For fifty years now, a national system of wilderness areas has belonged to us all. Since 1964, landscapes in 44 states have been designated wild by law. Here in Sequoia and Kings Canyon, over 96% of the parks is also protected as wilderness.

Exactly what makes a wilderness? The word and the experience mean something different to everyone, but the 1964 Wilderness Act provides a definition. It is a place, the law says, where “man himself is a visitor who does not remain.” It offers opportunities for primitive recreation and solitude, challenge and self-reliance. A wild landscape is untrammeled or self-willed—no human purpose controls its natural processes.

Wilderness areas protect multiple values: wildlife habitat, natural ecosystems, ancient and historic sites, waterways, and scenic beauty. It provides a laboratory to study not only these resources but ourselves in relation to them—our place in the scheme of things.

In these parks, wilderness offers a wide variety of experiences, depending on elevation and season. From foothill oaks and chaparral, to evergreen forests, to the cold peaks of the Sierra Crest, these parks preserve wilderness for you to enjoy. You don’t have to go far to connect with wilderness; in fact, you don’t have to go at all. Wild places can be visited in the mind and heart as well as in person.

Like national parks, wilderness is one of this nation’s best ideas. Part of our heritage and our history, it is held in trust for us and for our descendants—truly something to celebrate!

Nature & Ecosystems in the Park

Change: Natural & Unnatural

We often think of parks as outdoor museums. Caretaking a living ecosystem, however, is very different than protecting unchanging objects.

Both natural features and human facilities may be different each time you visit. Both are changing all the time. How we take care of those features and facilities may also affect your visit. You won’t notice the ozone monitor that works 24 hours a day, but you will see other activities such as revegetation, road work, painting, or trail maintenance. Some activities may unavoidably affect you, such as smoke from a prescribed fire, or campsite closures due to revegetation or bear management.

Park staff uses these actions as tools to maintain the landscape and protect its inhabitants and visitors. Your visit gives you but a snapshot of this process; Nature decides the timing of many of these actions. They all share one goal: to preserve these parks for us all, now and in the future.

Fire: A Natural Change Agent

Years ago we tried to banish fire from the landscape, believing it was destructive. In sequoia groves, that meant putting out lightning-caused fires that naturally start as frequently as every 5 to 15 years.

As time passed, we saw unanticipated consequences from this practice. Fire suppression blocked two important natural processes, which led to big problems:

First, sequoias were not reproducing. We learned that fires create the conditions that sequoias need to regenerate. Fires leave behind a seedbed fertilized with ash, and they open the forest canopy, allowing sunlight to reach the seedlings.

Second, the amount of dead wood and dense growth of small white-fir trees increased tremendously. In the past, frequent natural fires burned these away. Now, after fire’s long absence, these serve as fuels, feeding bigger, hotter blazes that are more dangerous for people, plants, and wildlife.

For over 40 years at Sequoia and Kings Canyon, we have studied fire and its effects on the land. To protect human safety and benefit giant sequoia trees, the National Park Service now works with fire to restore the benefits it brings.

We still put out fires that threaten life and property but, when and where it’s appropriate, we ignite prescribed fires or allow lightning fires to spread naturally, reducing fuels and improving resource conditions. Strong evidence shows that we are succeeding.

Why is this important? The National Park System exists to conserve resources “unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations.” We once thought that aggressive fire suppression met this goal. A more complete understanding of fire tells us that excluding this important natural agent of change only hurts what we are trying to protect.

Unnatural Change: Alien Invaders

Plants and animals evolve together in communities over time. Often, they keep each other in check. When species get brought in from other places, the newcomers may multiply wildly. This is because the competitors, predators, and diseases that keep them in check in their home communities are absent here. This imbalance breaks links in the local web of life, badly disrupting native species that depend on each other. Sometimes the nonnative aliens completely replace local plants and animals.

Practice alien hygiene! Seek and destroy seeds and tiny animals attached to shoes, clothes, waders, equipment, tires, and pet fur. Wash mud from under cars and on tires before coming into the parks.

The natives will thank you!

Imminent Alien Threats!

Star thistle is one of the most damaging non-natives in the state. Dense, thorny growth completely excludes native plants and limits wildlife’s ability to move freely. It is not yet established in these parks, but it is close! If you recognize its yellow flower and thorny spines from your home or travels, make sure not to bring it in. If you see it here, tell a ranger.

