

Stones River National Battlefield

Victory at Great Cost

The Regular Brigade

On December 31, 1862, Union soldiers of the Regular Brigade plunged into the woods to plug a hole in the line of soldiers at Stones River. They lost nearly half their men in less than an hour but held long enough to help the Union Army gain a victory. This monument honors their brave sacrifice.

To learn more, visit: www.nps.gov/stri

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE