Branch for the collection of statistical information concerning public use of the National Park System areas.

The Division was renamed several times. The title Land Acquisitions Division is used in this inventory because that was the organizational unit that maintained the most recent records described in this inventory.

135. RECORDS CONCERNING THE INVESTIGATION OF DEATH VALLEY NATIONAL MONUMENT. ca. 1955-67. 4 cu. ft. (in 4 cubic-foot boxes)

Arranged by subject or type of record.

A large portion of the records are related to a memorandum, dated August 6, 1958, prepared by Sidney McClellan concerning water rights and rights-of-way for ditches and pipelines in Death Valley National Monument. McClellan was the Field Solicitor (Department of the Interior) located in San Francisco, California. The memorandum has 167 attachments. A list is in box 1.

The records include letters received, letters sent, memorandums, opinions of the Comptroller General and Regional and Field Solicitors of the Department of the Interior, task force study reports, analysis of water values by hydraulic engineers, copies of notices dating from 1882 relating to the appropriation of water, transcripts of hearings, press releases, speeches, water measurements from the Furnace Creek area, maps, photographs, and copies of legislation and other congressional documents.

There is also correspondence with Members of Congress concerning the House Committee on Government Operations investigation of the Monument, the Secretary of the Interior, Director of National Park Service Region 4, Superintendent of Death Valley National Monument, Director of the National Park Service, heads of Service organizational units concerned with land acquisition and water rights, and corporate and private land owners and their attorneys.
The records relate to the Mission 66 program to upgrade administrative and visitor facilities at Death Valley National Monument and concern Master Plan objectives, Service water needs and water rights, water potential of Texas Spring and Furnace Creek, land exchanges, and land appraisals.

136. RECORDS CONCERNING WATER RESOURCES STUDIES. 1935-66. 1 cu. ft. (in 1 cubic-foot box)

Arranged by subject: Water Resources Committee Study (3 parts); Water Resources Policy Commission and Interagency Committee on Water Resources (2 parts); Southeast Region; Midwest Region, Southwest Region, Western Region; and Northeast Region.

The records include memorandums, correspondence, draft reports, descriptions of National Park Service water development projects, work orders, minutes of meetings, summary tables of expenditures, handwritten notes, and maps. The records concern National Park Service cooperation with the Committees and Commissions investigating water resources and water use, drainage, multiple use projects, and water resources for recreational use. The regional files concern water resource investigations and development programs, and the water rights acquisition by the National Park Service.

137. PERSONAL FILE OF ALLISON VAN VLIET DUNN. 1936-64. 2 in.

Arranged chronologically

The file contents include correspondence, memorandums, and employment application forms. The records concern appointments, position descriptions, and other personnel matters; work on irrigation systems, water supplies, and hydroelectric projects; establishment of the National Park Service regions; supervision of Emergency Conservation Work activities; and construction of roads and trails.

Allison van Vliet Dunn began his career with the National Park Service in 1928 holding a temporary appointment as a Principal Engineering Draftsman. He was hired as a permanent employee in 1929 as an Associate Engineer. He worked in the Branch of Lands and Use and Branch of Engineering as a hydraulic engineer. In 1946 he became Chief of the Water Division. He retired in 1963 as Chief of the Branch of Water Resources.

138. LAND ACQUISITION FILES. 1933-70. 20 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by Park, Monument, Battlefield, Historic Site, proposed area or subject and thereunder chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 35 in this inventory. There are a few documents dated as early as 1910.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, copies of Federal and State legislation, departmental reports on proposed Federal legislation, boundary status reports, Mission 66 Prospectus and approval notices, Master Plan Reports, trip reports, lists of land owners, press releases, cooperative agreements, opinions of the Solicitor of the Department of the Interior and the Assistant Solicitor for the National Park Service, summary and memorandum reports of meetings and conversations, progress reports, newspaper clippings, surveying contracts, appraisal review reports, photographs, survey plats, telegrams, and maps.

There are records relating to legal proceedings including judicial opinions, briefs, motions, transcripts of hearings, papers relating to condemnation proceedings, and related legal documents. There are also records relating to the conveyance of lands including copies of deeds, land exchange deeds and agreements, copies of warranty deeds, deeds of easement, quitclaim deeds, and deeds of release.

The records concern administration of the land acquisition program; proposed legislation establishing parks; the transfer of lands from the administrative jurisdiction of the Forest Service to the National Park Service; exchange of land between the Federal government and States; land donations; land appraisals and purchases; transfers of sites to State park agencies; acquisition of land by condemnation; park site extensions; land and boundary surveys; Mission 66 development programs; rights-of-way; grants of special use permits; zoning proposals for adjacent town-owned lands; cooperation with other Federal agencies to construct and maintain facilities on or adjacent to park lands; development of campgrounds and picnic areas; lease of land by the Service for park facilities; Civilian Conservation Corps activities; the acquisition of recreational demonstration areas adjacent or near park sites; the establishment of job corps sites; and park improvements such as staff housing, access roads, trails, and parking.

Of particular interest is a typescript set of reports concerning actions at the First and Second Battles at Manassas involving infantry units from Wisconsin, Michigan, Louisiana, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Vermont, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Texas, Pennsylvania, and Minnesota. Each report is accompanied by photographs and property maps. The property maps show the locations of land areas where actions described in the reports took place. Most of the photographs accompanying the reports were taken in 1953. (Manassas National Battlefield Park, Special Report on Certain Lands, n.d., box 38)

RECORDS OF THE OFFICE OF ARCHEOLOGY AND HISTORIC PRESERVATION

A Branch of Research and Education was established in the Washington Office on July 1, 1930. That Branch succeeded the Education Division, which had been established at the Field Headquarters of the National Park Service in Berkeley, California, in 1925. The field office continued to furnish museum planning and programs assistance to the parks. This office later became the Western Museum Laboratory. The Laboratory closed May 10, 1968.

The Branch of Research and Education conducted historical and archeological research and had responsibility for development of an educational program for the National Park System. In 1936 it was renamed the Research and Survey Division with a Historical Research Section and an Archeological Research Section. At the same time the collection and preservation of historical and archeological records about prehistoric and historic American sites and buildings (authorized by the Historic Sites Act of August 2, 1935) was handled by the Branch of Historic Sites and Buildings. The branches were combined into the Branch of History (later the History Division) in 1942. There were many other organizational changes. In 1962 the Division of Archeology and History was created. In 1968 the Division was renamed the Office of Archeology and Historic Preservation. The Office had four program areas: Archeology and Anthropology, Historic Architecture, History, and Keeper of the National Register.

139. SUBJECT FILES. 1926-70. 10 ft.

Arranged by subject in rough alphabetical order. A file title list appears as Appendix 36 in this inventory.

The records include manuscript and published copies of reports and articles including the history of the National Park Service and Service programs; minutes of meetings of government commissions, historical associations, National Park Service personnel, and other groups; conference proceedings; correspondence; memorandums; research notes on Civil War topics; congressional reports, resolutions, and legislation; scripts for talks; lists of historic sites; newspaper clippings; trip reports; administrative issuances; research proposals; bibliographies; handwritten notes; photographs; and related records.

The records concern service on and cooperation with Service, Departmental, and Interagency Committees; procedures for the registration of historical landmarks; implementation of the Historic Sites Act; development of policies governing historical and archeological research; establishment, organization, and functions of commissions such as the Civil War Centennial Commission; role of the History program in supporting the Mission 66 initiative; cooperation with historical societies, State conservation agencies, non-profit park and monument associations, and other conservation groups; identification, preservation, and restoration of historic buildings; cooperation with other Federal agency history programs, in particular the Army War College; exchange of information with national park agencies in other countries; and other related subjects.

140. HISTORIC SITES SURVEY CARDS. 1934-37. 3½ ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State. Also included are the District of Columbia, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Some States are organized by county or municipality. Thereunder the specific sites are in alphabetical order.
The 5”x 8” double-sided cards have preprinted sections for the following information: site name (including any notable individuals associated with the site); location (City, State, often including County); description (brief history of site); owner/sponsor; condition (including extent of deterioration, vandalism, or excavation); bibliographic notes comments/remarks (many times the history of the site is continued here); significant historical dates attached to site; National Park Service Field Report and Research Report; Historic American Buildings Survey measurements; and supplementary material. A few cards have entries as late as 1950. The latest date is March 14, 1956 (Grant’s Cottage in Mount McGregor, New York).

The types of sites include battlefields and military parks and other historical sites related to French and Indian War, Revolutionary War, Mexican War, and Civil War, along with various military forts pertaining to “Indian” wars in the West; historic homes, birthplaces, inns, and taverns; churches, Spanish missions, Mormon settlements, and non-Spanish missions; American Indian settlements, villages, and burial mounds; political historic sites, memorials, shrines; cemeteries (chiefly those of political families and veterans cemeteries); and “Main Street” communities. There are also “Archeological Site Inventory Card” headings or annotations most often appearing on cards referring to pre-contact Native American sites.

Some cards are color coded: blue flags – site approved by advisory board; yellow flags – site disapproved; red flags – site is under consideration; and green flags – site acquired by the National Park Service. There are notes referring to page numbers suggesting additional surveys, maps, and other paperwork. Some the survey reports are part of the records described in entry 142 in this inventory.

There are a few black-and-white photos attached or filed with site cards. Sketches attached or filed with the cards for Louisiana – Britton and Koontz Bank: and Mississippi – Southern plantation houses.

141. STATES FILES. 1934-79. 10 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State (including the District of Columbia). Records concerning American Samoa, the Trust Territories, and the Virgin Islands are in box 24. A file list appears as Appendix 37 in this inventory.

Chiefly correspondence concerning nominations of historic sites and buildings for designation as National Historic Landmarks and for placement on the National Register of Historic Places. The requests were made by State and local conservation agencies; local history and preservation societies; and private individuals. There is related correspondence with Members of Congress, Interior Department officials, conservation organizations concerned with the preservation of historic sites and buildings, academic institutions, and others. The records also include newspaper clippings, contracts for research on historic and archeological sites; copies of legislation, press releases; photographs, maps, blueprints, and pamphlets. There are a few reference items dated as early as 1925.

The files also contain site survey reports prepared in the 1930s by National Park Service historians and architects. Those reports concerning sites in Idaho, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Pennsylvania, and South Dakota that are identified by folder tabs and are listed in Appendix 37.

142. CORRESPONDENCE AND REPORTS RELATING TO SURVEYS OF HISTORIC SITES AND BUILDINGS. 1934-64. 9 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by State, site, or building. Some State files are divided into sections. Oversized records are in the last box (box 22). A file title list appears as Appendix 38 in this inventory.

