Memorandum

To: Regional Director, Region Five

From: Superintendent, Harpers Ferry National Monument

Subject: Research Project No. HF-56, Historic Building Report,
Part II-Historical Data Section, for Bldg. No. 34-35

Historian Charles W. Snell offers the following comments in regard to the question raised in Regional Historian Frank Barnes' memorandum of May 28 on the Part II-Historical Data Section for Bldgs. No. 34-35.

1. Length of quotes, pages 4, 10, 11. It should be noted that on March 11, 1959, Regional Chief of Interpretation Nelligan and Mr. Barnes issued for the first time to the members of this research team definite (and verbal) instructions that all research reports must be kept as short as possible. The report under consideration was completed on March 4, 1959. As this research report has completely revolutionized our previous conception of the historical appearance of Bldgs. No. 34-35, it is my opinion that the quotes on pages 10 and 11 are of the greatest importance and should be left in the report as they stand.
2. Page 12. Farther narrative analysis would be useful, re the finding that present Bldgs. 32, 33 and 34A must all have been erected after 1870. In the long quote objected to by Mr. Barnes on page 10 of the report, it is plainly stated that "There were no outbuildings except a small and badly damaged one story kitchen..." Photograph HF-361, cited in the report, page 27, also clearly indicates that Bldg. No. 33 was not standing prior to 1870. For these reasons I see no reasons to belabor a point, that has been well established on page 10, thereby lengthening the report. The exact location of Bldg. No. 35 and the lot are shown on the 1869 map, page 2, of the report.
3. Page 9. The statement that the kitchen was added to the Master Armorer's House and later became Bldg. No. 34 (or part thereof) is based on footnote 18 on that page, and on the four maps listed on page 9, and included in the Appendixes of the report. Every one of those maps shows Bldg. No. 35 with a small annex at the rear, located on the present site of Bldg. No. 34.

4. Pages 5, 8, 9 and 14. "discrepancies" in the various dimensions given for Bldg. No. 35. The measurements for Bldg. No. 35 of 32 feet long are quoted from a document dated 1816, page 5. The measurement for Bldg. 35, 36 feet long, is quoted from an 1821 document, page 8. The measurement of 48 feet long for Bldg. 35 is based on actual measurement taken by the writer from the 1834-35 maps, page 9. The length of 33 feet is based on the modern measured drawing of the building, Drawing No. NMHF-3077. All of the various dimensions have been listed for the benefit of the Architects who will use this report in their study of the structure. I cannot pretend to resolve the differences in distance given for the same building, other than to state that the error undoubtedly lay with the various people who measured Bldg. No. 35 in the 1816-35 period.

5. Citing where photographs used may be readily found: A complete check list of every historical photograph showing Bldg. No. 34-35, and also where they may readily be found, is already included in the report on page 27 under the heading "HISTORICAL PRINTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS."

6. General. Mr. Snell also wishes to state for the record that in his opinion, this report represents a particularly brilliant piece of research work in that the study has completely revolutionized the previously held concept of the appearance of these structures in 1859. Indeed the Architects strongly argued that the theories advanced in this report could not be so. However, after preliminary architectural investigation, following the leads provided by this report, the Architects uncovered a considerable amount of structural evidence that substantiates the theories that had been advanced on the basis of documentary evidence. It now appears, on the basis of the structural investigation, that the one story brick kitchen was demolished by McGraw about 1870 and that its foundations and much of its material, such as trim, window and door casings, and even windows and doors, were incorporated into Bldg. No. 34, which is located in part on the site of the old kitchen. This Part II, in Mr. Snell's opinion, therefore, represents major contribution to the historical and architectural studies of the buildings in the Monument.

OWNERSHIP OF THE LAND, 1796 - 1869

Lot No. 3, Block B, Shenandoah Street, the site of Bldg. No. 34-35 and the subject of this report, is bounded on the east by Lot No. 2, Block B, site of Bldg. No. 36; on the north by Shenandoah Street; on the west by Market Street; and on the south by the Winchester and Potomac Railroad. Lot No. 3 was a portion of the property purchased on June 15, 1796, by the United States Government from John Wager, Sr., for the purpose of establishing a Federal Armory at Harpers Ferry. The lot remained the property of the United States and formed a part of the Harpers Ferry Armory from 1796 until 1869. Lot No. 3 was described in 1869 as follows:

"BLOCK B, ON SHENANDOAH.....

Lot No. 3, 88 feet front on Shenandoah street, 122 feet front on Market street, running back to embankment of Winchester and Potomac railroad, with it 106 feet to Lot No. 2, and with it 134 feet to Shenandoah street. Fine brick house and other buildings. The last three lots have an alley 10 feet wide along embankment of the railroad, from Washington (or High Street) to Market Street..." 2

(See 1869 map of Harpers Ferry on the next page of this report for the location of Lot No. 3.)