New Zealand mud snails completely take over and change waterways that they invade. Due to their biology, just one snail can start a huge population! These tiny light-brown animals—less than 1/8-inch long—stick on gear. Check and clean boots & waders thoroughly to remove this little invader. Common just east of the parks, they could easily be carried into the High Sierra.
Check regulations at each campground. Rules vary between the Park & the National Forest (see page 9). Each standard campsite has a bear box, table, & fire ring with grill. No hook-ups in the park.

You must store food correctly all year due to black bears. Most boxes are 47” long x 33” deep x 28” high. Page 11 has details.

Summer reservations: See * on this chart for reservable campgrounds in Sequoia National Park (NPS) and in Sequoia National Forest (FS). Available up to 6 months in advance: www.recreation.gov; 1-877-444-6777 (7am -9pm PST, 3/1-10/31). Customer service: 1-888-444-1474.

Group Sites & Maximum Group Sizes
Up to 6 people: Many campgrounds limit a site to 1 vehicle & 6 people. Check locally for variations in these limits & parking locations for extra vehicles.

Campfires & Firewood
Fire & smoking restrictions are in effect; always check bulletin boards at each area for details.
- Please don’t transport firewood. It can carry insects/diseases that threaten living trees. Find/buy wood close to where you will use it. If you brought wood, burn it up if restrictions permit.
- Gather only dead & down wood. Do not cut limbs off trees.
- Fires must be dead out before you leave.
- The national forest (FS) requires free campfire permits from Hume Lake Office, a FS ranger, or download at www.fs.usda.gov/sequoia.

Propane Canisters
Do not put propane or fuel canisters in park trashcans or leave them here. Recycle them at home.

The Foothills
The low elevations host more different plants and animals than the rest of these parks combined!

Foothills Visitor Center
Exhibits on the diverse foothills. Hours on page 2.

Hospital Rock Picnic Area
Exhibits about the Western Mono people who once lived here. A short trail built by the Civilian Conservation Corps leads to a cascade. Careful; drownings often occur here! Always store food in the metal boxes provided to keep it from bears.

Marble Falls Trail
climbs 3.7 miles (6 km) through chaparral to a waterfall. Park across the highway from Potwisha (no non-camper parking in campground). Near site #14, follow the dirt road across the concrete ditch; the trail starts along the steep bank to the right.

Paradise Creek
Park at Hospital Rock Picnic Area, walk 0.8 miles to Buckeye Flat Campground. Take the path across from site #28 to cross a footbridge over the Middle Fork. Follow Paradise Creek (not the Middle Fork) for 1 mile (1.6 km) until the trail grows faint.

There may also experience delays. An intense effort to upgrade the highway is underway. For decades, a skin of pavement barely improved the original wagon road. Today’s work is building a route that can handle today’s large numbers of modern vehicles, without losing the joys of a mountain road. See page 12 for details on construction delays.

Wayside exhibits at overlooks along this historic road offer insight into these parks. Stop, read, and enjoy the views at these and other overlooks:

The Generals Highway
Driving this 80-year-old roadway is part of the experience of these parks. It carries you up almost a mile in elevation and connects the General Sherman Tree to the General Grant Tree, thereby earning its name.

You are Responsible for Your Safety

Natural areas present hazards. Icy or uneven ground, wild animals, and changing weather pose dangers. Rocks roll, trees topple, and limbs drop without warning. People create other hazards with campfires, traffic, snowplay, and poor decisions.

Water is the main cause of death in national parks across the country. Many drowning victims unexpectedly fell in when walking or climbing near rivers. The National Park Service works to reduce risks, but your safety is in your own hands. Keep alert. Read warnings and ask a ranger for advice.

DROWNING
The #1 cause of death here! Be extra careful around water. Falling in can be as dangerous as swimming. Once you are in a river, getting out can be nearly impossible: Rocks are smooth and slippery; swift, cold water rapidly saps your strength. Currents are always stronger than they appear.

DISEASE CAUTIONS
Do not feed or touch ANY wild animals. Avoid areas of rodent activity as fleas on rodents can carry plague and deer mouse feaces can carry hantavirus.

TICKS are common in foothill and Kings Canyon grasses. Check yourself after a walk. Their bite is painless, but a small percentage carry Lyme disease. Remove ticks carefully with tweezers and seek a doctor’s advice.

WEST NILE VIRUS is passed by bites from infected mosquitoes. Human illness is not common, but take steps to avoid mosquito bites.

UNTREATED WATER / GIARDIA
This protozoan in lakes and streams causes intestinal upset. Boil drinking water from waterways for at least 3 minutes. Iodine and other chemicals may not be as reliable as heat in killing bacteria and Giardia, but can be effective if used properly.

