Safety and Regulations

Campfires are permitted only in campgrounds and picnic areas with fire grates. During high fire danger, campfires may be prohibited.

Cell service is unavailable in much of the park. Don't depend on a cell phone for emergency help.

Drones are not allowed anywhere in Rocky Mountain National Park. This includes launching, landing, and operating drones.

Falling trees are an ever-present hazard and can fall without warning. Be extra careful around dead trees when it's windy or following a snowstorm.

Firearm possession in the park is permitted for those legally authorized to possess firearms under federal, Colorado, or local laws. However, hunting, recreational shooting, and target practice are illegal. Federal law prohibits firearms in park buildings and facilities. Those legally allowed to carry firearms must comply with all applicable state and federal firearm laws.

Marijuana possession and use is illegal in Rocky Mountain National Park and all federal lands.

It is illegal to feed or approach wildlife, including birds and chipmunks. Obey wildlife closure areas and "no stopping" traffic zones.

Pets are only allowed in picnic areas, parking lots, campgrounds, and along roadsides. They must be on leashes no longer than 6 feet at all times. They cannot be left tied to vehicles, trees, or other objects. Pets (including emotional support or therapy animals) are not allowed anywhere else in the park, including trails, tundra or meadow areas, or inside buildings.

Service animals that have been individually trained to perform specific tasks for the benefit of persons with disabilities are allowed.

Rivers and streams can be deadly. Park waters are frigid. Powerful currents can knock you over and pull you downstream or underwater, where you can become trapped. Streamside rocks are often slippery, and nearby water may be deep. Always monitor children closely around water, especially near rivers and streams.

Take only pictures. It is illegal to take any natural features including pinecones, antlers, and artifacts or to disturb soil, rocks, or vegetation (including flowers). Metal detector use is prohibited.

Wilderness travel should be done in a group, not alone. Leave a detailed trip itinerary with a friend—this helps park authorities if you fail to return. Mountain weather changes quickly. If conditions are more difficult than anticipated, turn around. Camping is only allowed in designated sites with a permit.

Seeing a bear or mountain lion is rare, and interactions are even more rare. Travel in groups. If you see a bear or mountain lion, stop, stay calm, and back away slowly. Never approach wildlife or turn your back and run. Stand tall and look large. Raise your arms and make noise. Protect small children by picking them up.

- If storing food in your vehicle, it must be out of sight, with windows completely closed and doors locked. Never store items in a truck bed or strapped to the outside of a vehicle.
- Pack out all garbage. Dispose of garbage in bear-resistant dumpsters and trash cans. If a trash can is full, find a different one or take your trash with you.

It is your responsibility to be safe and to know and obey park rules. You can find park safety information, rules, and regulations at visitor centers, entrance stations, trailhead bulletin boards, and the park website at go.nps.gov/ROMO/RulesRegulations
