Welcome to National Park and National Forest lands in the North Cascades.

Located east of I-5, there are many opportunities for you to enjoy this area with relatively easy access by several major highways. Starting up north: take a drive on the Mt. Baker Scenic Byway (State Route 542). This route starts in Bellingham, winds along the North Fork of the Nooksack River, and, from the town of Glacier, climbs 24 miles to an elevation of 5,100 feet at Artist Point in Heather Meadows. This destination is legendary for spectacular views of Mt. Baker, Mt. Shuksan and surrounding peaks.

For other stunning vistas, follow the northern part of the Cascade Loop along the North Cascades Scenic Highway (State Route 20). A side trip up the Baker Lake Road, 16 miles east of Sedro-Woolley, leads into the Baker Lake Basin, which hosts campgrounds, water recreation and numerous trails.

The 125-mile Skagit Wild and Scenic River System – made up of segments of the Skagit, Cascade, Sauk, and Suiattle Rivers – provides important wildlife habitat and recreation. The Skagit is home to one of the largest winter populations of bald eagles in the United States and provides spawning grounds for one-third of all salmon in Puget Sound.

The North Cascades Scenic Highway travels through the gateway communities of Concrete, Rockport, and Marblemount before reaching Ross Lake National Recreation Area within North Cascades National Park Complex.

Along the way, visit the North Cascades Visitor Center near Newhalem and many viewpoints above Gorge, Diablo and Ross lakes, which offer pristine perspectives of surrounding peaks. These mountains are home to more than 300 glaciers in the park and over 600 in the ecosystem.

Further to the east, Lake Chelan National Recreation Area features the third deepest lake in the nation. Gaze into the clear waters of Lake Chelan as you boat to the remote community of Stehekin and the Golden West Visitor Center.

Enjoy your visit. Be safe and be prepared.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA™

Explore, Experience and Enjoy

HIKING TRAILS AND CLIMBING

PEAKS Hundreds of miles of trails lead into the North Cascades. Storm damage may affect your trip, so check trail conditions before you leave home. Most long hikes and climbs enter designated Wilderness Areas where special restrictions may apply. Climbers should choose experienced partners or licensed guides and fill out Voluntary Climbing Registers at the station nearest your climb.

Ask for a Wilderness Trip Planner and Climbing Notes or a list of outfitter guides. Visit the National Park and National Forest web sites for current recreation reports and climbing information.

BACKCOUNTRY National Forest: Backcountry camping does not require a permit, but a Northwest Forest Pass may be needed to park at some trailheads. Campers in the Mt. Baker National Recreation Area and some areas of the Wilderness must camp at designated spots. Campfires are not allowed in all backcountry areas and seasonal fire restrictions apply.

National Park: There are more than 200 backcountry camping sites, from boat-in sites to high alpine backpacking sites. Camping is allowed only at established sites. Camps include pit toilets, tent pads and in some cases, tables and fire pits. Backcountry permits are free, but are required for all overnight stays. Permits are issued in person only on a first-come, first-served basis. For permit information, contact the Wilderness Information Center (360) 854-7245 or visit www.nps.gov/noca/planyourvisit.

DO I NEED A PASS?

North Cascades National Park Complex does not require an entrance fee or parking pass at trailheads. However, parking at certain trailheads, picnic areas and recreation sites in the National Forest does require a federal recreation pass.

The Northwest Forest Pass is valid throughout all National Forests in Oregon and Washington. The new America the Beautiful Pass, Interagency Senior and Interagency Access Pass (formerly known as the Golden Passports) are also honored at Northwest Forest Pass sites. When in the area, passes can be obtained at ranger stations and some local vendors. You may also purchase the passes in advance by calling (800) 270-7504 or online at: www.naturenw.org.

Passes should be displayed from the rearview mirror or on the dashboard of your vehicle when parked at a Northwest Forest Pass site.

Day Pass	$5
Annual Pass	$30
Interagency Annual Pass	$80 *
Interagency Senior Pass	$10

The Interagency Access Pass is free for U.S. citizens with medically determined permanent disability.

* Valid at U.S. Federal Recreation areas.

 Lifetime pass for U.S. citizens 62 and over.

GO FISHING Fishing in Washington, including in National Parks and Forests, requires a valid Washington State fishing license.

In the National Forest, Baker Lake is a popular destination for trout fishing. The Skagit River, part of one of Washington's major watersheds, is home to seven species of anadromous fish (five types of salmon and two types of trout) and freshwater trout and char.