The records include reports by National Park Service historians, archeologists, and engineers, “Proposed National Parks and Monument” forms, correspondence, memorandums, copies of legislation, handwritten notes, newspaper clippings, press releases, copies of scholarly papers and popular articles, meeting notes, and printed brochures. Some of the reports are accompanied by photographs, hand-drawn and printed maps, architectural drawings, floor plans and elevations. Many reports also include transcriptions from primary source documents such as correspondence, journals, official papers, and maps.

The records chiefly concern the qualifications of sites to be made part of the National Park System and review of proposed sites by the Advisory Board on Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings, and Monuments. Some records also contain advice to local and State historical organizations on the preservation and restoration of historic sites. The sites discussed in these records include Native American and early settler archeological sites; European explorer landing sites and exploration routes; colonial- and western-expansion-era forts; emigrant trails and settlements; Revolutionary War, Civil War, and Native American conflict battle sites; birthplaces and homes of famous individuals; homes and buildings associated with historic events; commercial and government buildings; Spanish missions; pre–Civil War churches; formative industrial and manufacturing sites; commercial transportation routes; scenic and natural sites; historic areas of cities; proposed recreation areas; community and State parks.

Some reports were compiled by other government agencies such as the Tennessee Valley Authority and State historical offices. The oversized records in the last box are chiefly reports prepared in 1928 by the Historical Section of the Army War College on Civil War battle sites. There are many reports and other items in the files that are not dated. A few reference items are dated before 1934.

Many of the these reports are referred to on the Historic Site Survey Cards described in entry 140 in this inventory.

143. THEMЕ SURVEY SHEETS FOR WESTERN STATES. 1958-66. 15 in.

Arranged by theme: Early Indian Farmers; Indian Villages and Communities; Spanish Exploration and Settlement; Political and Military Affairs, 1830-1860; Westward Expansion, Lewis and Clark Trail; Westward Expansion, The Cattleman’s Empire; Westward Expansion, The Farmer’s Frontier; Westward Expansion, The Mining Frontier; Westward Expansion, Transportation and Communications; Westward Expansion, Great Westward Migration; Westward Expansion, Military and Indian Affairs; Westward Expansion, Fur Trade; Westward Expansion, Texas Revolution and War with Mexico: Westward Expansion, Great Explorers; Indigenous Peoples; Agriculture; Commerce and Industry; Travel and Communication; Conservation of Natural Resources; The Arts and Sciences, Inventions and Scientific Discoveries; The Arts and Sciences, Literature and Music; The Arts and Sciences, Painting and Sculpture; The Arts and Sciences, Education, Alaska and California; The Arts and Sciences Education, Idaho, Washington, and Oregon; Political and Military Affairs; and Development of U.S. to World Power, Hawaii. Thereunder some file contents are organized by State.

The records are printed forms with sections: the State; theme(s); name of site; exact location of site; name and address of present owner; importance and description of site; bibliographical references; reports and studies; photographs; condition; present use; date of visit; name and title of recorder; date the sheet was completed. A few forms are accompanied by photographs and site maps. The sites were visited 1946-65. A few sites were not visited.

144. CONTRACTS. 1964-1980. 15 in.

Arranged by contractor: Afro-American Bicentennial Corporation, 1971-77 (box 1); and American Association for State and Local History, 1964-80 (boxes 2-3).

The records include drafts of contracts, correspondence, memorandums, press releases, research proposals, studies, reports, manuscripts, conference agendas, a black-and-white photograph of Beaumont (Jefferson Davis’s home in Biloxi, Mississippi; box 3), and related records.

The Afro-American Bicentennial Corporation was contracted to furnish historical studies of historic sites relating black history and culture in the United States in the form of site surveys and site descriptions of potential National Historic Landmarks. The American Association for State and Local History was contracted to furnish products for the preparation of one book-length manuscript in the National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings Series.

145. GENERAL FILES. 1946-66. 6 ft.

Arranged by subject. Some files carry file designations similar to those found in the Administrative Files, 1949-71 (entry 11). Thereunder arranged chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 39 in this inventory.
The records include correspondence, memorandums, summary minutes of meetings of the Consulting Committee for the National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings, minutes of meetings of the Committee for the Recovery of Archeological Remains, research project proposals, copies of cooperative archeological agreements, trip reports, press releases, newspaper clippings, fiscal data sheets, manuscript copies of professional papers, handwritten notes, briefing papers, and copies of legislation.

Many of the records concern National Park Service coordination of river basin, highway, pipeline, and railroad right-of-way salvage archeology as part of the Interagency Archeological Salvage Program. Other subjects include discussion about the functional and organizational relationships between National Park Service archeology, historical, and interpretation programs; cooperation with professional organizations on matters relating to archeological excavation and recovery techniques; review of the history of anthropological research programs undertaken by Federal and State agencies, universities, and private organizations; the disposition of remains found during archeological excavations; and funding archeological salvage programs.

146. PERMIT FILES. 1966-86. 44 ft.

Arranged in three segments: Archeological Permits (boxes 1-93), Paleological Permits (boxes 94-106), and Archeological and Paleological Permits (box 106), thereunder by year, thereunder alphabetically by State, and thereunder by permit number. There are a few files for Guam. Permits issued for work in more than one State are grouped at the end of the year. There is an agency-compiled list of the permits and a box list in the first box.

A typical file contains the permit application and the permit. A few files also contain reports on the archeological investigations, correspondence, and maps. Some paleological permit files contain photographs. The permits authorized work upon lands of the United States under the act for the Preservation of American Antiquities, approved June 8, 1906 (34 Stat. 225). The lands in this file were administered by agencies in the Department of the Interior.

RECORDS CONCERNING THE JOB CORPS CENTER PROGRAM

The Job Corps Program was authorized by the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 (78 Stat. L. 508,) approved August 20, 1964. This program replaced the proposed Youth Conservation Program that had been proposed in 1963. The program emphasized education and training by doing useful conservation work.

The original eight Job Corps Centers (also titled Job Corps Conservation Centers and, later, Civilian Conservation Centers) under the administration of the National Park Service were Acadia, Catoctin, Cumberland Gap, Great Onyz (Mammoth Cave National Park), Harpers Ferry, Oconaluftee (Great Smoky Mountains National Park), Tremont (also Great Smoky Mountains National Park), and Wellfleet (Cape Cod National Seashore). Five of the Centers were closed on July 1, 1969: Acadia, Catoctin, Cumberland Gap, Tremont, and Wellfleet.

The program was supervised by a Departmental Jobs Corps Conservation Center Coordinator. In the National Park Service, a Jobs Corps Coordinator (later Officer) was responsible for central office planning and oversight the program. Management and supervision of the Centers was the responsibility of the parks where they were located or Regional Offices. In 1968 the Division of Job Corps was established. Later the program was retitled the Youth Conservation Program.

147. RECORDS CONCERNING THE YOUTH CONSERVATION CORPS PROGRAM. 1961-64. 3 ft.

There are general records followed by “Youth Conservation Project Proposal” forms arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder alphabetically by site.

This series contains information about laying the groundwork for the program before it was authorized by the Congress. There is discussion about the pending legislation, planning how to organize and implement the program when funding was authorized, establishment of camps, and proposed projects.

Arranged by the same filing system as the Administrative Files, 1949-71 (entry 11). A file title list appears as Appendix 40 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, memorandums, monthly narrative reports by Job Corps Centers, schedule forms showing activation dates for Job Corps Centers, project proposals, work program schedules, camp evaluation and inspection reports, training plans, conference proceedings, meeting notes, statistical summaries of work program accomplishments, camp data sheets, camp newsletters, financial reports, maps showing the locations and layout of camps, press releases, organization charts, newspaper clippings, and photographs.

The records concern the establishment of a policy for administrative relationships between the Job Corps Centers and park superintendents and Service regional directors, program organization, budgets, the hiring and training of personnel, recruitment of enrollees, developing enrollee education programs, camp administration, interagency cooperation, criteria for proposed camp selection, and community outreach programs.

RECORDS OF REGIONAL OFFICES
Records of the National Capital Region

The system of Federal parks in the District of Columbia, established by an act of July 16, 1790 (1 Stat. 130), became a unit of the Park Service on August 10, 1933. It had previously been directed by a succession of offices, ending with the Office Public Buildings and Public Parks of the National Capital, which was merged with the Park Service in 1933. The system of National Capital Parks has been operated as a separate unit of the Park Service since that year, operating as a field office, and in 1962 it was made the sixth region, the National Capital Region. In 1995 as part of a reorganization of the National Park Service the National Capital Region became the National Capital Area under the supervision of a Field Director. It included the Mall, Rock Creek Park, Potomac Park, Theodore Roosevelt Island, numerous smaller parks and recreation areas (including circles and triangles at intersections), cemeteries, parkways, the White House, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Thomas Jefferson Memorial, and other memorials, statues, historic structures in and about the District of Columbia, and other sites transferred from adjacent regions. For photographic and cartographic records of the National Capital Region maintained apart from the textual records, see entries 197-202 and 222-228.

149. SUBJECT FILES OF THE OFFICE OF NATIONAL CAPITAL PARKS. 1923-51. 34 ft.

Arranged by a numeric-subject filing system. A file title list appears as Appendix 41 in this inventory.

A large part of the records are forms, statements, and related records showing budget estimates for appropriations (often with justifications), supplemental estimates, and allotments of funds for construction and improvement projects. These files also include maps and color drawings of existing and proposed Recreation System facilities in the District of Columbia and other park areas in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area.

Another large segment of the records are Land Transfer Orders and General Orders (both with drawings showing property locations) concerning the transfer of land to the National Park Service. There are also minutes of meetings of the National Capital Parks and Planning Commission, Coordinating Committee of the National Capital Parks and Planning Commission, Committee for the Coordination of Plans for the District of Columbia Recreation System, and Capital Auditorium Commission.

Other records include correspondence; memorandums; inspection and progress reports on construction and maintenance projects (particularly work done by the Civilian Conservation Corps); copies of congressional acts, resolutions and reports; administrative issuances concerning budgets, personnel, and related matters; transcripts of legal documents concerning title to land transferred to the National Park Service; daily forms completed by the custodian of the Washington Monument; architectural sketches; photographs; and newspaper clippings.