Lot No. 3 was purchased on December 6, 1869, by (M. T.) (C. A.) and James C. McGraw for $5,100. ³ SISTERS

CHAPTER II

CONSTRUCTION OF BLDG. NO. 34-35 AND ARCHITECTURAL DATA

On April 4, 1812, Samuel Annin, Paymaster and Military Storekeeper of the Harpers Ferry Armory, informed William Eustis, the Secretary of War:

"The bearer hereof Joseph S. Annin is desirous of opening a Druggists shop at this place. Will you be pleased, Sir, to grant him permission to erect a small brick building for the purpose in some convenient spot where it will not interfere with any of the public works. It appears necessary to have a store of this kind in a place like this, it would very frequently save the trouble & expense of sending a distance for a Physician. General Dearborn when Secretary of War granted me permission to procure for my son Doctor Annin (who then kept a Druggists shop) medicine for all the Armors, chargeable to the United States. He has since removed to Battletown, 20 miles distant, and for a considerable time no medicine has been furnished them at the public expence. My son Joseph lived some years with his Brother and attended to the shop & therefore is acquainted with the business. It would be a very great accommodation to the Mechanics again to be furnished with medicine, and very useful to the neighbourhood generally. Be please, Sir, to take it into consideration, and I doubt not you will grant the request." 1

On May 12, 1812, Secretary of War Eustis approved the request, writing:

"You may authorize Mr. Joseph Annin to erect a small brick building for an Apothecaries² shop, provided it will not in any way interfere with the public works..." From this, and evidence to be presented hereafter, it would appear that front portion of Bldg. No. 35, brick, 2½ stories high, and measuring about 23 feet by 34 feet, was erected by Joseph S. Annin in 1812 as a dwelling and apothecary shop.

Samuel Annin, who had served as the Paymaster of the Armory since 1800, retired on May 15, 1815, because "I find it impossible to discharge my duty³ as Paymaster & Store Keeper at this Post..."

2. Eustis to Annin, Reel 18, V.2, p.157; Reel 13, V.2, p.131.
3. Annin to Secretary of War, May 15, 1815, Reel 13, V.2, p.112.

From 1800 to May, 1815, while serving as Paymaster, Mr. Annin had resided in the Paymaster's House (see the 1834-35 maps) which was located on what was later known as Lot No. 5, Block B, Shenandoah Street, in House No. 43. On resigning, Mr. Annin turned the Paymaster's House over to Superintendent James Stubblefield⁴ and went to live with his son in Bldg. No. 35.

In February, 1816, Samuel Annin wrote in great heat to Major John Graham of the War Department, revealing considerable data about Bldg. No. 35:

"Not wishing to intrude on the Honorable Secretary of War, I have taken the liberty of addressing you on a subject that immediately concerns myself and family--- A few days ago a Mr. Basil Williamson (who had leased and operated the Harpers Ferry Hotel, located Wager Lot No. 15, from the Wager family from 1803 to 1815) informed me that the Secretary of War had granted him one acre of ground--- By the records of the War Office it will appear that Dr. Eustis, when Secretary of War, did grant permission to Joseph S. Annin to erect a brick building on any lot that should not be wanted for public use, in consequence thereof he built a house on a lot which I now occupy, I have converted the lot into a garden. Mr. Williamson has made choice of this lot to build his Tavern house upon, and with the assistance of Major Beall (the new Paymaster of the Armory) and Mr. R. Humphreys, has actually laid off the ground, leaving only 43³/₄ feet south of the house, the porch at the west end (in order to have a covering over the steps that descended to the cellar kitchen) they say must be taken down, that WmSons house may be joined to this- the case has certainly been misrepresented to the Secretary, otherwise he surely would not given such a grant to a man that never has done one single act whereby the United States at this place has been benefitted, why should he be accommodated with one whole acre and the Man that has devoted his whole time for 15 years, and to whose care, attention, and industry the prosperity & security of the establishment (The Armory) in a great measure has depended should not be accommodated with a small lot (not wanted for any public use) for a garden? I believe the Secretary to be a gentleman of too generous a mind to suffer (let alone sanction) such proceedings- lest silence on the occasion might be construed into an acquiescence I have stated a few facts, and shall now rest satisfied in full assurance that the Honble Secretary will permit me peaceably to enjoy the fruits of my Sons labor, as I no longer can enjoy the fruits of my own, Major Beall being in full possession of (what cost me immense labor, expence for many years to cultivate an extensive garden, and lot adorned with a variety of trees, fruits, &c., (that is, the Paymaster's House and Yard) which I relinquished without one cent being paid me by him, or any other person..." 5

Four days later, Mr. Annin wrote again: "I recollect to have omitted filling the blank left for the number of feet left for a door yard, the blank should have been filled with 14 by 32..." 6

From the above letter it appears that the original kitchen in Bldg. No. 35 was located in the cellar and that the kitchen was entered by means of exterior stairs located at the west end of the house; the cellar steps were sheltered by means of a small porch. From Mr. Annin's remarks about being left with only a small yard measuring 14 feet by 32 feet in size on the south side of the house, it would appear that his brick house fronted about 32 feet on Shenandoah Street.

Due at least in part, no doubt, to Annin's protest, and also to objections of the powerful Wager family, who had no desire to see their former inn keeper set up a tavern on a Government Lot in competition with their Harpers Ferry Hotel, the proposed lease of land to Williamson was cancelled by order of the Secretary of War on April 21, 1816; 7 thus Mr. Annin not only saved his garden but was spared a close neighbor. As events transpired, however, Williaman purchased another Government lease that had been granted to a Major Jamison 8 and erected his tavern on a lot near the Armory on the Potomac River side.

BASIC WILLIAMSON SON-IN-LAW OF
JOHN WAGER, SR.