POISON OAK
A common shrub up to 500’ in elevation. In fall it shows red leaves and whitish berries; bare stems in winter; shiny green leaves in groups of three in spring. If you touch any part of it, wash skin and clothes right away. Leaves of three, let it be!

HYPERTHERMIA
This life-threatening condition can occur year-round. Stay dry; snack often. If someone doesn’t respond to the need for warmer clothes or is stumbling, forgetful, or extremely tired and drowsy, get warm sugary drinks into them immediately. Warm them with dry clothing, sleeping bags, and shelter.

RATTLESNAKES
Watch where you put your hands and feet! They live in much of these parks and are especially common in the foothills and near water. Do not harass or kill snakes; this is when most bites occur. Bites are rarely lethal, but tissue damage can be severe. If bitten, avoid panic; call a ranger or 911.

LIGHTNING
See dark clouds or lightning? Hear thunder? Get inside a large building or a vehicle (not convertible), if possible. Do not stand under trees or in shallow caves. Avoid projecting above your surroundings, such as standing on a ridge, on Moro Rock, or in open meadows. Stay away from open water, wire fences, and metal railings, which can carry lightning from a distance.

CARBON MONOXIDE
This odorless, colorless gas can be fatal. Never burn charcoal in closed spaces, e.g., a tent or RV.

OZONE POLLUTION
See air-quality forecasts in visitor centers. Most ozone rises into the Sierra on warm winds. Levels of this colorless gas are highest May to October, peaking in late afternoon. The peaks sometimes reach “unhealthy” state/federal standards, and can affect respiratory systems. Ozone forms from gases in car and factory exhaust. To help reduce ozone, don’t let your vehicle idle more than 20 seconds.

WEAK CELL PHONE SIGNALS
Cell phones rarely work here; don’t rely on them. Note location of pay telephones (pages 8 & 9).

MOUNTAIN LIONS
Cougars roam throughout the parks, but you are unlikely to see one. Attacks are rare, but be aware. Watch children closely; never let them run ahead. Cautiously move away if you find a partially buried animal carcass. If you see a cougar, convince it that you are not prey:

• Don’t run; that may trigger pursuit.
• Pick up children.
• Try to appear as large as possible. Don’t crouch or try to hide.
• Hold your ground or back away slowly while facing the cougar.
• If the cougar seems aggressive, wave your hands, shout, and throw stones or sticks at it.
• If attacked, fight back! Report any sightings.

DRINKING WATER
The 13 park water systems are tested to ensure that they meet federal and state standards. Annual Consumer Confidence Reports are available.

ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES
Keep parks safe, natural, and free from illegal activities! Prevent illegal marijuana growing. Report any suspicious activities: 1-888-NPS-CRIME.

KEEP ANIMALS SAFE
Pets are vulnerable to wildlife, ticks, and overheating in vehicles. Keep wildlife safe from pets, too.

TREE HAZARDS
Branches may fall, whether or not they appear dead. When under trees, stay aware. Run if you hear cracks or snapping overhead. Don’t linger under dead, cracked, or broken branches. Report falling branches or trees to a ranger.

EXPLORE SAFELY
• Avoid going alone, and tell someone your plans and return time.
• Take a map, a jacket, and water.
• Watch and listen for potential hazards above, around, and on the ground.
• Beware of trails and sidewalks slippery with sand, water, ice, or leaves.
• Slow down. Share the road with people and wildlife.
Bear Habitat: Proper Food Storage is the Law!

Bears will grab unattended food and can easily break into cars that have food in them. They become bold and sometimes aggressive in attempts to get more. Too often, these bears must be killed.

This is why you may be fined if you do not store food properly. Always follow the rules below to reduce (but not eliminate) the risk of a bear break-in.

Drivers
Never leave any food or scented item in cars where food-storage boxes (or “lockers”) are provided.

Picnickers
Never move away from coolers and tables when food is out. Stay within arm’s length of food.

Lodge Guests
Keep doors closed any time you leave.

Campers
Store food day and night in the metal boxes provided (avoid bringing coolers that won’t fit; most boxes are 47” long, 33” deep, 28” high (campground details on page 4). Store ALL food, coolers, related items, and anything with an odor (even non-food), including unopened cans and bottles. Latch the box completely. Food not stored properly will be impounded. Where boxes are not provided, seal food to reduce odors, cover it well, put it in your vehicle, and close the windows. Keep a clean campsite. Put garbage immediately in bear-proof containers or store it like food. Take baby seats out of cars; the smells they absorb may attract bears.

Backpackers
Hanging food often fails! Store all food in a portable canister. Less than 3 pounds, it holds up to 5-day’s food for one and fits in a pack. Metal boxes in a few wilderness locations offer backup storage. Rent or buy a canister at visitor centers or markets.

Everyone
Don’t let bears approach you or your food. Wave your arms, make loud noises, and throw small rocks toward them (avoid hitting the face or head). Keep a safe distance but be persistent. Abandoning your food teaches bears that approaching humans is acceptable. However, if a bear does get food, never try to take it back.

Your Entry Fees Help the Parks & the Forest!

Most fees get invested right here, improving and protecting these parks: They repair roads, camp-grounds, trails, picnic areas, and restrooms. They update visitor centers, exhibits, and slide programs. For more on these and commercial fees, ask park staff or search www.nps.gov/seki for “fees.”

Passes to Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks plus Hume Lake District of Sequoia National Forest:

- 7-day pass: $20 per vehicle (private, non-commercial) or $10 per person on foot, bicycle, motorcycle, or bus. Not valid at Crystal Cave.
- 12-Month Pass: $30 admits all passengers in a private vehicle. Not valid at Crystal Cave.

Passes to National Parks & Interagency Federal Recreational Lands Nationwide:

- Annual Military: Free to active-duty members and their dependents with a CAC or DD1173.
- Seniors: $10 one-time fee buys lifetime entrance for U.S. citizens & permanent residents 62 or over. Not valid at Crystal Cave.
- Accessibility: Free to blind or permanently disabled U.S. citizens and permanent residents. Take appropriate documents to entrance stations. Not valid at Crystal Cave.

Wilderness

Over 800,000 acres of designated wilderness in these parks provide outstanding opportunities for solitude as well as primitive and unconfined types of recreation.

Fire restrictions are in place. Check for the latest requirements before leaving on your trip.

Following minimum-impact regulations helps to protect both the wilderness and your experience. Wild places include hazards and help may not be available. Be prepared to be fully self-reliant.

Permits are required for all overnight trips. They are limited during the summer quota period (late May through September 27) and cost $15. Permits can be reserved by mail or fax beginning March 1. Outside of the quota period, permits are free and can be self-issued at the permit station or visitor center closest to your trailhead (see page 2).

Jennie Lakes & Monarch wildernesses in the National Forest (FS): Permits are not required but please complete a registration card at Jennie Lakes trailheads. Information is used to manage the wilderness effectively. USFS requires a free fire permit for any open flame; downloadable from www.fs.usda.gov/sequoia. Check for fire restrictions.

Camping in the park’s “frontcountry” is permitted only in campgrounds. Camping or sleeping in vehicles is not allowed in parking lots, pullouts, picnic areas, or trailheads in the park.

Rules & Recommendations
Don’t Lose Your Brakes
If you keep a foot on the pedal, brakes may overheat and fail. Instead, downshift on the downhills. In automatic vehicles, put the gearshift on 1, 2 or L. The engine gets louder but it will save your brakes.

Emergency Car Repairs
For a tow: 565-3341 then press zero (24 hours). In Sequoia Park only, 24-hour AAA for lock outs, jump starts, out-of-gas, minor repairs: 565-4070.

Prevent Car Fires
Hot brakes & mufflers can easily start car and forest fires. Stop only on paved areas, not on grasses.

Use Turnouts; Let Others Pass
Don’t pull into grassy areas; this can start fires.

Bicycles

Go Slow for Wildlife!
Animals may start across the road unexpectedly. Wildlife is too often hit by cars.

Everything is tinder dry. Campfires and smoking are prohibited in some areas. Never toss cigarette butts on the ground or park on grass. Check bulletin boards and visitor centers for specific guidelines.

Delays on park roads
See bulletin boards at visitor centers, visit www.nps.gov/seki, or contact the park for updates and details. Beware of narrow, rough roads in construction areas. Always use low gear on downhills. Thank you for your patience!

Generals Highway Reconstruction
This project affects portions of the main park road between Eleven Range (south of Giant Forest) and Wolverton Road (north of the Sherman Tree, south of Lodgepole).

Schedules will shift and occasional night closures may be needed (check locally for changes) but, except on weekends and holidays, expect delays from 15 minutes to one hour during the day:
- in the Giant Forest area; and
- south of (or below) Giant Forest.

Road Repairs in Other Areas
15-minute delays may occur on weekdays through summer.