Many monuments and sites are mentioned in the records including the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, District of Columbia Memorial, Thomas Jefferson Memorial, Potomac Park, Rock Creek, Anacostia, Meridian Hill, Roosevelt Island, Francis Scott Key Mansion, Army Medical Museum and Library, Washington National Airport, Washington Monument, Navy and Marine Memorial, and Baltimore-Washington Parkway.
There are also records concerning National Symphony Orchestra concerts at the Watergate location on the Potomac River; a proposed auditorium as a national memorial; dedications of parks, monuments, and memorial trees; proposed dam system on the Potomac River at Great Falls; conventions, expositions, field days, parades, encampments, and other ceremonial events; projects funded by the Public works Administration; cooperation with the Emergency Works Administration and Civilian Conservation Corps; commercial and residential zoning requests; use of National Park Service recreational facilities in the Washington, D.C. area by the War Department during World War II; postwar planning; and hiring, training, and supervision of employees.

Of particular interest are original, handwritten construction diaries, containing notes, sketches, and figures, 1879-85, concerning the Washington Monument found among personal effects of Gen. Thomas L. Casey, and given to the Office of Public Buildings and Grounds of the National Capital in 1925 (box 37, file 1430 Washington Monument, General, part 1, 1925-32).

The bulk of the records are dated 1924-48. The records were compiled and maintained by the Office of Public Buildings and Parks of the National Capital until 1933, when the responsibilities and functions of that organization were transferred to the newly created Office of National Capital Parks.

150. ANNUAL AND QUARTERLY REPORTS, NATIONAL CAPITAL REGION. 1913-42. 7 in.

Arranged by type of report or organizational unit.

Annual (calendar and fiscal year), quarterly, and monthly reports chiefly concerning inspections, maintenance, repair, and landscaping of areas under the jurisdiction of the Office of Public Buildings and Parks. There are also statistical reports on the use of facilities (numbers of permits issued, participants, and spectators) organized by sport or event, including those operated under lease agreements. Some reports include information about the opening and dedication of new facilities.

151. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT, NATIONAL CAPITAL PARKS, RELATING TO THE NATIONAL RESOURCES PLANNING BOARD. 1934-35. 1 in.

Arranged in rough chronological order.

Chiefly letters sent to academic experts and National Park Service specialists requesting information to complete a report regarding the conservation and preservation of archeological resources. The report was compiled by C. Marshall Finnan, Superintendent, National Capital Parks, who served on the Archeological Committee of the National Resources Board. This report was part of a larger report concerning public recreation.

152. REFERENCE FILE CONCERNING MONUMENTS, STATUES, AND SCULPTURES IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL PARK AREA. 1945-61. 2 in.

Arranged as described below. This file was probably once part of a larger series of records. The file designation 1430- supplemental appears on the file tab.

The records consist of two booklets and a processed report to Congress on “The National Inter-Faith Memorial” ca. 1945; a typewritten list titled “Memorials: Monuments, Statues and Sculptures in National Capital Park Area,” 1949 (88 subjects are listed with columns showing name and location; National Capital Parks Reservation Number; Architect/ Sculptor/ Landscape Architect/ or Cons. Lands. Arch.; date dedicated, erected or unveiled; description and type of material, source of gift, cost, or Act of Congress); a second copy of the list that also includes composition percentages for 44 of the subjects; a typewritten list “Statues, Monuments, and Memorials in National Capital Parks’ Areas, National Park Service, Department of the Interior,” 1961; a printed volume United States: Historical and Architectural Monuments, by Ronald F. Lee, 1951; and a typescript report in 2 parts, “The National Monument of the Constitution.”

153. DRAFT ANNUAL REPORT OF THE OFFICE OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS AND PUBLIC PARKS OF THE NATIONAL CAPITOL. 1933. 1 binder. 1 in.
Arranged by division.

154. REPORTS OF THE DIVISION OF RECREATION. 1934-35, 1937-38. 4 binders and unbound papers. 8 in.

Arranged chronologically.

Typescript narrative reports for the calendar years 1934-35 and 1937-38. The contents are arranged in alphabetical sections by type of activity or location. The larger sections are band and symphony concerts; baseball; boating; camps; celebrations and ceremonies; National Sylvan Theater; parades and assemblages; picnic groves, rest areas, and sleeping in parks; and tennis courts. The reports include photographs. There is also a plan showing rewiring and a fire alarm system for Ford’s Theatre dated 1937.

155. RECORDS RELATING TO REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS OF THE WHITE HOUSE AND EXECUTIVE OFFICE BUILDING. 1925-37. 1 ft.

Arranged for the most part by job and thereunder chronologically.

Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, advertisements for proposals, specifications, proposals, abstracts of proposals, estimates, contracts, bonds, insurance policies, invoices, drawings, and plans. Almost all these records were created by the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks of the National Capital, which was merged with the Park Service in 1933.

156. LAND ACQUISITION CASE FILES PERTAINING TO THE CHOPAWANSIC RECREATION DEMONSTRATION PROJECT IN VIRGINIA. 1934-40. 6 ft.

Most of the files are arranged by an assigned case number. An agency-compiled file list is in the first box.

The file contents vary but usually include a deed of bargain and sale, an acreage determination certificate, an abstract of title, affidavits verifying land ownership and payment of taxes, site acquisition account examination sheets, land appraisal reports, a site acquisition account form, and a plat of the property. Some files also contain checklists relating to the acquisition of the property, a tract map based on surveys field notes; letters from the Attorney General concerning review of the abstract of title, Circuit Court documents regarding the payment of delinquent taxes and condemnation proceedings, and newspaper clippings.

157. LAND ACQUISITION CASE FILES PERTAINING TO THE CATOCTIN RECREATION DEMONSTRATION PROJECT IN MARYLAND. 1935-43. 6 ft.

Arranged by parcel of land. Multiple parcels of land owned by one person are often grouped together. An agency-compiled list is in the first box.

Typical files contents include documents asserting clear title to the land by the sellers, transcribed copies of deeds, “Offer to Sell Lands” forms, land-ownership records, the legal description of the property; tract map, certificates of abstract regarding searches for evidence of title, examination sheets for site acquisition accounts, site account preparation sheets, land appraisal reports, affidavits, indentures, and letters from the Attorney General regarding review of the abstract of title. Other records found in the files include justifications for special use permits, petitions for condemnation, copies of court documents and jury findings, and judgments on the declaration of taking. A few files contain items dated up to 1954.

158. RECORDS RELATING TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE FILENE CENTER. 1969-81. 15 in.

Arranged by type of record.
Included are files containing correspondence with construction and engineering firms maintained by Project Inspector Joseph Godfrey, 1969-70, concerning compliance with contract specifications, the quality of the workmanship, organization of the work, and the construction schedule. The files also contain elevations, sketches, and engineering drawings. There are contract files, 1971-80, containing copies of bids and contracts. Other records include a bound “Specifications for Construction of the Filene Center Amphitheater Auditorium for the Performing Arts and Certain Site Improvements to Wolf Trap Farm Park,” 1968 (includes a copy of the construction contract dated February 19, 1969); “Report of Investigation of Fire Effects, Filene Center for the Performing Arts, Wolf Trap Farm,” 1971; photographs of the Center and adjacent areas; and a brief history of Wolf Trap Farm and farmhouse. There is also a file concerning the drilling of test wells at Pictured Rocks National Seashore.

159. CONTRACT FILES RELATING TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE FILENE CENTER. 1969-70. 2 ft.

Unarranged.

Chiefly transmittal forms from contractors. Some forms are accompanied by drawings for sound systems, foundations and footings for structures, framing plans, steel placement, stage rigging, decking, column locations, lighting systems, and elevations.

160. DRAWINGS AND TABLES CONCERNING ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS TO THE EXECUTIVE OFFICES. 1934. 2 in.

Blueprint drawings, calculations, and record of work done by the Fort Pitt Bridge Works.

161. RECORDS RELATING TO THE RENOVATION AND MODERNIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE MANSION. 1949-50. 6 in.

The records consist of a bound set of bidding documents, compiled in 1949, and specifications, compiled in 1950 (4 parts). The materials were compiled by the Public Buildings Service.

162. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT RELATING TO VOUCHERS FOR CONTRACT WORK DONE ON THE THOMAS JEFFERSON MEMORIAL. 1939-42. 2 in.

Arranged by consultant or contractor: Landscape Architect, Frederick Law Olmsted, 1939-42; Jury Member, Sculpture, Heinz Warneke, 1939-41; [Contract] No. 5, Road Work, Corson and Gruman Company, 1939; [Contract] No. 7, Professional Advisor, Sculpture, Henri Marceau, 1939-42; and [Contract] No. 8, Jury Member, Sculpture, James Earle Fraser, 1939-42.

Correspondence concerning approval of agreements and contracts, and payments for services rendered. Each file contains a copy of the agreement or contract. Francis F. Gillen, Senior Assistant Superintendent (and Chief of the Survey and Construction Division) of the National Capital Parks signed most of the outgoing letters.

163. REGISTER OF BURIALS AT BATTLEGROUND NATIONAL CEMETERY. n.d. 1 vol. 2 in.

Entries for individual burials give name, rank, company, regiment, date of death, grave mark, and sometimes other information. The dates of death are from 1864 to 1936. There are also some copies of records concerning the case of James Millay vs. the United States, involving a dispute over land acquired for the cemetery.

164. REGISTER OF VISITORS AT BATTLEGROUND NATIONAL CEMETERY. 1879-1903. 1 vol. 1 in.

The entries are chronological. Some newspaper photographs, chiefly of World War I soldiers, have been pasted in the volume.

165. CLIPPINGS CONCERNING WASHINGTON, D.C. 1934-37. 3 vols. 1 ft.

Arranged in rough order by subject and thereunder chronologically.
Mostly mounted in scrapbooks, but some items are loose. They relate to construction, use of parks, trees, police protection, the White House, and other subjects.

166. NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS OF WASHINGTON, D.C. 1936. ½ in.

Unarranged.

Chiefly scenic views but also includes articles concerning the construction of parkways, renovations of historic structures, construction of government buildings, and Civil War reenactments.

167. DRAWINGS PERTAINING TO THE RESTORATION OF THE TORCH AND FLAME ON THE STATUE OF LIBERTY. 1984. 3 items.

The drawings of the torch and flame show 1) enlarged photographic views of existing conditions; 2) elevations with details; and 3) sections with details. The photographic views sheet is dated 1984. The remaining two sheets are not dated. The records were created by the French-American Committee for the Restoration of the Statue of Liberty.

168. SUBJECT INDEXES TO SURVEYORS’ NOTEBOOKS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. ca. 1878, 1905-27. 10 in.