In the National Park, Diablo and Gorge Lakes have been stocked with rainbow and cutthroat trout. Ross Lake offers quality sport fishing opening annually on July 1. Lake Chelan has fresh water cod, trout and kokanee, a land-locked species of salmon. The Stehekin River offers rainbow and cutthroat trout. Comply with special regulations listed in the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife Sport Fishing Regulations, available wherever licenses are sold and online at: wdfw.wa.gov

WATER RECREATION River floating is an excellent adventure to plan. Experienced boaters run the Skagit, Nooksack and Stehekin rivers. Ask for a list of local outfitters at any ranger station.

Kayaking, canoeing and motor boating are other options. No personal watercraft (jet skis, etc.) are allowed in North Cascades National Park Complex. Motorboat and paddling rentals are available at Baker Lake, Ross Lake and Lake Chelan. Boat ramps are located at Baker Lake, Gorge Lake, Diablo Lake, Lake Chelan and the north end of Ross Lake at Hozomeen.

HORSEBACK RIDING Stock animals are welcome on trails maintained to stock standards. Trail rules and seasons of use vary and special rules apply in Wilderness Areas.

- Stock parties are limited to 12 (people + animals) on trails.
- Grazing is permitted in the National Forest without a permit. But stock must use weed-free or processed feed while on National Forest lands.
- Grazing with a permit is allowed in the Ross Lake and Lake Chelan National Recreation Areas. This can be obtained with your backcountry permit.
- Grazing is prohibited in the National Park; pack in processed food pellets.

TRAVELING WITH YOUR DOG Dogs are not permitted on trails or in cross-country areas within the National Park. Leashed dogs are allowed in Ross Lake and Lake Chelan National Recreation Areas, along the Pacific Crest Trail and along roads in the National Park.

Dogs are allowed in the National Forest but must be leashed in developed recreation areas such as trailheads, campgrounds, picnic areas and Heather Meadows. For safety reasons, dogs are not allowed on Table Mountain Trail 681 in the Heather Meadows Area.

NORTH CASCADES BY BICYCLE Many people tour across the North Cascades by bicycle. Ask for the bulletin "Cycling the North Cascades Highway" at any ranger station. Mountain biking is not permitted on park or forest trails except where developed for that use. Riding is allowed on roads. Visitors should check for use restrictions on the trail system before heading out on a mountain bike trip.

TRAVELING WITH CHILDREN

- Make the most out of your adventure by taking special safety precautions.
- Children should remain with adults.
- Establish rules for keeping together.
- If separated, the child should hug a tree near an open area and stay put.
- Pick trails and adjust goals to children's ages and abilities.
- Bring along the ten essentials.
- Have children help make an emergency kit and make sure they know how to use the items.
- Help children develop responsible outdoor practices.

ACTIVITY IDEAS FOR CHILDREN

Explore with ears and eyes. Play observation games—watch for birds and identify plants, bugs and animal tracks. Listen for sounds of wildlife. Draw a picture or write a poem to remember the trip.

Spend time with a ranger or volunteer naturalist. Ask them for Junior Ranger and Family Fun activities and programs. Information is available at visitor centers and ranger stations.

Travel Safely, Step Lightly

Many people come to the North Cascades to enjoy its rugged beauty and remote wildness. Recreating in natural areas, however, has inherent dangers and responsibilities. Conditions in mountainous areas can change very rapidly, even during a day trip. These travel tips can help you have a safe and responsible journey so that you, and future travelers, can enjoy the landscape to its fullest.

SAFETY TIPS

Use caution on access roads. Watch for obstructions such as rocks, sharp turns, parked vehicles and pedestrians.

Safeguard your possessions by keeping them out of sight. Lock your vehicle.

Carry the ten essentials listed on this page.

Stay on trails. Wear adequate footwear and use a topographic map and compass.

After hiking, check yourself for ticks, which may carry Lyme disease.

Horses can startle easily. When stock approach, make your presence known and stand on the lower side of the trail.

Report trail damage to the nearest ranger station.

Do not depend on cell phones as there are many 'dead spots.'

Always tell a friend your travel plans, including destination and expected return time.

Leave Fireworks at Home. Visitors are reminded that due to the potential fire danger, using or possessing fireworks of any kind is illegal on all federal and state-managed public lands in Washington throughout the year.

Be Alert - Check for Avalanche Danger. Before heading out into the backcountry, check with the Northwest Weather and Avalanche Center for current mountain weather and avalanche forecasts, online at www.nwac.us or call 206-526-6677.

Hunting on National Forest lands, Ross Lake and Lake Chelan National Recreation Areas is governed by Washington Game Regulations. Visitors should exercise caution when hiking during hunting season; wear bright clothing and make your presence known. Hunting is not allowed in North Cascades National Park.