In March, 1818, Superintendent Stubblefield informed Col. George Bomford:

"Mr. Annin is about to leave this place, will you be pleased to say, whether or no it would be advisable to purchase his son's House at a fair price. I am of opinion it would be better for the govt. to have it than for it to be owned and occupied by an individual..." 9

The Ordnance Office, in response, asked "we wish to know under what circumstances it was built, ⁷ if it does not form a part of his Security &c. & what ¹⁰ has been the Cost thereof & its present Value?"

In answering these questions Mr. Stubblefield stated:

"I have understood from him (Mr. Annin) that Doctor Eustis, when Secretary of War gave his son the privilege of building of a house for the keeping a apothecaries shop which was thought would be an accommodation to the people of this place. Mr. Joseph Annin has been offered $2500 for it, but he wishes the Government to receive it, and credit his father's Acct. with the Amt., if that will not suit the Government, to receive the house these terms, he wishes to have the privilege of disposing of it to the best advantage for cash; which will be paid over to the Government, to his father's Credit, but Sir I would think it most adviseable for you to receive it, and not suffer it to pass into the hands of any other person, I am of an opinion that the house could not be built for much less than what he asks for it,..." 11

Mr. Samuel Annin apparently left Harpers Ferry in 1818 and there the matter lay as far as the Ordnance Department was concerned until 1819. In February of that year Mr. Annin again wrote to the Secretary of War on the matter of his "brick house" and another round of questions were issued to ¹² Superintendent Stubblefield on the subject.

On March 20, 1819, Col. Wadsworth reported to the Secretary of War:

9. Stubblefield to Bomford, Ordnance Department, March 16, 1818, Reel 21, V.3, p.231.

10. John Morton, Ordnance Department to Stubblefield, March 16, 1818, Reel 14, V.3, p.142.

11. Stubblefield to Bomford, March 23, 1818, Reel 21, V.3, p.234.

12. Col. Wadsworth, Ordnance Department, to Stubblefield, February 15, 1819, Reel 14, V.2, p.186.

"...Mr. Annin claims a Credit of $2500 being the estimated Value of a brick house built by his son on the public lands at Harpers Ferry by permission of the Sec. of War. There can be no objection I conceive to admit this Sum to his credit." 13

This favorable recommendation would seem to close the matter, but such was not the case. Two years later, in October, 1821, Superintendent Stubblefield again notified the Ordnance Office:

"I enclose you a letter from Mr. Annin, late paymaster at this place to the Master Armorer respecting House which he now occupies. The House was built by Mr. Annin or his son, and on the settlement of his account with the Govt, as I suppose, there was an understanding that it ought be post to his credit at $2500, but he now comes forward and demands of Mr. Beckham (the Master Armorer) the possession of the House, stating that he has not received credit for it &c.

Will you be pleased to take the matter into consideration and inform me what shall be done." 14

Lt. Col. Bomford answered on October 11, 1821, stating:

"...a letter has been addressed under this date, from this Department to Mr. Annin, acquainting that if, on an examination at the Treasury, it shall appear from his Accounts that he is justly entitled to be credited for the amount of the Cost of said House &c. and that the same has not yet been so admitted at the Treasury, it would be recommended from this Office that he be credited for that Amount in his general account with the United States. He has also been informed however, that even this admission to his credit will leave a Balance against him on the Books of the Treasury.

Under these circumstances and other considerations, I have it in direction, from the Secretary of War to direct that you keep possession of the House in question and maintain the same on the part of the United States." 15

Mr. Annin was apparently credited with $2,500 as payment for the value of his house in 1821, as we find no further correspondence on the subject, and also because his name is not included in the "Statement of buildings erected by private individuals on the government lands at Harper's Ferry, Virginia," dated February 23, 1829, which listed the names of all people having claims outstanding or acquired from 1822 to 1828.¹⁶

Thus probably in 1818 and certainly by 1821, Mr. Samuel Annin's house had been taken over by the United States Government and was being used as quarters for the Master Armorer.

We find this house described in the 1821 "Statement of the number and dimensions of the buildings at the United States Armory at Harper's Ferry, Virginia, together with the materials of which they are built, and their estimated value," as follows:

"One Dwelling House, 36 by 26 feet, two stories and a cellar. Built of Brick. Estimate/Value: $2,500." 17

In 1827 this building was enlarged by the following addition:

"Building Kitchen for the Master Armorer's 20 by 22 feet, 1 story brick...¹⁸ $500." This addition was a part of what is now Bldg. No. 34.

In 1833 the roofs of the Offices of the Paymaster, located on Lot No. 2, Block B, and of the Superintendent, located on Lot No. 1, Block A, in the vicinity of the two Arsenals were slated to lessen the danger of fire. It is therefore probable that the roof of Bldg. No. 35 was also slated about this time.¹⁹

Four maps showing the Master Armorer's House (Bldg. No. 34-35) and yard in the 1834-35 period will be found in Appendixes I to III of this report. These maps give Bldg. No. 35 dimensions of 48 feet by 28 feet, and the kitchen (Bldg. No. 34) is shown as being 22 by 18 feet in size. In both cases the figures must be regarded as only approximate. In the rear of the Master Armorer's House is to be seen a small outbuilding 16 by 14 feet in size, which was possibly a smoke house and may be Bldg. No. 34A. The other building just beyond it was probably a privy and may be Bldg. No. 36A. At the rear of the yard, adjacent to the Winchester and Potomac Railroad right of way and fronting on Globe Inn Alley, is Bldg. No. 3, which was described by the engineers on August 12, 1834, as "No. 3 carriage-house and stable of Master Armorer, value $150; can be removed (to permit construction of the railroad)," thus indicating that this was probably a frame building.