Arranged in three sections: by reservation number; in rough alphabetical order by subject, area, or place; and miscellaneous.

The 3”x 5” cards show the reason for the survey (including elevations; grades; cross sections and profiles; bench marks; test pits; roads and walks; sewer and water lines; plants, beds, and lawns; fountains; trespass; area and dimensions; highway bridges and approaches; locations of street and curb lines; retaining walls; concrete footings; and high tide levels), the year, and survey book and page number. The survey notebooks are described in entry 169.

169. SURVEYORS’ NOTEBOOKS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. 1878, 1905-41. 355 vols. 21 ft.

Arranged by assigned number. A few notebooks are not numbered and some bear several numbers. Notebooks concerning one area are often grouped together. An index to the notebooks is described in entry 168. There is a list of the notebooks in the first box.

The areas surveyed include Arlington Memorial Bridge; Botanic Garden; Capitol Grounds; Dupont Circle; East Potomac Park; the Ellipse; Freer Gallery; Judiciary Park; Lee Highway; Lincoln Memorial; Lincoln Park; the Mall; Manure Wagons; memorials, monuments, circles, and triangles; Meridian Hill Park; Monument Grounds and Annex; Montrose Park; railroad rights-of-way; Potomac Park; public buildings and adjacent grounds; Rock Creek Park; Rock Creek and Potomac Parkway; Smithsonian Institution grounds and buildings; tennis courts and baseball diamonds; West Potomac Park; and the White House building and grounds.

The notebooks contain notes, calculations, sketches, and notes for monthly reports. Some notebooks have an index. Notebook 5a contains an old index to part of the notebooks.

170. TRAVERSE SURVEY NOTES FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AND OTHER RECORDS. 1922-27. 3 ft.

Arranged alphabetically by site or subject.

The records consist of stapled or bound pages taken from survey notebooks (1922-27), and a set of 5”x 8” cards showing the status of land acquisition for the Rock Creek and Potomac Parkway (1916-22).
171. W. H. TIPTON COLLECTION OF CIVIL WAR PHOTOGRAPHS. 1863-94. ca. 1,770 items. 17 ft.

Arranged by assigned number. A list is available.

Each 24-minute program featured interviews with National Park Service personnel, historians, environmentalists, scientists, biologists, and naturalists who discussed such topics as the history of Biscayne Bay, the Appalachian Trail, fire control, the living geyser basins, underwater archeology, and the Yellowstone wilderness. Featured guests included Justice William O. Douglas, who spoke on the history of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and Ansel Adams, who was the guest on the “Photographer of the Parks” program.

207. VIDEO RECORDINGS. ca. 1988. 2 video recordings.

These recordings are titled “In Celebration of Bay View – A National Historic Landmark,” produced in 1988; and “Magnolia Plantation and Gardens, Charleston, South Carolina,” (production date unknown).

CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS
General Cartographic Records

The records described below cannot be attributed to any specific office or division of the Park Service. Maps of the early military parks and battlefields were prepared by national park commissions under the direction of the Secretary of War before the jurisdiction of these areas was transferred to the Park Service in the Department of the Interior. The earlier maps of national parks accompanied reports to the Secretary of the Interior, and the later published and photoprocessed maps were issued by the Park Service without reference to a specific office or division.
208. MAPS OF BATTLEFIELDS, NATIONAL MILITARY PARKS, AND CAMPAIGN AREAS. 1896-1921. 11 items.

Maps prepared under the direction of the Gettysburg National Park Commission consisting of published and photoprocessed copies of maps of the battlefield of Gettysburg drawn from original surveys of the Engineers of the commission on 1903 and 1916, a perspective view of the Gettysburg National Military Park published in color from a drawing made in 1919; a photoprocessed copy of a topographic map of the battlefield made from a tracing of the original maps as surveyed and drawn under the direction of G. K. Warren of the Corps of Engineers, and two blueprints of maps of the area between Fredericksburg, Virginia, and Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, one undated showing the itinerary of the Army of Northern Virginia and the other, dated 1921, showing the itinerary of the Army of the Potomac in the Gettysburg Campaign; a photoprocessed map of the battlefield of Shiloh, Tennessee, showing troop positions on the first day of battle, April 6, 1862, and a published map showing positions on the second day, April 7, as surveyed and drawn for the Shiloh National Military Park Commission in 1900; and a published military map showing the theater of operations in the Tullahoma, Chickamauga, and Chattanooga campaigns prepared by the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park Commission, 1896-1901, from the map of Col. William E. Merrill as published by the Chief of Engineers, U.S. Army, in 1874.

209. MAPS ACCOMPANYING REPORTS OF SUPERINTENDENTS OF NATIONAL PARKS TO THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR. 1905-08. 2 items.

A published topographic map of the Yellowstone National Park and part of the adjoining forest reserve showing roads and trails and the locations of snow cabins and stations, 1905; and a published copy of a sketch map of the Sequoia and General Grant National Parks and the Sierra Forest Reserve in the immediate vicinity showing roads and proposed trails, 1908.

210. MAPS OF THE UNITED STATES SHOWING AREAS ADMINISTERED BY THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE AND OTHER RECREATIONAL AREAS. 1933-48. 8 items.

Two published maps showing national parks and other areas administered by the National Park Service, and six published maps showing recreational areas of the United States under the control of Federal or State Governments. The latter maps show national parks, monuments, and forests; national military parks; historical monuments and sites; battlefield parks and sites; and main and connecting highways serving these recreational areas. On the reverse of the maps is a list of the areas by administrative agency with information pertaining to their characteristics and establishment.

211. MAPS OF NATIONAL PARKS AND NATIONAL MONUMENTS. 1931-40. 64 items. 1 in.

Arranged alphabetically by park or monument.

Two incomplete sets of published and photoprocessed maps of national parks and monuments.

212. MAPS SHOWING CONSERVATION WORK IN COOPERATION WITH STATE PARKS. 1934-35. 2 items.

A manuscript map showing proposed park developments under several project numbers in the Proctor-Piper State Forest, Vermont, 1934; and a blueprint of proposed recreational project plans in the Baxter State Park, Maine, in the summer of 1935.

Photoprocessed State park, parkway, and recreation-area study maps of North Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee prepared under the direction of the National Park Service State supervisor in cooperation with State planning boards and commissions; and a photostat of a map of the United States showing the status of State cooperation and completion of preliminary reports on the study as of September 30, 1939.

214. A MAP SHOWING EXISTING AND POTENTIAL RECREATIONAL LANDS IN IOWA. 1940. 1 item.
A photoprocessed map with symbols for parkways and monuments, and county or metropolitan park system areas colored with names added to identify State parks and monuments and highway waysides.

215. ROAD, ROUTE, AND HIGHWAY MAPS. 1919-44. 4 items.

216. CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS OF THE COLORADO RIVER BASIN RECREATIONAL SURVEY. 1943-46. 15 items.

An incomplete set of published maps and diagrams, plates 2-16, to accompany A Survey of the Recreational Resources of the Colorado River Basin, compiled in 1946 by the National Park Service (Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1950). These records show existing public recreation areas in the Colorado River Basin, routes of air surveys and other travel, reservoir sites, archeological cultures, life zones, geological provinces and sections, and they include separate maps of the Grand Canyon region, the Bridge Canyon project area, the Dewey Reservoir site, the Dinosaur National Monument, the Colorado–Green River area, and three maps relating to the land status, distribution of population, and suggested recreation use of the canyon lands in Utah.

217. MAPS GATHERED BY THE BRANCH OF HISTORIC SITES. ca. 1933-35. ca. 200 items.

Unarranged.

The maps were printed by the General Land Office, United States Geological Survey, Army Corps of Engineers, and State agencies. Most are stamped showing the State, date and type of map, and subject area. Included are photostatic reproductions of maps dating from 1755. The maps were intended to show the topographic and other features of areas such as emigrant trails, military posts, Civil War battlefields, archeological and burial sites, urban growth, and proposed parkways. A few maps are annotated.

218. APPALACHIAN TRAIL MAP. 1981. 1 item.

A printed map in color showing the Appalachian Trail, and National Park Service areas along the trail and National Forest areas adjacent to the trail.

219. ARCHITECTURAL DRAWINGS RELATING TO THE RENOVATION OF THE WHITE HOUSE. 1926, 1942-51. ca. 120 items.

Arranged roughly by subject.

The items dated 1942-51 are chiefly blueprints and tracings done for the Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion showing elevations, details of interior woodwork, fireplaces, hallways, stairs, friezes, mechanical systems, and the adjacent grounds, including elements to be reset or rebuilt. The drawings dated 1926 were drafted by the Army Corps of Engineers.

220. APERTURE CARD COPIES OF DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION RECORDS. ca. 1920-96. ca. 330,000 items.

Arranged alphabetically by park or site name.

This series consists of aperture card (35mm film chip set into a card) copies of maps, architectural and engineering drawings, and oversized textual material relating to the planning, construction and maintenance of buildings and facilities at National Park Service sites and proposed areas across the United States. Drawings were prepared by various National Park Service offices, concessionaires, other Federal agencies, and architectural and engineering contractors. Records include park master and general development plans; maps of road, trail, utility, water, and sewage systems; topographic, land ownership, and land classification maps; design and construction plans (elevations, floor plans, sections, and details) for all types of National Park Service and concessionaire structures; and renovation and remodeling drawings, signage designs.

221. ROAD PLANS FOR NATIONAL PARKS AND NATIONAL PARKWAYS. 1926-60. ca. 15,200 items.

Arranged alphabetically by park or parkway and thereunder numerically by project number.

This series consists of blueprints and blueline construction drawings for parkways and roads in National Parks. The areas include the Blue Ridge Parkway, the Natchez Trace Parkway, Yellowstone National Park, and Yosemite National Park.

222. NUMBERED CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS FILE. 1797-1987. ca. 950,000 items.

Arranged in two subseries “Old Numbers” – numerically by a decimal filing system assigned in the agency on a subject basis; and “New Numbers” – consisting of a three-digit park or site code followed by a four- or five-digit subject-based drawing number. An alphabetically arranged card index accompanies the records.

Manuscript, annotated, published, and photoprocessed maps, plans, and drawings pertaining to the National Capital Parks system. The records range from early maps of the city of Washington to maps and plans of reservations, recreational areas, and parks and parkways in the city and nearby Maryland and Virginia and include architectural plans of buildings and monuments.