LEAVE NO TRACE

Plan Ahead and Prepare
Know the regulations and special concerns for the region you are visiting. Prepare for emergencies and hazards.

Travel and Camp on Durable Surfaces
Stay on the trail and camp in designated spots. Avoid fragile areas along waterways and in alpine meadows.

Minimize Campfire Impacts
Use established fire rings or pits; keep fires small. Put out fires completely and scatter ashes. Use a stove when possible.

Respect Wildlife
Observe wildlife from a distance. Never feed animals.

Be Considerate of Other Visitors
Be courteous; yield to others. Strive to not disturb the natural ambience.

Dispose of Waste Properly
Pack it in, pack it out. Use toilets where available. Otherwise, dig a cathole 6 to 8 inches deep away from trails and water.

Leave What you Find
Observe, but do not take. Leave all natural and historical objects as you find them.

WHERE CAN I CAMP? Many public campgrounds in the North Cascades are accessible by car. Most sites are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Group camps in the National Park are located at Goodell and Newhalem Creek campgrounds. National Forest group sites are available in the Baker Lake and Mt. Baker Scenic Byway areas.

National Park and Forest campground reservations can be made online at www.recreation.gov or at (877) 444-6777. Group sites can be reserved a year in advance and family sites may be reserved six months ahead.

BAKER LAKE

Nine-mile (14 km) long Baker Lake offers opportunities for camping, boating, fishing, picnicking, hiking and pack & saddle trips. Washington State regulations govern boating and fishing at Baker Lake. Developed campgrounds are located along the western side of the lake. The Baker Lake Trail extends along the eastern shoreline, crossing the Baker River at the north end. For camping information see page 3.

MT. BAKER

NATIONAL RECREATION AREA

The Mt. Baker National Recreation Area was established in 1984 outside wilderness legislation to allow for snowmobile use when snow levels are sufficient. During the summer, hiking trails lead from the end of Forest Road 13 and through the Mt. Baker Wilderness from the Middle Fork Nooksack river drainage to this impressive landscape.

Hikers can explore the trails, and stock is welcome August 1 to November 1. Winter recreation includes skiing, snowmobiling and snowshoeing.

To help prevent resource damage and protect sub-alpine vegetation, backcountry campers must stay at designated sites, and no campfires are allowed in this area. One-night-only campsites are established for hikers and stock parties at the trailhead at the end of Forest Road 13. Please ask for a detailed handout on campsites and area regulations at a ranger station.

NATIONAL FOREST CAMPING

Forest visitors may camp in dispersed undeveloped forest areas with a maximum stay of 14 days. Developed campgrounds are operated by forest concessionaire, Hoodoo Recreation, www.hoodoo.com, in the Mt. Baker Scenic Byway, Baker Lake and Cascade River corridors. Sites are available on a first-come, first-served basis or by reservation at www.recreation.gov or (877) 444-6777.

MT. BAKER SCENIC BYWAY

The scenic Mt. Baker Byway winds along the North Fork of the Nooksack River, ending at Artist Point at 5,100 feet (1545 m) in Heather Meadows. The last 24 miles (39 km) is designated as a National Forest Scenic Byway. At the road's end, trail systems lead into the Mt. Baker Wilderness. During winter months motor traffic ends at the Mt. Baker Ski Area three miles (6 km) below Artist Point.

POINTS OF INTEREST

GLACIER PUBLIC SERVICE CENTER - MP 34: Stop by to get current conditions from Forest Service and National Park staff.

Boyd Creek Interpretive Trail, FS Road 37: This short, self-guided nature trail focuses on components of healthy fish habitat.

Nooksack Falls, MP 40: A dramatic waterfall plummets more than 100 feet over rocky outcrops. A fence-lined pathway leads to a viewpoint.

Shuksan Picnic Area: Day use area at the base of Forest Road 32 (Hannegan Road). Pass required.

HEATHER MEADOWS AREA

Visit this spectacular sub-alpine setting along the upper reaches of the Mt. Baker Scenic Byway. Spread out a picnic lunch at Austin Pass Picnic Area and check in with staff at the Heather Meadows Visitor Center. Open daily in summer from 10 am to 4 pm. A valid Federal Recreation Pass is required for parking in the area during the summer season.

Hike along a network of scenic trails and enjoy several self-guided interpretive opportunities and accessible viewpoints. Several longer hikes lead into the surrounding Mt. Baker Wilderness, where Wilderness regulations apply. When entering such areas, be prepared for risk and challenge. The terrain can be rugged and the weather unpredictable.

During winter months, check avalanche forecasts by calling at www.nwac.us or call (206) 526-6677.