Bldg. No. 34-35 is described on the 1848-51 list of Government Dwelling Houses as "Dwelling House No. 2, Brick, two story, slate roof, located on Shenandoah Street," and valued both in 1848 and 1851 at $2,700 and placed in Class No. 1.

In the annual report for the year July 1, 1850-June 30, 1851, Superintendent Symington reported: "Two coats of patent paint, in oil, have been applied to the exterior walls of...also to the Commanding Officer's, Pay Master's and Master Armorer's Quarters. Lightening Rods have also been attached to all these buildings."

Col. Henry K. Craig, Chief of Ordnance, directed Major W. H. Bell, Superintendent of the Armory, to make "such repairs on the house recently occupied by Mr. Burton (James H. Burton, the new Master Armorer), as are necessary to fit it for the new Master Armorer..."²³

Thus in the Annual report of operations for the year July 1, 1853, to June 30, 1854, Major Bell reported:

"Master Armorer's Quarters, also, the five buildings occupied by the Clerks, have been generally repaired, painted and plastered."²⁴

As has already been mentioned, M. T., C. A. and James C. McGraw purchased Bldg. No. 34-35 in 1869. On December 1, 1879, Jesse W. Graham submitted the following description of the building as it had appeared in 1869, when McGraw purchased it:²⁵

"On this 1st day of December 1879 personally came Jesse W. Graham before me Wm. H. Moore, a Justice of the Peace in and for said County and State, and being by me duly sworn according to law deposes and says, that he had lived at Harpers Ferry since 1850 excepting a part of the time of the War of 1861, that he was employed in the U. S. Armory at Harpers Ferry before the war, and is a practical mechanic. That he has carefully examined the House and lot bid off at the sale of the U. S. Armory property by M. T., C. A. and James McGraw and he finds the condition of the House would be as follows without the improvements of their Father James McGraw: viz, no pavement in front of the building or shade trees, both ends and one side wall badly cracked, a badly broken slate roof, that would make the house untenable. Floors sunken, and without the Brick Pillars put in by Mr. McGraw to support the floors, it would have fallen in long ago. There was no outbuildings except a small and badly damaged one story kitchen (Bldg. No. 34), without floor or windows, and in fact to my own knowledge Mr. McGraw's children bought a House that was condemned by United States ten years before. Major Byington (Supt. of the Armory) (actually Master Armorer and an Acting Superintendent) stated to me while he lived in the House about 1858 or 1859, that he was fearful that it would fall in whenever he went in the upper part of it. And had Mr. McGraw not put in about $1600 worth of repairs, the house would have probably fallen in long ago, with Mr. McGraws improvements the property would be high at seven hundred dollars.

The lot is worth-as shown by recent cash sales on the same street, and within four doors of it, also on the same side of the street- $1.76 per front foot, and in my judgement no more, in 1859 it was not more valuable, but the hope of improvements through the water power excited out people until they bid fabulous prices for the property, underwent was really far from the true condition of affairs. The repairs Mr. McGraw put on the House alone, as above stated, and 2,000 dollars worth of new outbuildings and fencing, makes the property look quite valuable, but in its exposed condition from the floors, and from its liability to be bodily swept away, as the fencing & outbuildings & coal and other goods were either damaged or entirely swept away from the property in 1870 and 1877, few people would care to pay more for the property than the amount I have named and take the risk of losing so heavily. Mr. McGraw has had a large portion of the House replastered this summer, and built a new corn Houses, and large Ware Room for coal, goods and etc, in the yard besides, so steadily improving the purchases, but without his improvements the building bought by his children was not worth over $450, and that is a high estimate for the material in it, as the true Value of the Building at the Time of the purchase was the value of the material in it, it being condemned by the U. S. as unfit for use.

Jessie W. Graham." 26

On August 6, 1878, Maggie T. McGraw, Katie A. McGraw and James C. McGraw submitted a sworn statement to the Solicitor of the Treasury listing the following repairs and improvements to the property:

"Roofing, Flooring, Fencing, Pavements, cistern, Brick support in cellar for house, stable, Ice House, Sewer in yard, and painting," total improvements amounting to $1601.32. They also stated that a "Mrs. Kirby occupied the property until the spring of 1870, and since that time we have occupied it with the exception of 5 or 6 months."

In Appendix IV will be found a long itemized list of repairs made by the regarding the property.

From the above evidence it is clear that all original outbuildings, fencing, pavements and trees located on Lot No. 3, Block B, Shenandoah Street, were swept away by the 1870 and 1877 floods. It therefore follows that present Bldg. No. 32, 33 and 34-A must all be non-historic structures that were erected by James McGraw after 1870. The same holds true for the present pavement in front of Bldgs. No. 33, 34-35 and the present stone wall that extends along the lot line between Lots No. 2 and 3, running from rear of Bldg. No. 35 to the Winchester and Potomac Railroad tracks. Photograph HP-141 indicates that there were two shade trees located in front of Bldg. No. 35 in 1865 and that the sidewalk was also paved at that date. Original fencing on the lot apparently consisted of a wooden picket fence that was carried off by the floods. The original outbuildings on the lot probably consisted of Bldg. No. 36A, one story brick privy, a small brick smoke house, and one and a half story frame stable, the latter building probably fronted on Market Street. The original stable was probably the building shown on the 1834-35 maps, measuring approximately 16 feet by 20 feet in size, moved slightly further north from its original location in the right of way of the railroad.