Maps of Washington, D.C., including a published copy of the Dermott or tin case map of the city, 1797-98, marked “Exhibit A” and annotated to show information regarding title to lots; a reproduction of Ellicott’s plan of the city; a group of photoprocessed maps of early surveys of parts of the city; a few annotated topographic maps of Washington and vicinity, 1861-1926; a portfolio of processed maps annotated to show triangulation stations, traverse stations, and bench marks; annotated published maps of the permanent system of highways in the District compiled in the Office of the Engineer Commissioner, 1908-33; manuscript and published maps of the city showing public reservations under the control of the National Capital Parks or its predecessor agencies, 1884-1947; and manuscript and published maps of the National Capital Parks System in the District of Columbia and nearby areas in Maryland and Virginia including insets of Prince William Forest Park, the Catoctin area, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Parkway, 1948-53.

Maps and plans of specific parks, parkways, city squares, triangles, and circles, recreational area centers, playgrounds, and grounds around public buildings including general plans of the areas, topographic surveys, landscape development and planting plans, property maps, plane-table sheets, lighting plans, maps and plans showing walks, bridle paths, driveways, and water and sewer connections, and plans of lodges and other buildings within the reservations.

Architectural plans and construction drawings of memorials and monuments in the city of Washington including the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials; sketches of statues and smaller monuments located in squares, circles, and parks; plans of temporary reviewing stands; drawings showing the location of electric lights and water pipelines for the Capitol grounds; and architectural drawings and plans for maintenance, alterations, and construction work on the Executive Mansion and Office, and smaller buildings and recreational facilities of the Executive Mansion grounds, 1877-1941. Many of these are the 1927-28 White House reconstruction plans. There are also three drawings pertaining to proposed alterations in Ford’s Theatre, 1865.

Other records include property maps of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company and topographic surveys along the canal; maps of the Potomac River at Washington, some showing harbor lines; topographic surveys along the Potomac River, and of Roosevelt Island, Columbia Island, and Arlington National Cemetery and vicinity; plans for Columbia Island; maps of the areas around old forts in or near the District; and plans of some of the forts.

Most of these records were prepared by the National Capital Parks and its predecessors. Some are from the Branch of Plans and Design and other branches of the Park Service. Others were prepared by private architectural or construction concerns under contract or were submitted in bids for contracts. Some of the records are from temporary commissions. The plans of forts are from the Fortifications File of the Office of the Chief of Engineers and were transferred to the National Capital Parks after administrative control of these forts and grounds was transferred from the War Department to the Department of the Interior.

223. MASTER AND PROGRESS PLANS FOR WASHINGTON, D.C. 1936-37. 90 items. 1 in.

Arranged in sets by numbered sheets.

Colored photoprocessed master and progress plans for the central area of the city, dated 1936 and 1937, showing the areas maintained by the National Capital Parks or under other jurisdiction; walks, and existing and proposed Federal buildings, indicating those to be removed; and a set of manuscript progress plans on tracing cloth for the central area, dated 1937. Manuscript progress plans on tracing cloth and colored photoprocessed copies of the plans for minor parks and reservations (east and west sections) in the District, dated 1937, showing existing and proposed statues or buildings and indicating those to be removed. A manuscript progress plan on tracing cloth and a colored photoprocessed copy of the plan for Rock Creek Park and related areas, 1937, showing existing buildings, streets, roads, trails, bridges, and paths and indicating approved projects and changes to be made. These plans were compiled in the Branch of Plans and Design of the Park Service for the National Capital Parks.

224. CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS PERTAINING TO THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA RECREATION SYSTEM PLAN. 1930-41. 89 items. 2 in.

Files in sets by recreation sections and centers.

Manuscript drawings and colored photoprocessed maps pertaining to the recreation system plan for the District as proposed and adopted by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission in 1930 with revisions to January 1941, including maps of the District showing the recreation sections and centers, and sectional maps showing buildings, museums, libraries, social agencies and clubs, District playgrounds and school property, other public property, and parks and parkways. Organization charts for the major recreation areas by sections for 1941, and large-scale detailed manuscript plans of the recreation sections and centers showing recreation facilities, 1939-40. These maps and plans were prepared as part of the District of Columbia Work Projects Administration recreation projects sponsored by the President’s District of Columbia Recreation Committee representing the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, the Board of D.C. Commissioners, the Board of Education for the District of Columbia, and the National Capital Parks.

Included as part of the recreation system plan is a set of photoprocessed maps and tables showing the location and cause of fatalities to children under 15 years of age from 1931 to 1938 inclusive; and two sets of manuscript and photoprocessed charts showing traffic injuries to children under 15 years of age during the calendar year of 1938 as prepared in 1939 and 1940 from surveys conducted under the D.C. Works Projects Administration recreation projects.

225. CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS OF THE ROCK CREEK POLLUTION STUDIES. 1935. 66 items.

Manuscript maps, diagrams, and tables prepared to accompany the “Report on Measures for Elimination of Pollution of Rock Creek and its Tributaries in Washington,” prepared for the Easter Division, Branch of Engineering, National Park Service, by LeRoy K. Sherman and Wesley W. Horner, consulting engineers (Washington: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1935). One table and a complete set of maps, diagrams, and charts are used as illustrations in the report and in the appendix. These records include a map of the Rock Creek drainage basin showing the District and suburban sewers, a map of the drainage areas within the District showing areas sewered by a combined or separate system, rainfall frequency-intensity charts, hydrographs of run-off, a list of rainstorms producing excessive run-off from 1925 to 1934, plans of diversion by relief sewers, and maps, plans, and profiles of proposed tunnel lines and outlets.

226. AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS OF WASINGTON, D.C. 1937. 61 items. 3 in.

Photographic prints (61 sections) prepared by the Todd Mapping Service, Washington, D.C.

227. CARTOGRAPHIC RECORDS RELATING TO THE ARLINGTON MEMORIAL BRIDGE. 1923-42. 640 items. 7 in.

The records are filed numerically by a letter and number combination that was assigned in the Commission. This numbering system was used by the National Capital Parks for a few later records that were interfiled with those of the Commission. There are also a few plans that have a different numbering system and several unnumbered plans and construction drawings. A typewritten list and a 4” x 5” card catalog serve as finding aids.

Manuscript, annotated, published, and photoprocessed maps, plans, drawings, and related cartographic records pertaining to the location, design, and construction of the Arlington Memorial Bridge. The records range from general plans showing the location, vicinity, and approaches to the bridge, and Memorial Avenue to the cemetery, to detailed architectural and contract drawings. Most of the records were prepared by the Arlington Memorial Bridge Commission. Some are blueprints furnished by private architectural concerns interested in the project, with annotations added by the Commission.

228. CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL PARKWAY AERIAL MOSAIC. 1954. 239 aerial photographs.

Arranged by exposure number.

The series consists of 9”x 15” photographs in sections: Cumberland to Old Town, Old Town to Little Orleans, and Little Orleans to Hancock. The flight scale was 1:5000

RECORDS OF THE POTOMAC COMPANY AND THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL COMPANY

The Potomac Company, chartered by the Assemblies of Maryland and Virginia in 1784, was organized in 1785, with George Washington as president, for the purpose of improving the navigation of the Potomac River by deepening the channel and cutting canals around the falls. Construction of these improvements progressed rapidly until 1802 when financial difficulties forced curtailments. From 1810 to 1818 the company conducted a lottery in an unsuccessful attempt to raise funds. The company remained in existence until 1828 when its property was transferred to the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company was chartered by the United States, Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania during the years 1824-26. Subscription books were opened in October 1827, and the company was formally organized in June 1828. Rather than improve the river, the new company proposed to build a canal from Washington to the navigable waters of the Ohio River or one of its tributaries. Construction continued sporadically until 1850, when the canal was completed to Cumberland, Maryland. No further westward expansion took place. Sections of the canal were opened to traffic as they were completed.

The company was directed by a president and board of directors. There were also a clerk and a treasurer, although at times one man held both positions. The main offices of the company were located successively at different places in the District of Columbia and Maryland.

At first a chief engineer, in charge of several resident engineers, each responsible for a number of sections of the canal, directed constructions. When the first chief engineer resigned in November 1830, he was not replaced. By 1837, only one resident engineer remained and he was redesignated chief engineer and assigned a number of assistant engineers. From 1835 to 1842 there was a position of Commissioner of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. He supervised construction from Dam No. 5 to Cumberland. As sections of the canal were opened superintendents were placed in charge of divisions, and toll collectors and lock tenders were employed.
The company was in financial difficulties during most of its existence. By 1836 the State of Maryland held a controlling interest. In 1890 a court appointed receivers for the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company upon petition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, then the majority bondholder. Thereafter the railroad company controlled the canal. In 1892 the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company organized the Chesapeake and Ohio Transportation Company as a financial measure to enable the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company to show a profit. In 1903 the Canal Towage Company was organized to supply boats, teams, and equipment to shippers. During the period of receivership there was a general manager in the Office of the Trustees. George L. Nicolson held this position from 1890 to 1838. Beginning in 1903 he also served as manager of the Canal Towage Company.

Most of the early traffic on the canal carried agricultural produce; but during the 1850s coal became the major commodity of trade, continuing so until the canal was closed. In addition to tolls from the canal, the company received revenues by leasing land and buildings and by selling surplus water.

The canal was closed after a flood in 1924. In 1938 it was sold to the United States and placed under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service, which received the records of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company and the predecessor Potomac Company. Included at first in the National Capital Parks system, the canal was made a national monument in 1951.

The incomplete records of the Potomac Company relate chiefly to finances. The records of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company included proceedings of the stockholders and directors, correspondence, legal records relating chiefly to land titles, records concerning construction and operation of the canal, financial records, and reference materials. There are records of the office of the president and directors, the office of the trustees during the period of receivership, the treasurer, the Commissioner of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Transportation Company, the Canal Towage Company, engineers, and collectors; but since so many of the records are not identified by office, in this inventory the series entries are arranged by type of record or subject.

RECORDS OF THE POTOMAC COMPANY

229. PROCEEDINGS OF THE GENERAL MEETINGS. 1785-96. 1 vol. 1 in.

Minutes of meetings of stockholders, in a volume labeled “Letter Book A.” Some copies of reports of the president and directors to the stockholders are included.

230. PROCEEDINGS. 1785-1828. 3 vols. and unbound papers. 9 in.

Arranged chronologically.

Minutes of meetings of the president and directors and meetings of stockholders. Copies of reports and correspondence are included. There are two sets of photostatic copies of the first volume. During the years 1785-96 most proceedings of stockholders’ meetings were kept in a separate volume (entry 229).