DO YOUR PART! FOR CLIMATE FRIENDLY PARKS

With over 300 glaciers representing 1/3 of those remaining in the lower 48 states, the ecosystem and landscapes of North Cascades National Park Complex will experience unprecedented change in the future. Recognizing the drastic consequences of climate change, park staff is committed to reducing the park's contribution to greenhouse gasses, supporting climate science, research and adaptive management and leading public awareness and education. "Do Your Part! for Climate Friendly Parks" is the first interactive online program in the country that provides national park visitors and supporters with the tools to understand and reduce their carbon footprints and thereby help protect our national parks from global warming.

Each is designed to help get kids outside, have fun and learn about unique natural and cultural resources of your park. A "totem animal" guides kids through the activities and offers instruction, hints and ways to apply their new knowledge during their visit to the North Cascades.

Pick up a FREE booklet at any of the following locations:

- Glacier Public Service Center
- Park and Forest Information Center
- Hozomeen
- Wilderness Information Center
- North Cascades Visitor Center

A variety of activities can be accessed from the corridor including challenging hikes and paddling. A number of scenic vistas, picnic areas, campgrounds and short trails are available for those seeking a more relaxing trip.

Below Newhalem, the free-flowing portion of the Skagit River offers excellent wildlife viewing and rafting opportunities. A raft launch is located next to Goodell Creek Campground, but careful planning is required to float the swift Skagit as there can be seasonal hazards and closures.

Diablo Lake offers the only easy access for launching watercraft off from State Route 20. The lake, surrounded by glaciated peaks, is a brilliant turquoise blue in summer. This unique color is caused by refracted light on fine rock sediment called glacial flour, carried into the lake by glacier-fed streams. There are three small boat-in campgrounds where a backcountry permit is required.

Ross Lake, the largest of the three reservoirs, winds nearly 25 miles from Ross Dam to Hozomeen on the Canadian border. The only vehicle access is via Hope, British Columbia, but small motor boats (14' and under) and canoes/kayaks can be portaged around Ross Dam from Diablo Lake. Nineteen boat-in campgrounds (backcountry permit required) and Ross Lake Resort are available for those looking to spend multiple days in this remote landscape.

NEWHALEM

The North Cascades were still remote and wild in the 1910s, when the power of the Skagit River was first being harnessed. Newhalem was built as a company town for the men who worked at the dams and their families. Learn about the area's natural and cultural history by exploring interactive exhibits, watching theater presentations or talking with rangers at the North Cascades National Park Visitor Center. The interpretive staff at the center present a wide variety of programs including evening programs at both Colonial Creek and Newhalem Creek campgrounds.

Get Involved!

Volunteering in the National Park and Forest is an opportunity to give back to the resources and meet people with similar connections to the North Cascades. Participating in group work projects allows for a deeper understanding of the many issues related to management of public lands. No matter your skill level, a day spent combining friends, fun and stewardship is rewarding for all.

VOLUNTEER WITH NORTH CASCADES NATIONAL PARK

North Cascades National Park Complex partners with a variety of groups to organize volunteer work for trails, campgrounds and facilities maintenance. For information contact: Michael_Brondi@nps.gov

The Artist-in-Residence program offers artists a unique opportunity to live and work in the North Cascades. Each spring and fall an artist spends a month in either the Skagit or Stehekin valley gaining perspective from the surrounding wilderness and using their talents to inspire others.

Artists are selected by a panel of park staff and community members. Former artists include: photographer David Snyder; painters Alice Dubiel, Karen Lewis and Becky Fletcher; musician David Boye and sculptor Greg Pierce.

Applications are available by contacting Cindy_Bjorklund@nps.gov, or, for the Stehekin program contact Mark_Scherer@nps.gov. Learn more at: www.nps.gov/noca/supportyourpark/volunteer.htm

MOUNTAIN STEWARDS

From late July through mid-September, Mountain Stewards assist with educational efforts along popular trails surrounding Mount Baker. These trails are well-traveled by day hikers looking for breathtaking vistas, as well as climbers attempting the summit of Mount Baker.

Mountain Stewards help teach the importance of "Leave No Trace", a program encouraging people to reduce their impact on wilderness areas. The sheer number of feet on these trails leaves them vulnerable to damage and deterioration.

The Mountain Stewards program is an exciting way to become an advocate for the Mount Baker area. Participants need to be skilled in hiking and outdoor recreation, including snow travel, but are not required to travel on technical climbing routes.

Volunteers donate three trail days in addition to two days of training. Trail days take place during daytime hours, Friday through Sunday. If you are interested in becoming a Mountain Steward contact Barb Richey at the Mount Baker Ranger District (360) 856-5700.