Evidence to be presented in the following chapters of this report also indicates that all of the original outbuildings for Bldg. No. 34-35 were being used in the 1859-61 period by the occupants of Bldg. No. 36. This being the case, there were, therefore, probably no fences in the 1859-61 period dividing

Lot No. 2 from Lot No. 3.

SEE P. 9
The most important conclusion to be drawn from the 1878 evidence, however, would appear to be that Bldg. No. 34, before 1865, was only a one story brick building, the 20 by 22 foot kitchen erected in 1827. The roof and a rear chimney of Bldg. No. 34 is to be seen in the 1865 Photograph HP-361. The larger portion of Bldg. No. 34 as it stands today, an 18 by 39 foot 3½ story brick and stone structure, is therefore non-historic, having been erected after 1869.

On the following page we present a drawing that indicates, in our opinion, the various stages in construction of Bldgs. No. 34-35.

CHAPTER III

USE OF BLDG. NO. 34-35, 1812 - 1933

1. 1812-1818, Dwelling and Drug Store

Bldg. No. 35 was erected by Joseph Annin, the son of Paymaster Samuel Annin, as an apothecary shop and dwelling house in 1812 and as such it was used from 1812 to 1818. On retiring from his position as Paymaster of the Armory on May 15, 1815, Samuel Annin also resided from that date until some time in 1818 in Bldg. No. 34-35. The Annins left Harpers Ferry in 1818 and at that time their house was taken over by the Armory for use as a Government Dwelling House. Probably in 1818 and certainly in 1821 Bldg. No. 35 had become the quarters of the Master Armorer of the Armory. Prior to occupying Bldg. No. 34-35, the Master Armorer had been living in a one story frame house, 25 feet by 14 feet in size, that had been located on Camp Hill.¹

2. 1818-1858, Master Armorer's House

Bldg. No. 34-35 was thus occupied by the following Master Armorer and their families from 1818 to 1858:

1. 1818 to May 14, 1830, Master Armorer Armistead Beckham, (Mr. Beckham served² as Master Armorer at Harpers Ferry from December 13, 1815, to May 14, 1830.)

(Note: The early Master Armorer, 1798-1815, were as follows: 1798-1801,

2. May 14, 1830 to November 10, 1849, Benjamin Moor. Mr. Moor was allowed 8 to retain his quarters in Bldg. No. 34-35 until the spring of 1850.

3. November, 1849, to March 16, 1854. James H. Burton. By June, 1850, 9
Mr. Burton had occupied Bldg. No. 34-35 as his free quarters. 10 The house was painted on the exterior at this time. Oⁿ leaving the Armory in 1854,
Mr. Burton then became Superintendent of the Enfield Arsenal in Great Britain. 11

4. March 16, 1854, to October 29, 1858. Mr. Samuel Byington. From August 16, 11
1854, to January 17, 1855, Master Armorer Byington also served as the Acting Superintendent of the Harpers Ferry Armory. 12 Bldg. No. 34-35 was repaired,

In May, 1855, Mr. Byington applied for and received permission to have a garden located on Camp Hill near the Commanding Officer's or Paymaster's Quarters. ¹³ Mr. Samuel Byington, as we shall see, was the last of the Master Armorers to reside in Bldg. No. 34-35.

3. Plans for a New House for the Master Armorer, 1852-1858

The Master Armorer's yard, as it was situated in relation to other buildings located on the Arsenal Tract, may be seen by glancing at the 1848 map of Harpers Ferry, which appears on the next page of this report.

A board of officers met at Harpers Ferry, in September, 1851, to consider and recommend plans to the Secretary of War for the sale of Surplus Government lots and houses of the Armory. In relation to Bldg. No. 34-35, the board recommended:

"The Master Armorer and Clerks now occupy houses on ground which should be sold; these houses should be reserved from the sale until suitable ones are erected for their use. All other dwellings should be removed from the land reserved..."

This recommendation was approved by the Secretary of War on June 10, ¹⁶ 1852. As a result of this decision, the Arsenal Tract was laid out into two blocks, but not offered for sale in 1852. Bldg. No. 34-35 and the Master Armorer's lot was described in 1852 as follows:

"BLOCK B, ON SHENANDOAH....

Lot No. 4- 97 feet front on Shenandoah St., 140 feet deep to Alley [along line with Lot No. 5] - 124 feet on Alley, and from Alley 122 feet on Market St. to Shenandoah St. Dwelling No. 2-Master Armorer." 17

(See Brown's 1852 Map of Harpers Ferry on next page of this report.)

Following the sale of Government land, which was held on August 31 and September 1 and 2, 1852, Superintendent Benjamin Huger recommended to Col. H. K. Craig, Chief of Ordnance, on October 15, 1852:

"I now recommend that the amount received from the sale of part of the public property here, may be taken up, under the appropriation of repairs and applied to improving the part retained by the U. S.

I would propose to apply these funds 1st to building quarters on the blocks reserved for the purpose, for the Officers of the Armory, (Master Armorer & Clerks).

The buildings now occupied by these are on lots to be sold. As they are entitled to quarters, these cannot be sold until others are built.