231. PROCEEDINGS AND RESOLUTIONS. 1788-1806. ¾ in.

The proceedings are in two groups, and the resolutions are separate. Thereunder arranged chronologically.

Drafts of minutes of meetings of the president and directors, meetings of stockholders, and resolutions passed by them.

232. CORRESPONDENCE AND REPORTS. 1785-1828. 8 in.

Arranged in rough chronological order.
Chiefly letters received, but including copies of letters sent, reports of the president and directors to the stockholders, and other records, memorandums, lists, printed documents, and financial statements. Probably a small remnant of a large series.

233. LETTERS SENT. 1817-28. 1 vol. 2 in.

Arranged chronologically. An alphabetical index to names of addressees is included. For other copies of letters, sent see entries 232 and 245.

Handwritten copies. Until 1825 most of the letters were signed by John Mason, elected president of the company in 1817. After 1825 the treasurer, Robert Barnard, usually signed the letters.

234. LEGAL RECORDS. 1792-1828. 2 in.

Arranged in rough order by subject and thereafter chronologically.

Included are indentures (chiefly deeds for assignments of shares of stock), contracts, resolutions, legal opinions, court judgments, notes for loans, lottery tickets, copies of legislative bills, and other records relating to the operations of the company and the ownership of shares. The conveyance, assignment, and surrender of the charter of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company are among the records.

235. RECORDS CONCERNING TRANSFER OF SHARES OF STOCK. 1791-1828. 2 vols. 5 in.

Arranged chronologically.

These volumes are labeled “Deed Records” and contain handwritten copies of indentures and other legal documents prepared in order to transfer title to shares of stock, usually by sale or inheritance. A few documents are dated 1832. Original documents concerning transfers of stock are among those described in entry 234.

236. STOCK LEDGER. 1787-1828. 1 vol. 2 in.

Arranged by accounts of individuals, with alphabetical index of names.

A record of transactions concerning the purchase and transfer of shares of stock in the company.

237. “WASTE BOOK.” 1785-1800. 1 vol. 3 in.

A daybook with a chronological record of transactions made at the time of the transactions. Many of the transactions related to shares of stock in the company.

238. LEDGER. 1796. 1 vol. 1 in.

Arranged by account. There is an alphabetical index.

A record of accounts with individuals and accounts of some classes of expenditures, particularly payments to carpenters, masons, and other groups of workers.

239. LEDGER. 1800-07. 1 vol. 2 in.

Arranged by account. An alphabetical index to names of individuals and types of other accounts is included.

A record of accounts, mostly with individuals, designated as “Ledger B.” The ledger contains references to “Ledger A” and “Ledger C,” which have not been found. For “Ledger D,” see entry 243.

240. DAYBOOK. February 8, 1800–July 25, 1807. 1 vol. 1 in.
Arranged chronologically.

A chronological record of cash expenditures.

A daybook with a chronological record of transactions made at the time of the transactions. During 1820, part of the volume was used as a cashbook, but these pages have been sealed.

242. JOURNAL. 1822-28. 1 vol. 1 in.

A revised chronological record of financial transactions with cross references to the ledger described in entry 243. The volume is labeled “Journal B,” but no other journals have been found.

243. LEDGER. 1822-28. 1 vol. 2 in.

Arranged by account, with an alphabetical index to names of individuals and to other types of accounts.

A record of separate accounts, mostly with individuals, containing cross references to the journal described in entry 242. This volume is labeled “Ledger D.” For “Ledger B,” see entry 239. “Ledger A” and “Ledger C” have not been found.

244. CASHBOOK. 1823-28. 1 vol. ½ in.

A chronological record of cash transactions, balancing receipts against expenditures.

245. LETTERS SENT CONCERNING THE POTOMAC AND SHENANDOAH NAVIGATION LOTTERY. 1810-19. 1 vol. 1 in.

The letters are arranged chronologically.

Handwritten copies of letters concerning a lottery conducted by the company to raise funds. During 1810 and 1811 the letters were signed by Joseph Carleton, agent for the lottery and also treasurer of the company. After Carlton’s death, Jonah Thompson, one of the directors of the company, served as agent for the lottery and signed the letters.

246. DAYBOOK FOR LOTTERY TRANSACTIONS. 1812-18. 1 vol. ½ in.

A chronological record of transactions. There are some cross references to the ledger described in entry 247.

247. LEDGER FOR LOTTERY ACCOUNTS. 1810-19. 1 vol. 2 in.

Entries are arranged by account. There is an alphabetical index to names of individuals and other types of accounts.

Consists chiefly of a general account, a cash account, and accounts for ticket agents.

248. RECORD OF LOTTERY TICKET DRAWINGS. 1812-18. 1 vol. ¾ in.

Labeled “Running Book,” this is a chronological record of tickets drawn and amount of prizes.

249. RECORD OF LOTTERY TICKETS. 1817. 1 vol. ¾ in.

Arranged by ticket number.

Gives status of tickets: blank, prize, or sold.
250. MISCELLANEOUS ACCOUNTS. 1785-1828. 8 in.

Arranged by subject or kind of record and thereunder in rough chronological order.

Included are receipts, vouchers, payrolls, drafts (checks), statements of accounts, accounts of delivery of rations, inventories of tools and furniture, waybills (manifests of cargoes) for tolls, and lists of subscribers and shareholders.

For the most part arranged by file number assigned in chronological order by date of receipt.

Letters from the clerk of the company, the chief engineer, and others. There are some 1839-40 letters with no file numbers. Many of the letters are missing. For abstracts of letters, see entry 277. For vouchers and receipts for disbursements by the commission, see entry 307.

277. LETTER BOOKS OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL. 1835-42. 3 vols. 5 in.

Arranged chronologically. There are indexes to names of addresses of letters sent in the first two volumes.

Handwritten copies of letters sent and abstracts (a few copies) of letters received. For original letters received, see entry 276.

278. DRAFTS OF LETTERS SENT BY THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL. 1835-40. 2 in.

Arranged in rough chronological order.

Chiefly 1835-36 letters. There are some copies of form letters concerning extra allowances on contracts.

279. LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE CHIEF ENGINEER. 1834-52. 5 ft.

Through 1840 the letters are arranged by file number assigned chronologically in order of receipt. Thereafter arranged chronologically by date of letter.

Letters from the company office, assistant engineers, superintendents, and others. They related chiefly to construction and maintenance. Some estimates, specifications, financial statements, and copies of letters sent are included. These records were maintained by Charles B. Fisk. Before his appointment as chief engineer on April 12, 1837, he served as resident engineer and in other capacities. There are no letters received by Ellwood Morris during the period from October 1840 to April 1841 when he served as chief engineer.

280. REGISTER OF LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE CHIEF ENGINEER. 1835-40. 1 vol. 2 in.
Entries are arranged alphabetically by addressee and thereunder chronologically by date of receipt.

Labeled as an index. Entries for individual letters give date of letter, name of writer, file number, and subject. Except for persons with initial “M,” there are entries only until 1938. No later registers have been found. For the letters, see entry 279.

281. LETTERS SENT BY THE CHIEF ENGINEER. June 12, 1838–July 3, 1839. 1 vol. 2 in.

Arranged chronologically. There is an alphabetical index to addressees and subjects.

Handwritten copies. No other letter books have been found; but there are some loose drafts (entry 282). There are also some copies of letters sent with the letters received (entry 279).

282. DRAFTS OF LETTERS SENT BY THE CHIEF ENGINEER. 1836-38, 1846-52. 2 in.

Arranged in rough chronological order.

The letters until April 12, 1837 were sent by Charles B. Fisk as resident engineer.

For the most part divided into letters received and letters sent and thereunder arranged chronologically.

Handwritten copies of letters received and letters sent. Thomas F. Purcell was resident engineer, with headquarters at Georgetown.

For the most part arranged by kind of record and thereunder chronologically.

Handwritten copies of letters received and letters sent. There are also some tables concerning labor and work progress. During most of the period the resident engineer was stationed at the mouth of the Monocacy River.

Arranged chronologically.

Handwritten copies. After July 1838 most of the letters were sent from Hampshire County, Virginia.

286. RECORDS OF ELLWOOD MORRIS, PRINCIPAL ASSISTANT ENGINEER. 1838-40. 4 in.

Arranged by file number assigned in chronological order.

Mainly letters received from the chief engineer and others. There are also some plans, notes of measurements and calculations, statistical reports, and estimates. Many letters are missing.

287. RECORDS OF WILLIAM A. PRATT, ASSISTANT ENGINEER. July-November 1838. ½ in.

Arranged by file number assigned in chronological order.

Chiefly letters received from Ellwood Morris, principal assistant engineer. Many letters are missing.

Cartographic Records

397. MAPS OF THE CITY OF WASHINGTON, D.C. ca. 1791-1852. 3 items.

Coast and Geodetic Survey reproductions of three early maps of the city of Washington: L’Enfants’ plan of the city intended as a permanent seat of government drawn in 1791 and reproduced in 1887 (No. 3035a); Ellicott’s plan of the city of Washington engraved by Thackeray and Vance, Philadelphia, 1792 (No. 3035); and an undated, probably 1852, map of the city engraved by W. J. Stone, Washington (No. 3036).

398. MAPS AND PLANS RELATING TO THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL. 1826-1937. 116 items. 4 in.

Arranged by numbers corresponding to an accompanying list.

A published map of the area between Washington, D.C., and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, showing the general route and profile of the contemplated Chesapeake and Ohio Canal in 1826; manuscript, published, and photoprocessed maps showing the location of the canal, topography along the route, and land acquired or to be acquired by the company; a few manuscript plats showing names of property owners in the District of Columbia; a map of the Great Falls of the Potomac showing proposed improvements, 1894; two maps of the property of the canal company at Cumberland, Maryland, as surveyed in 1896-98, one showing the owners of adjacent lands; plats of the survey of the canal some showing the position of the canal property lines according to deeds; plans of proposed changes in the canal, and locks, wharves, and other facilities; and right-of-way maps of railroads paralleling or serving the canal. A few of the earlier maps represent surveys made for the Potomac Company and some were prepared from surveys made under the direction of the general manager of the Office of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company. Many of the published and photoprocessed maps were acquired from other sources, including government agencies and private concerns, and were apparently annotated before the records were transferred to the Park Service. The manuscript property maps originally with this series were assigned numbers by the office of National Capital Parks and are filed with the numbered series of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal maps of that office. See entry 222.

