Shelter - Cumberland Falls State Park - Kentucky

A single roof shelters four picnic groups and barricades each against the incursions of the others by means of partition walls that converge on the four-way fireplace. 'A splendid safeguard against the entire structure being monopolized by one particularly aggressive group.'