New quarters should be erected & the sale of the lots and houses now occupied by these Officers would replace the amount so used..." 18

This suggestion to use funds from the 1852 sale in this manner was disapproved by the Secretary of War on the grounds that Congress had not appropriated funds to be spent for these purposes. 19 These plans for new quarters were therefore shelved for four years because of the lack of funds to execute them.

On April 23, 1856, a joint resolution was passed by Congress authorizing the Secretary of War to apply the proceeds of the 1852 sale of lots at Harpers Ferry to the improvement of the public property at that place. ²⁰ On June 28, 1856, Col. Craig therefore informed Superintendent Henry W. Clowe that a total of $36,806.70 had been made available from the proceeds of the 1852 sale to be spent on permanent improvements at the Harpers Ferry Armory. From this total, ²¹ $18,000 was allotted for the "erection of three quarters."

Thus in 1858-1859, present Bldg. No. 36 was erected as the new quarters ²² for the Master Armorer and located on a lot adjoining Bldg. No. 34-35. The erection of Bldg. No. 36 resulted in a reduction in size of the lot for Bldg. No. 34-35 as described in 1852, in order to create a yard for Bldg. No. 36. Thus in 1869 the lot for Bldg. No. 34-35 was reduced from a 97 foot frontage on Shenandoah Street to an 88 foot frontage on the same street. (See 1869 Cat., page 1 of this report.)

On October 29, 1858, Mr. Samuel Byington, Master Armorer since 1854, resigned and was replaced by Benjamin Mills. Mr. Byington vacanted Bldg. No. 34-35 at this time and the house was then occupied by John E. Daingerfield, the Paymaster's Clerk, in November, 1858. Superintendent Henry W. Clowe reported on this situation as follows:

"...I also acquiesced in the arrangements made by Mr. Mills and Mr. Daingerfield, to exchange their quarters. The arrangement was very decidedly and exceedingly agreeable to both parties, and has been accomplished by the removal of Mr. Daingerfield to the old Quarters (Bldg. No. 34-35) of the Master Armorer, until the new house (Bldg. No. 36) is finished, and the occupation by Mr. Mills, of those on the Hill..." 23

Mr. Daingerfield, under this agreement, was to live in Bldg. No. 34-35 until the new quarters, Bldg. No. 36, were completed; he was then to move into the new house.

On July 16, 1859, Superintendent Alfred M. Barbour therefore informed the Chief of Ordnance, Col. Craig:

"The new quarters (Bldg. No. 36), built for the Master Armorer, on the Arsenal Lot, on Shenandoah St., and now by the decision of the Hon. Sec.^y of War, occupied by W. Dangerfield, Paymaster Clerk, rather than the present M. Armorer, who occupied the Quarters on the (Camp Hill), are finished and thus occupied.

The old house (Bldg. No. 34-35) is on the same lot, and very near to one of its (Bldg. No. 36's) gables, and is quite in a dilapidated condition. The outhouses attached to the old house, are wanted for the use of the new one; if the old house is retained, new outhouses will have to be built for the new house, and for these, there is not sufficient space upon the lot, without materially marring the appearance and enjoyment of the grounds. Besides the materials in the old house can be very profitably employed in the construction of outhouses for the new Quarters on the Hill, where they are much wanted, and will soon be needed for that purpose.

I therefore recommend the pulling down of this house (Bldg. No. 34-35), and the saving of the materials, as above named." 24

Bldg. 34-35 was therefore vacant in July of 1859 and Capt. William Maynadier, of the Ordnance Department, replied to Superintendent Barbour's request, remarking:

24. Barbour to Craig, July 16, 1859, Photostatic Collection, V.3, p.90A.

"...it would have been well to have brought it (the poor condition of Bldg. No. 34-35) to the notice of Col. Ripley at his late inspection of your Armory. But before taking any action on the subject in this Office I wish you to state why it was not submitted to the Inspector, and, as far as you may know, to state the reasons for placing the new Quarters (Bldg. No. 36) so contiguous to the old, as to render the pulling down of the old advisable- A 'Brick house of 2 Stories slate roof' and ever since 1845 reported in the first class of Armory dwelling houses?" 25

Mr. Barbour answered these questions on July 20, 1859, stating in part:

"...The building (No. 36) was so commenced long before I had charge of the Armory, and I am hence wholly unable, as you request, to state the reasons why it was placed so contiguous to the old quarters, and utterly unconscious that the matter was an open one, for so long a time I did not for a moment deem it necessary to invite Col. Ripley's attention to it.

By reference to the report of the Board of Office, dated 24th Sept., 1851, it was recommended that all buildings on reserved ground should be pulled down; this was one of them.

I have examined this matter closely, and am satisfied that it is entirely proper to remove the old building for many reasons- although it seems to have been borne on the Inventory as a first class house, its value as a dwelling was egregiously exaggerated on the Books, as is self-evident." 26

Superintendent's Barbour's letter was apparently ignored by the Ordnance Department, for he returned to the attack on September 5, 1859, writing:

"Permit me to invite yr. attention to my letter of the 20th July last, on the subject of removing the brick building formerly occupied by the Master Armorer, and contiguous to the new Quarters, on the same lot.