RECORDS OF THE THOMAS JEFFERSON MEMORIAL COMMISSION

The Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission was established by an Act of Congress approved June 26, 1934 (48 Stat. 1243), as amended by an act approved June 3, 1936 (49 Stat. 1397). The Commission was authorized to formulate plans for the construction of a permanent memorial to Thomas Jefferson in Washington, D.C., select a site for the Memorial, approve the architectural design of the Memorial, and award contracts for its construction.
The Commission consisted of 12 members, three appointed by the President of the United States, three by the Speaker of the House, three by the President of the Senate, and three by the President of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation. Stuart G. Gibboney, who was a member of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, served as Chairman of the Commission. The first meeting of the Commission was held April 12, 1935. A separate Committee on Sculpture from within the ranks of the Commission was formed to review proposals and select a sculptor for the statue of Thomas Jefferson.

The statue, located within the Jefferson Memorial on the Tidal Basin in Washington’s Potomac Park, was unveiled and dedicated on the bicentennial of Jefferson’s birth, April 13, 1943. The Commission ceased business after its final meeting on October 20, 1943.

399. GENERAL RECORDS OF THE THOMAS JEFFERSON MEMORIAL COMMISSION. 1934-43. 5 ft.

Arranged by subject. A file title list appears as Appendix 42 in this inventory.

The records include correspondence, letters, reports, minutes of meeting, contracts, architectural sketches, photographs, and newspaper articles. The records concern architectural and sculpture designs, contractual agreements between the commission and the monument’s architect and sculptor, fiscal applications and approvals, dedication ceremonies, and publicity material. Of particular interest are records pertaining to several alternate designs for the Jefferson Monument, as well as their respective assessments and evaluations by the Commission.

There are records concerning the Thomas Jefferson National Memorial in entry 10, Central Classified Files, 1907-49, 2nd subseries, boxes 2688-2692.

RECORDS OF THE UNITED STATES COMMISSION FOR THE CELEBRATION OF THE TWO HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF JOHN MARSHALL

There were 19 members of the Commission. The President of the United States, the President pro tempore of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives were ex officio members. The other members were appointed—eight by the President and four by each of the other ex officio members from their respective houses of Congress. Chief Justice Earl Warren served as Chairman and Conrad L. Wirth, Director of the National Park Service, as Executive Officer of the Commission. The members served without compensation other than reimbursement for their expenses.

The Commission encouraged and assisted community organizations, bar associations, schools and other groups throughout the United States in planning commemorative programs. It also prepared and issued publications and publicity material and cooperated with the Post Office Department in the issuance of a commemorative stamp.

The Commission expired on December 31, 1955. Until 1957, Edmond C. Gass, who had been administrative assistant for the Commission and who then served in a similar position for the Woodrow Wilson Centennial Celebration Commission, handled correspondence concerning the Commission. The records of the Commission were maintained by the Park Service.

400. CORRESPONDENCE AND OTHER RECORDS. 1955-57. 2 ft.

Arranged for the most part by subject or type of record. Some of the correspondence is arranged by groups of correspondents.
Included are letters received, copies of letters sent, memorandums, reports, minutes and agendas of meetings, programs, drafts of proposed publications, copies of publications, press releases, clippings, photographs, sample form letters, mailing lists, estimates and justifications, requisitions, and vouchers.

401. JOHN MARSHALL BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION PHOTOGRAPHS. 1955. 5 in.

This series is designated 79-JM.

RECORDS OF THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS SESQUICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION COMMISSION

By a joint resolution of October 9, 1962 (76 Stat. 755), Congress established the Battle of New Orleans Sesquicentennial Celebration Commission to develop and execute plans for the observance of the 150th anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans. The Commission consisted of six members appointed by the President, eight Members of the Senate, eight Members of the House of Representatives, and the Director of the National Park Service (who served as executive officer). The President designated Maj. Gen. Edward S. Bres (Ret.) as Chairman.

The Commission was organized on April 23, 1963. The Chairman took charge of work in Washington, D.C., and the Vice Chairman Martha G. Robinson, directed activities in New Orleans. The celebration was held January 1-8, 1965. The Commission also sold commemorative medals, published a series of booklets, and sponsored an essay contest for high school students.

The resolution establishing the Commission also authorized the Secretary of the Interior to acquire specified land for addition to Chalmette National Historical Park, the site of the battle. Before the celebration the Park Service undertook extensive restoration work in the park.

The Commission submitted its final report on November 30, 1965, but it maintained an office in Washington until April 1966. The report has been published under the title “Battle of New Orleans Sesquicentennial Celebration, 1815-1965.”

402. CORRESPONDENCE AND OTHER RECORDS. 1963-66. 1 ft.

The records are arranged for the most part alphabetically by subject and thereunder chronologically.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, minutes, memorandums, reports, lists, congressional bills, maps, plans, brochures, clippings, press releases, “Notes on the Establishment and Development of Chalmette National Historical Park” (compiled by Major General Bres), and other records maintained in the Washington office of the Commission. Some correspondence of Major General Bres for the years 1961-62 is included.

403. “BACKGROUND FILES” OF EDWARD S. BRES. 1956-63. 2 in.

Arranged chronologically.

Letters received, copies of letters sent, congressional bills, maps, clippings, and other records of Major General Bres relating to the sesquicentennial and Chalmette National Historical Park.

RECORDS OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Established by Public Law 85-305, September 7, 1957, the Civil War Centennial Commission was created to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Civil War. The Public Law granted authority to the President of the United States to issue proclamations inviting the country’s citizens to participate in and observe the ceremonial celebrations sponsored by the Commission. In addition, the Secretary of the Interior was granted the authority to advance the preservation and development of Civil War battlefields and sites with the guidance of the National Park Service. The Department of Defense designated a liaison officer for each military branch (Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard) to coordinate related events and activities. Many Members of Congress were Commission Officials and active participants in the Commission.

The main goal of the Commission was to commemorate and celebrate the events of 1861-1865, which was achieved through major promotional efforts including: providing assistance to 44 State commissions in planning and organizing local observances; preparing a chronological list of the events of the Civil War; and cooperating with the Secretary of the Interior and the Director of the National Park Service supporting the Mission 66 program of completing the preservation and development of Civil War battlefields and sites. In addition, the Commission published a monthly newsletter entitled, “100 Years After,” as well as a pamphlet, “Facts about the Civil War.”

The Civil War Centennial Commission was composed of 25 officeholders. The Chairman was Major General U.S. Grant 3rd. The first Executive Director was James I. Robinson. He was succeeded by Karl S. Betts soon after the Commission was established. The Commission was further subdivided into various committees: Advertising; Awards; Criteria and Recognition; Endorsements; Executive; Fine Arts; Legislative; Historical Activities; Mobile Museum; and Television and Radio. Each committee has its own officers and specific duties.

404. SUBJECT FILES OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION. 1957-66. 58 ft.

Arranged by subject and thereunder for the most part chronologically. A file title list appears as Appendix 43 in this inventory.

Dispersed throughout the files and comprising most of the records is internal Commission correspondence, and correspondence between the Commission and educational institutions, private institutions, historical societies, Federal and State agencies, and individuals. The correspondence concerns Commission activities associated with sponsoring, planning, and carrying out commemorative events. This correspondence is sometimes accompanied by memorandums, telegrams, newsletters, and publications.

There are records regarding the organization and functions of the Commission among the files relating to the annual meetings of the National Assembly. The files contain correspondence, minutes of meetings, copies of speeches, programs for meetings of the National Assemblies, reports on the status and workings of the Commission, resolutions (congressional, State, and Commission), and fiscal data. There is related information found in files concerning meetings of the full Commission and the Executive Committee and among the records concerning activities of committees and advisory groups.

There are two large sets of files organized by State. Those concerning the State Civil War Centennial Commissions chiefly contain correspondence between the national and State commissions and letters from the State commissions to individuals inviting them to present speeches. Other records in these files include minutes of meetings, reports and publications, newsletters, brochures, pamphlets, and maps. Other files organized by State contain many letters to the Commission from individuals who had ancestors who fought in the war, both for the North and the South.

Records concerning the Civil War Round Tables include correspondence, newsletters, publications, and minutes of meetings. The documents often include information regarding planned events of the groups, as well as documents to, from, and about various guest speakers.

Among the major forms of commemorative tributes undertaken by the commission were reenactments. Files dedicated to specific individual reenactments include the raid on Harpers Ferry, the firing on Fort Sumter, the battles of (First) Manassas and Antietam, and Lincoln’s Second Inaugural Address. There are also records concerning reenactments in the State commission and Round Table files.

Of particular significance are a special Interim Report entitled “Civil War Areas, National Park System, Mission 66 Requirements, 1958” (box 99, file Sites, Civil War, 1957-61); Mission 66 pamphlets (box 27, file National Park Service, 1955-66); a commission bulletin on carrying out the Mission 66 program (box 103, file Tape Recordings, 1958-59); and a publication of the National Trust for Historic Preservation entitled, “Preserving America’s Heritage: A Challenge” (box 87, file Mobile Museum, General Correspondence, 1958-59).

Other items of special interest include a photostat copy of a report entitled, “Early Construction of Frigates and U.S.S. Constellation (Yankee Racehorse),” by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, 1919 (box 70, file Constellation, Maryland, 1960-61); a script for a film, “Scabbard and Blade,” by H. N. Clauss, which involves the Battle of Gettysburg (box 71, file Films, 1959-64); reproductions of photographs taken by Matthew Brady, including a photograph of President-Elect Abraham Lincoln, produced from the original 1861 negative, No. 164 in limited edition series of 250 (box 35, file State Publications – New Jersey, 1961-64); a reproduced photo of a Rodman (cannon) gun (box 64, file Du Pont Company, 1959); and the Commission Seal Stamp Press (box 139, file Artifacts, ca. 1957-66).

405. READING FILES OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION. 1958-66. 7 ft.

Most of the records consist of internal correspondence between Commission members regarding Commission policies, procedures, meetings, exhibits, and publications. Also included is correspondence with members of Congress, State officials, and educational and private institutions concerning requests for information and publications. The files also contain memorandums and telegrams. The documents often cross-reference corresponding subject files (see entry 404).

406. CHRONOLOGICAL AND STATE LISTS OF CIVIL WAR BATTLES. n.d. 2 binders. 4 in.

The contents of the first binder are arranged chronologically by date of battle or event and the contents of the second binder are arranged alphabetically by State and thereunder chronologically by battle or event. A contents key shows the numerical designation of each State. The key is the same for both binders.

