Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail
Commemorative Motor Route

Days of the March September 19, 1780, the Patriot army which decisively found Ferguson had left, possibly headed October 4, 1780, entering Gilbert Town, they October 5, 1780, reassured they were October 6, 1780, finally convinced September 26, 1780, the army spent its September 27, 1780, snow fell on Roan
September 29, 1780
September 30, 1780
October 3, 1780 Campsite
October 6, 1780 Campsite

The march reenactment proceeds countryside. Each year the Lake Commemorative Motor Route
Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail
McDowell
Rutherfordton
0
Cowan's Ford
1780 Campsite
National Battlefield
Colonial Road
US 11
Campsite
Elk Park
Linville
1780 Campsite
US 11

Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail
For more than 200 years of America's history, the Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail National Revolutionary Bicentennial celebrations. From these first efforts came American Patriot army which decisively Patriots suffered 90 casualties: 28 killed January 17, 1781, to help Daniel

The Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail was designated a national historic trail.

In 1975, local citizens, many descendants of American Revolutionary War veterans, organized To march the route again as part of the

The Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively

The Overmountain Village National Historic Trail
was established to honor the actions of the American Patriot army, who decisively