An early decision on the subject is very desirable." 27

Mr. Barbour's wish was granted, in part-a prompt reply-and on September 7, 1859, Col. Craig, Chief of Ordnance, informed him:

"...upon a full examination, it appears-there is no authority for pulling down or removing said house (the Master Armorer's old quarters). It will, therefore, have to remain, as it is, until the attention of the Secretary of War shall have been called to the subject and has decision been given; which will be communicated to you without delay." 28

Thus at the time of the John Brown Raid in October, 1859, Bldg. No. 34-35 stood vacant. Permission to tear down the house was never granted by the Secretary of War and the building therefore still stands.

As a result of the John Brown Raid, Superintendent Barbour requested on October 24, that force of regulars of the United States Army be stationed at Harpers Ferry to protect the Armory. ²⁹ This request was approved by the Secretary of War; and the troops arrived in November, 1859. On November 8, 1859, George Mausy informed James H. Burton, former Master Armorer and then Superintendent of the Enfield Arsenal, "Your old quarters (Bldg. No. 34-35) are now used as a recruiting station by Capt. Burton, there is a Co. of Soldiers, who were sent here from Govs. Island to protect Government property..." ³⁰

Bldg. No. 34-35 was therefore probably used for this purpose until April 5, 1860, when Captain Barton's company was withdrawn from Harper's Ferry. ³¹ There is no record of use for the building from April, 1860, to February, 1861, and it is probably ^e that the house was vacant. In February, 1861, regular army troops were again stationed at the Armory and it is possible that Bldg. No. 34-35 was again used to quarter the officers and also to serve as an office or recruiting station, although no direct evidence has been found relating to Bldg. No. 34-35. The troops remained at Harpers Ferry until April 19, 1861, when on the approach of Confederate forces, the small garrison fired the arsenals and withdrew across the Potomac.

On July 27, 1865, Brigadier General Edward D. Ramsay made a detailed inspection and report of the buildings and stores at Harpers Ferry. He described Bldg. No. 34-35 as follows:

"Dwelling House No. 2- two story, brick, located on Shenandoah Street. In fair condition and occupied as quarters for Officers." 33

Use of Bldgs. No. 34-35, 1866-1933

Following the Civil War, Bldgs. No. 34-35 and Lot No. 3 were offered for sale by the United States in 1869 and purchased by M. T., C. A. and James McGraw. The building was apparently rented during the 1866-1869 period by a Mrs. Kirby as a dwelling house. 34 From the spring of 1870 to 1878, the structures were next occupied by the owners and much improved and enlarged, being converted to use as a store. 35

By November, 1894, Bldgs No. 34-35 had assumed their present sizes and both were 3½ story buildings. Bldg. No. 34 was being used in 1894 as a post office and Bldg. No. 35 as a dry goods store. Bldg. No. 33 is shown as a 3 story stone building and was being utilized as a hardware store. Bldg. No. 32 is delineated as a two story stone structure and was being used as a beer

SUMMARY OF HISTORICAL EVIDENCE

1. HISTORICAL PLANS OF BLDGS.

A careful search of thousands of pages of documents in the National Archives has failed to turn up any plans relating to Bldg. No. 34-35 and it is therefore highly unlikely that any such plans will ever be located. Modern measured Drawings of Bldg. No. 34-35 will be found in Drawing No. NMHF-3077.

2. HISTORICAL PRINTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

Historical prints and photographs showing Bldgs. No. 34-35 will be found in the following reports that have already been submitted:

1. 1865 print, Photograph HF-141, by A. R. Waud, in Kissling, Herbert H., "Historic Building Report, Part I, for Bldgs. No. 34-35, 32 and 34A," dated January 22, 1958, page 20. (Bldg. No. 35)
2. 1865 original sketch of HF-141, Photograph HF-224, by A. R. Waud, in Snell, Charles W., "Historic Building Report, Part I, for Bldg. No. 10 and 10-A, the John C. Unseld Buildings," dated May 28, 1958, page 37, (Bldg. No. 35).

This is the only photograph that shows Bldg. No. 34 before it was enlarged. Also visible is a one story smoke house or privy in the rear of Bldg. No. 34 and the roof and west chimney of Bldg. No. 35.
4. 1892-1894 photograph, HF-99, in Snell, C. W., "History of Block C, Shenandoah Street," page 116. Excellent view of rear of Bldgs. No. 32, 33, 34-35, and 34A after the structures had been altered.

3. SUMMARY OF HISTORICAL DATA

A. Ownership of the Land

Lot No. 3, Block B, Shenandoah Street was owned by the United States Government from 1796 to 1859. In May, 1812, the lot was leased to Joseph S. Annin, the son of Paymaster Samuel Annin, for the purpose of erecting an apothecary shop. Joseph Annin thus held a lease to this lot from 1812 to 1818. In October, 1821, the United States Government settled all of Mr. Annin's claims to the house he had erected on the leased lot for $2500 and thus regained full control of the property.

B. Construction of Bldgs. No. 34-35

Bldg. No. 35 was erected in 1812 by Joseph S. Annin as a dwelling house and apothecary shop. The house, a $2\frac{1}{2}$ story brick building, fronted 33 feet on Shenandoah Street and was about 23 feet deep. The original roof was probably composed of wooden shingles. The original kitchen was located in the cellar of the house and was entered by means of an exterior stairway located at the west end of the building. These steps were sheltered by means of a small porch on the west end. Bldg. No. 35 was valued at \$2,600 in 1821.

Bldg. No. 34 was erected by the Armory in 1827 at a cost of $500 as a one story brick kitchen for Bldg. No. 35. The kitchen measured 20 by 22 feet in size. Either at this date or perhaps in 1833, and certainly by 1845, Bldgs No. 34-35 were covered with a slate roof.