Specifically mentioned in the lists are battles (including naval), railroad operations, riots, declarations of marshal law, grand army reviews, town and city occupations, surrenders and evacuations, and activities in the western portion of the country, including expeditions against American Indians.

Of particular interest are listings of key events during the war, notably the bombardment of Fort Sumter (April 1861, South Carolina), the battle of Manassas (July 1861, Virginia), the battle of Gettysburg (July 1863, Pennsylvania), and the surrender of the Confederate forces at Appomattox (April 1865, Virginia). Other noteworthy listings include the naval battle between the Monitor and Merrimack (March 1862, Virginia), the sinking of the Monitor (August 1864, Alabama), and the capture of John Wilkes Booth (April 1865, Virginia).

The inclusive dates and events of the binders begin with the seizure by State troops of Castle Pinckney and Fort Moultrie, South Carolina, December 27, 1860 and end with a scout skirmish in White Plains, Virginia, December 28, 1865. It is not know when the lists were compiled.

407. MICROFILM OF THE COMMERCIAL BULLETIN. April 27, 1861–September 2, 1871. 1 roll.

Arranged chronologically.

The positive microfilm copy consists of selected pages and articles from the weekly Boston newspaper, The Commercial Bulletin. The filmed pages relate to issues during the Civil War as well as the period shortly thereafter.

Articles concerning major events and topics are located in topical sections such as Iron Steamships, Manufacturers, Mercantile Matters, Railroads, National Affairs, Political Economy, Military Goods, Naval Affairs, Marine Intelligence, The War, Army Supplies, War Sketches, The Rebellion, and War Correspondence.
Other articles not found under those specific sections concern related subjects such as prisoner exchange, maintaining a standing army, the draft (including draft riots), the Conscription Bill, army desertions, and war debt.

There are articles on domestic issues such as the national currency (debating the change from gold to paper money), the Presidential Election of 1864, labor movements, America’s significance on the world scale, and the economic redevelopment of the South. Also included are articles regarding international issues, such as piracy, immigration, relations with Russia, France, Mexico, and Canada. Diplomatic relations with the English, the focus of several articles, describes their early recognition of the South, naval blockades, the Trent Affair, and the possible threat of a naval conflict.

The newspaper was filmed by Graphic Microfilm of NE, Inc., Waltham, Massachusetts. The copy is good. However, the print is rather small.

408. FILM STRIPS PERTAINING TO CIVIL WAR ACTIVITIES IN INDIANA AND WISCONSIN. n.d. 2 film strips.

“Indiana and the Civil War” is a 35mm film strip consisting chiefly of illustrations, drawings, maps, and some photographs, in both color and black and white. The film is in good condition.

It documents Indiana’s involvement in the Civil War. The subject areas include women and children taking over jobs left behind by the men who went off to war, care for the wounded by hospitals and religious organizations, monument dedications, and the establishment of soldiers’ homes.

The film was produced by the Audio-Visual Center at Indiana University in cooperation with the Indiana Civil War Centennial Commission. It describes the events of the war, specifically highlighting the deeds of Indiana regiments and citizens.

“Immigrants in Hardee Hats – Wisconsin Fights the Civil War” is a 35mm film strip with about 40 frames. Photographs make up much of the content, but there are also illustrations and drawings, in both color and black and white. The film is in good condition and has a brief introduction.

The basis for the film is the book, Wisconsin and the Civil War, written by Frank L. Klement. It is a chronological account of Wisconsin’s involvement in the Civil War, with special attention to the diversity of nationalities who fought.

In addition to battle participation, the film illustrates a draft riot, naval operations, women, children, hospitals (notably the Harvey U.S. Army Hospital in Madison, commissioned by President Abraham Lincoln, inspired by the “Wisconsin Angel,” Cordelia Harvey), and the construction of Civil War monuments.

409. PHOTOGRAPHS FROM THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION 1957-66. ca. 500 items. 2 ft.

Arranged in three sections: administrative, alphabetically by subject; Commission members’ portraits, arranged alphabetically; and State file, arranged alphabetically.

Included are formal and informal group photographs of Commission members, meetings, award ceremonies, memorial tributes, exhibits, the Commission’s seal, reenactments of significant battles and events. There are also copies of art works depicting Civil War events. This series is designated 79-CWC.

RECORDS OF THE WOODROW WILSON CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

The Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commission was established by a joint resolution of Congress approved August 30, 1954 (Public Law 705-83). The Commission consisted of 12 members. Two each appointed by the Senate and House of Representatives; one appointed by the President; and seven members, also appointed by the President, upon recommendations by the Governor of Virginia, the Woodrow Wilson Birthplace Foundation, and the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. The Chairman of the Commission was Maj. Gen. E. Walton Opie. Conrad Wirth, Director of the National Park Service, served as Executive Director of the Commission. Edmond Gass was Secretary of the Commission.

The purpose of the Commission was to plan events to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson. Among the functions of the Commission was to cooperate with and assist the Commission established by the State of Virginia to plan a centennial celebration of the birth of Woodrow Wilson in Staunton, Virginia.

The first meeting of the Commission was held May 16, 1955. The Commission concluded business June 30, 1957. The final report of the Commission was published in 1958.

410. GENERAL RECORDS OF THE WOODROW WILSON CENTENNIAL COMMISSION. 1955-57. 9 ft.

Arranged by subject or type of record. There is a subject list in the first box.

The records include correspondence, copies of papers, lectures and speeches, legislation, event programs, brochures, reports, working papers, minutes and reports of meetings, press releases, newspaper clippings, and photographs.

The records concern planning ceremonies, memorial services, panel discussions, seminars, and other events that commemorated the personal life, academic accomplishments, and political career of Woodrow Wilson. The Commission coordinated commemorative activities with State Woodrow Wilson Centennial Commissions and private organizations and sponsored the Woodrow Wilson Papers Project. There are a few items dating to 1959.

411. PROCLAMATIONS, PRINTED MATERIAL, NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS, AND OTHER RECORDS. 1956. 5 ft. (in 5 cubic-foot archives boxes and 1 letter-sized archives box)

Arranged by type of record.

The records consist of a packet of information about Woodrow Wilson; proclamations issued by State governments; scholarly journals, magazines, newsletters, and college and university alumni bulletins containing articles about Wilson; copies of the Congressional Record; and audio recordings of banquet proceedings, church services, and radio and television broadcasts.

Also included is a small object, that appears be bronze, with a Ruskin saying on it made by The Whitehead and Hoag Company, Newark, New Jersey.

RECORDS OF THE NATIONAL PARKS CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

The National Parks Centennial Commission was authorized by Public Law 91-332 on July 10, 1970. The act stated that “The functions of the Commission shall be (1) to prepare, and execute, in cooperation with Federal, State, local, nongovernmental agencies and organizations, and appropriate international organizations, a suitable plan for commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the beginning of the worldwide national park movement by the establishment of Yellowstone National Park in 1872; (2) to coordinate the activities of such agencies and organizations undertaken pursuant to such plan; and (3) to provide, in cooperation with such agencies and organizations, host services for a world conference on National Parks in 1972, and to assist in representing the United States in the activities of such conference.” The conference was held at Yellowstone National Park.

The Commission consisted of eight members of Congress, four appointed by the Speaker of the House and four appointed by the President of the Senate; six members appointed by the President; and the Secretary of the Interior. The Chairman of the Commission was Laurence W. Lane, Jr. The Director of the National Park Service served as the Executive Director. On March 13, 1972 Edmund B. Thornton succeeded Lane, who resigned effective January 1, 1972, as Chairman. The staff of the Commission were employees of the National Park Service. The Commission was dissolved December 31, 1973.
412. GENERAL FILES OF THE NATIONAL PARKS CENTENNIAL COMMISSION. 1970-73. 4 ft.

ELECTRONIC RECORDS

417. CHACO CULTURE ARCHEOLOGICAL PROJECT DATABASE FILES. 1972-87. 57 data files, 38 electronic documentation files, and 2 linear in. of paper documentation.

The series contains detailed information about the archeological materials in the Chaco Culture National Historical Park. The files are grouped into information about architecture, ceramics, fauna, lithics, stone, and miscellaneous. The files may include information about Chaco culture site types and their locations, the features within those sites, and the ceramic and lithic bowls, jars, vessels, and ladles discovered within the areas.

418. CHACO CULTURE ADDITIONAL LANDS SURVEYS DATABASE FILES. 1983. 9 data files and 3 linear in. of paper documentation.

The series contains detailed information about the archeological materials in the additional lands of the Chaco Culture National Historical Park. The files may include information about Chaco culture site types and their locations, the features within those sites, and the ceramic and lithic bowls, jars, vessels, and ladles discovered within the area.

419. RECORDS ABOUT NATIONAL NATURAL LANDMARKS. January 12, 1982–May 31, 2002. 22 data files, 2 electronic documentation files, and 3 linear in. of paper documentation.

This series contains data on ecological and geological sites designated as National Natural Landmarks or sites that have been identified as having the potential to be natural monuments. Both the designated and proposed sites are considered the best examples of biological and geological features in both public and private ownership. A small percentage of these locations have been designated as Natural Landmarks, and only a few of these are part of a national park. The records identify the natural landmark’s name, state and county, size, the agency’s steps in securing designation, and the dates of actions. Other files contain information about the development of natural history studies, landowners, resource issues, and agency correspondence. The dates when the areas were first proposed as landmarks range from 1962 to 2001.

420. PESTICIDE USE PROPOSAL SYSTEM (PUPS) FILES. 1983-2003. 25 data files, 10 electronic documentation files, and 7 linear in. of paper documentation.

The series contains records documenting the efforts to control various pests populations within national parks and monument grounds throughout the United States. The data includes the location of national parks, the pest problems, the type and amount of pesticides, and the management decisions regarding the use of pesticides.

Central Classified Files, 1907-49 (entry 10)

Compiler’s note: Frequently file covers indicate an earlier starting date for the file contents than actually exists. There are some files that contain records before the beginning of the subseries, for instance the 1933-49 records often contain documents dated earlier than 1933. It is stated when a cross-reference sheet is the only document in the file. However, in some cases, the file given on the cross-reference sheet that contains the original document does not exist. The titles used for some files changed over the years, for example the 900 files are variously titled Concessions, Public Operators, or Public Utilities or some combination of these terms. Sometimes there is more than one site in a box, for example box 2384 (2nd subseries) contains files for Scotts Bluff, Shoshone Cavern, and Sittka National Monuments. The sets of records comprising this series are shown below with the location of the first box in each set. The locations are are expressed as Stack/ Row/ Compartment/ Shelf.
