RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

BOATING — Lake Crescent, one of the most beautiful lakes in the country, is splendid for boating. There are Lodge rowboats for your convenience or your own boat may be launched at the nearby public boat ramp.

FISHING — The thrill and excitement of trout fishing is at its best in the rushing, glacier-fed streams and lakes. Salmon fishing is also popular in the Straits of Juan de Fuca and along the Pacific Coast. No fishing license is required in the park, but a state punch card for salmon and steelhead is required.

HIKING — More than 600 miles of trails lead through the dense forests and into the snow-clad mountains of Olympic National Park. There are unlimited photographic opportunities. The Marymere Falls Nature Trail leads from the Lodge to the nearby falls.

BEACHCOMBING is part of the fun of your Olympic vacation.

CLIMATE — Summers on the Olympic Peninsula are usually dry and mild. Occasionally rains do occur at the beginning and end of the season.

VISITING CANADA — Ferry Service and Airline Service are available from Port Angeles to Victoria, British Columbia.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE has jurisdiction over the Park which is administered by — Superintendent, Olympic National Park, Port Angeles, Washington. There is No Entrance Fee to the Park.

Lake Crescent Lodge

OLYMPIC NATIONAL PARK is a magnificent unspoiled wilderness of glacier-clad peaks, alpine meadows, cascading streams, unspoiled coastline and virgin forests. From the rugged Pacific Coast to the breathtaking panoramas of mile-high Hurricane Ridge, the opportunity is yours to discover what makes this park one of the few to have gained international recognition as a United Nations World Heritage Site.

Six hundred miles of maintained trails and dozens of roads lead toward the interior of the largest wilderness in the lower 48 states. This spectacular natural scenery is filled with quiet lakes, abundant wild life, unique plants and delicate wildflowers. Days of exploring can be spent on thrilling alpine drives, beachcombing on the Pacific, or strolling through the intriguing Rain Forest with its lacy ferns, giant conifers and festoons of mosses.

Whether you are after the excitement and challenge of catching the elusive Beardslee Trout from the turquoise blue waters of Lake Crescent or just experiencing an Olympic sunset, you will find the adventure you have been waiting for in Olympic National Park.

MARYMERE MOTOR LODGE

OLYMPIC NATIONAL PARK, WASHINGTON

HISTORIC LAKE CRESCENT LODGE is nestled among giant fir and hemlock trees on the shore of the deepest and bluest jewel of the Olympics — Lake Crescent. The historic Lodge is located 20 miles west of Port Angeles on U.S. Highway 101 at the base of Storm King Mountain. From there, you can take numerous short hikes which lead to panoramic views, through virgin forests, by cool snow melt creeks, and to majestic Marymere Falls. The vacation experience of a lifetime awaits you in a wilderness justly dedicated by the United Nations as a World Heritage Site.

Enjoy the charm and traditional hospitality of a historic turn of the century resort. Experience the atmosphere of the early 1900's in a historic lodge room or stay in one of the fireplace cottages built in 1937 for Franklin Roosevelt when exploring and considering the Peninsula for a future National Park. Your choice of accommodations also includes modern motor lodges and new comfortable cottages with superb views of the Olympic Mountains and the brilliant blue waters of Lake Crescent.

The elegance of yesteryear invites you to relax by the huge Lodge fireplace in the antique furnished lobby, originally known as "Singer's Tavern." Remember your visit with a gift from the outstanding and unique collection of Northwest and Native Handicrafts. Relax at the end of the day with your favorite beverage in the lounge; and enjoy the splendor of a Lake Crescent sunset. The lakeside dining room offers a selection of Washington State's best wines and fresh Northwestern seafood cuisine matched only by the friendly service and hospitality.

Whatever your choice of activity, you will discover an unforgettable vacation amid the crystal waters and snow-clad wilderness of Olympic National Park.