Bldg. No. 35 was used from probably 1818 and certainly 1821 to 1858 as a dwelling house for the Master Armorer of the Armory. Bldgs No. 34-35 were painted on the exterior in 1851 and in 1854 the interiors were repaired, plastered and painted. No wallpaper was used in the quarters prior to 1869.

C. Outbuildings and Fences

Original outbuildings situated on Lot No. 3 were apparently comprised of the following structures: 1. A one story brick smoke house about 16 by 14 feet. 2. A small one story brick privy, and 3. A one or one and one-half story frame stable, measuring about 16 by 20 feet. These structures are all shown on the 1834-35 map. The stable was valued at that date at $150 and it was stated that the building could be removed from the proposed right of way requested by the Winchester & Potomac Railroad. It is therefore most probable that the stable was relocated on few yards north of its original site, still fronting on Market Street. It is also probable that the yard for Lot No. 3 was surrounded by a wooden fence, as shown on the 1834-35 maps and the 1848 map. All of these pre-Civil War structures, and including fencing, sidewalk and trees, with the exception of the privy, Bldg. No. 36-A, were swept away by the 1870 and 1877 floods.

Thus the present outbuildings, No. 32 and 34A, and Bldg. No. 33 are all non-historic buildings. The present stone fence between Lots No. 2 and 3 is also non-historic, being erected after 1869.

D. Uses of Bldg. No. 34-35, 1812-1865

1. 1812-1818. Residence and apothecary shop of Joseph S. Annin. From May, 1815, to 1818, also residence of Samuel Annin, retired Paymaster of the Armory.
2. 1818-1830. Master Armorer's Quarters. House taken over by United States in 1818. Residence of Master Armorer Armstead Beckham.
3. 1830-1850. Residence of Master Armorer Benjamin Moore.
4. 1850-1854. Residence of Master Armorer James H. Burton.
5. 1854-October 29, 1858. Residence of Master Armorer Samuel Byington.

6. November, 1858-July, 1859. Residence of John E. Daingerfield, Paymaster's Clerk.
7. July, 1859-November, 1859. Vacant at time of John Brown Raid, October, 1859.
8. November, 1859-April, 1860. Recruiting Office and probably quarters of Captain Barton, who commanded a company of regulars stationed at Harpers Ferry to protect the Armory.
9. April, 1860-February, 1861. probably vacant.
10. February, 1861-April 19, 1861, outbreak of Civil War. Probably recruiting office and quarters of regular Army officers stationed at Harpers Ferry to guard the Armory.
11. 1861-1865, Civil War. Used as quarters for Officers of both sides.

CHAPTER V

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. It is recommended that Bldg. No. 35 be reduced to 2½ stories in height as it was prior to 1865. Non-historic additions on the rear should also be removed.
2. It is recommended that Bldg. No. 34 be reduced to a one story building, approximately 20 by 22 feet in size, as it was before the Civil War.
3. Bldg. No. 34A is a non-historic structure and can be either completely demolished or reduced to a one story brick building, restored as a smoke house. It is located on the approximate site of the original smoke house.
4. Bldg. No. 32 is also a non-historic structure, but will undoubtedly be retained as a flood buffer. It is suggested, however, that Bldg. No. 32 be reduced to one story in height.
5. Bldg. No. 33 is also a non-historic structure and it is planned to retain this house as a flood buffer. It is suggested that Bldg. No. 33 be reduced to a two story building so that it will not completely dominate the restored 1859 historic scene.
6. The stone wall running back from Bldg. No. 35 to the railroad tracks is also non-historic. It may be well, however, to retain this fence so that personnel residing in Bldg. No. 33 will have some area for a private back yard.
7. It is recommended that Bldg. No. 34-35 be called the Samuel Annin house, after the first Paymaster of the Harpers Ferry Armory.
8. It is suggested that Bldg. No. 34-35 be exhibited as an 1859 Army Recruiting Office.

State of West Virginia) County of Jefferson)

On this 23d day of September 1870 personally came before me a Notary Public in and for Said County and State James McGraw and being duly sworn according to law deposes as says that the above bill is correct account of charges so far as his receipts for work and materials show purchased and used and of the improvements made on lot No. 3 Block "B" purchased Nov 30, 1869 by M. T. C. A. J. H. McGraw (his minor childred) (and for whom he was surity) of the U. S. Government at Harpers Ferry W. Va. That he expended other money in improvements at this property that he has no account of or receipt for, That this lot and Building being on the corner of Shenandoah and Market Streets at the flood of 1870 he lost largely in his store by reason of the location and exposed condition. An again in 1877 he lost over 300 tons of coal besides a large amount of goods from his store and amounting in the aggregate to about four thousand Dollars ($4000.00) in the two floods of 1870 and 1877) that the house on said lot appears to have been condemned by the U. S. Government in 1859 or 1860. The walls are now badly cracked not withstanding the improvements made by him, and had he not put a brick support under a portion of said Building he believes that a portion of the house would have fell in and made a perfect view of the building purchased as aforesaid of the U. S. That he has relaid in Cement places in the wall of said building at different times since 1859 and bad cracks cemented up to protect and preserve the building.

That it now requires a considerable expenditure to put the said building in a safe and comfortable condition.

James McGraw
